Julian Talks Acceptance, but He Has No Forfeit Money.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 2.—The case of the State against Fitzsimmons and Julian was continued this morning until 2 P. M. at the request of Attorney General Kinsworthy.

He said an agreement had been reached with the prisoners and the chances were that the matter would be disposed of in the afternoon without troubling the court.

Fitzsimmons and Julian expressed themselves today as anxious to accept either Brady's proposition of yesterday or the Florida Athletic Club's proposition to fight at El Paso.

Julian preferred the Texas battle ground as the $5000 forfeit offered would help to pay for last time, he said, in case the fight did not come off.

He declared, however, he would have $10,000 ready to accept Brady's proposition today if possible.

The agreement to which Attorney General Kinsworthy alluded in court was that all the court proceedings be dismissed on condition that the pugilists leave the State.

THE CASES COME UP.

The cases against Fitzsimmons, Julian, Brady and Corbett were dismissed by the court this afternoon on the agreement to leave the State as soon as they can.

All the fighters are included and the big fellows will be given a reasonable time to get out.

Governor Clarke says he has no intention of driving them out, but it will be a serious thing if the restraining order is violated.

This disposes of almost the last chance to pull off the fight.

Brady will agree to nothing unless Julian's $10,000 is up and there are no signs of its being put up.

Corbett and Brady will leave for New York soon.

From Pleasanton 6,225 tons of these beets were received. The mill will run until about December 1st. About 125 men find employment during the season.

Somebody removed eight or ten feet of planking on the bridge in J. L. Hollis' canyon last Tuesday, and had it not been discovered in time there would have been serious loss of life.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Methodist church jointly with the ladies of the church at Haywards are arranging for an experience social on the evening of November 26th. Each person is to earn one dollar or more by his or her own effort, and on the evening of the social to relate how the money was earned.

The grove of eucalyptus and cypress trees on the lower corner of the Russell tract on the Mt. Eden road has been about wiped out, all the trees now being cut down and turned into wood.

Next Monday at 2 P. M. Under Sheriff Harlow, commissioner, will sell in front of the court house, Oakland, the property of the Rayer estate in Haywards.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church of Haywards has elected the following officers for the ensuing years: President, Mrs. R. E. Wonk, vice-president, Mrs. L. Ganney; recording secretary, Miss Alice Luce, corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Kinsey; treasurer, Mrs. J. Hollister.

The saucer mill at Alvarado will close before Thanksgiving. This is the shortest run it has had for a number of years.

The Washington Press of Irvington says: "The many friends of Miss Lillie Smith will be greatly surprised to learn that a marriage license has been granted the young lady to take unto herself a husband, Wesley T. Schoonmaker of Oakland. She has been visiting with Mrs. George Hart (nee Bertie Crosby) of Oakland for several weeks past, and her relatives and friends were certainly not prepared for the wedding announcement."

The Misses Pratt, three Oakland young ladies, are conducting classes in dancing in Decoto.

Antone Serpa, who lives near Centreville, was kicked in the face by a fractious horse Saturday last and his nose was broken.

The Washington Press has the following: "Why would it not be a good idea for the sportsmen of Washington township to organize a gun club and hold weekly shoots? We have a number of fine shots and we believe that a first-class club could be organized and good membership secured. They could meet every three or six months for prize shooting, which would bring out the good qualities of our shooters."

The San Leandro Standard wants the Supervisors to appropriate $5,000 for the purpose of opening the road between Alameda and San Leandro.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church at San Leandro will give a series of winter evening entertainments this year.

The annual business meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, San Leandro, will be held on Tuesday afternoon next at the church parlor.

The San Leandro Reporter says: "The engagement is announced of Miss Lottie Best and Mr. George M. Flint. Miss Best is the daughter of Mr. Arnold Best, the inventor and manufacturer of this city. She graduated from Mills Seminary about a year ago. Mr. Flint is the son of Mr. Flint the capitalist, and holds a prominent position in the Central Bank of Oakland.

At the meeting of the San Leandro trustees next Monday night, an ordinance will be placed on its passage calling a Special election December 16th as to the incurring of an indebtedness of $10,000 for the purpose of providing an electric plant for that city.

The Portuguese Union at San Leandro has decided to incorporate.

The members of the Eden Congregational church tendered a reception to their new pastor, Rev. D. Victor Martin, in the parlors of the church last Thursday night.

William Smith, the carpenter, of Haywards, who disappeared about ten days ago, has not yet returned to his home at that place. His carpenter chest has disappeared with him and people say that it looks as if the missing man does not intend to come back. Smith had several men working for him to whom he is in arrears for wages. These, however, have discontinued their labors and are looking for their money. The wife of the missing man says that he has gone to Guatemala with his son and will return in about six weeks. This statement is not consoling to Smith's creditors.

On account of the remarkable rapid increase in attendance, says the Haywards Mail, the school rooms are crowded, and the trustees will soon have to consider the advisibility of an appropriation or a special tax levy for the purpose of providing additional buildings. There are enrolled 555 pupils, and the average attendance is 477, consisting of 281 boys and 271 girls. The increase in attendance during the past year is considered extraordinary, being 96.

DIED IN A DISTANT LAND.

Herman B. Sears, Jr. Now Lies in an Australian Grave.

The recent announcement of the death of Herman B. Sears Jr. at Melbourne, Australia, causes profound sorrow to the host of friends who remember him as one of the sterling young business men of Oakland.

Mr. Sears came to this coast with his parents from the city of New York, while a young lad and entered McClure's academy. Later he was employed in Everson's hardware store for several years until he became partner of the insurance firm Harmon & Sears, which continued until his departure for the far away land where his death occurred. This overwhelming blow to his venerable parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sears Sr., excites the deep sympathy of their many friends. The deceased was their youngest son and they fondly looked to him as the stay of their declining years. His widow, too, has the sincere regrets of her friends, and her home-coming will be sad, for it will be without her beloved, whose remains are to be left in that distant land.

CENTINI GOES FREE.

The Juries in Two Cases Failed to Convict.

Paolo Centini's case was dismissed today by Judge Frick on motion of District Attorney Snook. Centini has been twice tried on a charge of attempting to kill G. B. Torre with a shoemaker's knife. The jury in the second trial was nine for acquittal. On that showing Judge Frick allowed Centini to be discharged.

His son ran to his father's assistance but was too late to do anything and before a doctor came he died. The autopsy showed that death was due to valvular disease of the heart accelerated by violent coughing.

May Yohe's Husband Has a Bad Financial Crash.

Special London Cable Letter; Copyrighted 1895 by the Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The war scare caused by the Hongkong dispatch to the Times and Globe, telling of the railway and other concessions China is supposed to have secretly made to Russia, has been replaced in the public mind by the alarm felt at the rumors from Eastern quarters that Japan and Russia have formed, or are forming, an understanding which is to result to their mutual benefit.

This new feature of the complications in the East caused a really cold chill to pass down the backs of Her Majesty's Ministers, and the Premier is said to be shivering still.

Be it as it may, there is much uneasiness in official circles here and elsewhere, and this has been reflected upon the Stock Exchange and Continental Bourses, causing a decided falling off in prices, particularly of Russian, Turkish and Spanish securities.

There seems to be no doubt that Great Britain, practically isolated, is facing across the great storm gravity, and the end of it does not seem to be in sight.

But the warclouds do not seem to have depressed the spirits of the royal family to any appreciable extent.

On the contrary, since her return on Saturday last from visiting her parents, the King and Queen of Denmark, at Copenhagen, the Princess of Wales and her daughters Victoria and Maud, the three ladies of the royal family whom the Prince of Wales, detained at Newmarket, could not find time to meet at Charing Cross railroad station, have been constantly on the go, visiting the different art galleries, theaters, etc.

The Princesses have been accompanied on these pleasure tours by the Duke of York and Prince Nicholas of Greece, and their comings and goings have done much to enliven smoky old London.

Thursday the Princesses went to Sandringham, where they will remain for several weeks, and they were followed there on Friday by the Prince of Wales and Prince Nicholas of Greece.

Princess Maud of Wales, on Tuesday last, accompanied by her mother and Prince Nicholas, visited the Westminster aquarium, mixing without being recognized in the crowds inside that popular place of amusement and seeing all the sideshows like plain, ordinary, every day subjects of Her Majesty, to the greatest delight of Princess Maud, otherwise "Harry," who gets a good amount of supreme enjoyment out of such excursions.

Princess "Harry," since the announcement of her engagment to Prince Charles, second son of the Crown Prince of Denmark, has been the subject of much additional interest to her many friends and admirers.

From the time the news became public the Princess has received a constant stream of congratulations from all parts of the world.

The engagement is entirely a love match, she and Prince Charles, her cousin, having known each other since children.

The Prince is an officer in the Danish Navy and has spent much time in the West Indies.

On the other hand, Princess "Harry" is also fond of athletic sports, pastimes and exercises. She is a healthy, jovial girl, a great favorite with her intimate friends, wears a monacle, and is, generally speaking, the smartest in appearance of the daughters of the Prince and Princess of Wales.

THE DOG SHOW.

There were 1390 dogs benched at the fourth show of the Kennel Club at the Crystal Palace, which opened Tuesday last. There were forty-four distinct breeds exhibited and the quality of the dogs was equal to the best former shows. The Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia and the Duchess of Newcastle were prominent exhibitors. One of the young Wanamakers, who is taking a course at Oxford showed some bull terriers and wire-haired fox terriers. He was awarded several third prizes.

Fox hunting began on Friday, though there were several notable exceptions. Lord Lonsdale, for instance, announced that owing to the hard condition of the grounds the meet of the Quern hounds, which was as usual fixed to take place at Kirby gate, was postponed for a fortnight. Mr. Foxhall Keene and other well-known Americans here, have taken houses near Melton Mowbray, and will hunt with this pack.

The arrival of Messrs. Lorillard's and Belmont's horses at Newmarket has been the occasion for many friendly notices from the sporting press. All the sporting writers welcome Mr. Lorillard as being a true sportsman.

Lord Francis Hope, the husband of May Yohe, the American actress, made famous by her so-called "fog-horn" voice, etc., appeared in court yesterday for examination in connection with his bankruptcy. His debts are $3,290,000. The largest items of his losses are betting, etc., $50,000; theater speculations, $105,000.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

George Alexander has now definitely decided upon the play with which he will open the St. James Theater next Thursday night. There has been much speculation as to the new drama. When Mr. Edmonds' play "Bogie" proved such a dire failure, it was announced that the drama he "Divided Way," by the same author, which Mr. Alexander had provisionally accepted, would be shelved and a dramatization of Hall Caine's "The Manxman" was to be substituted. This plan has, however, been abandoned, and "The Divided Way," which was successfully produced in Manchester on Thursday, will be presented.

Mr. Charles Wyndham has also announced the next play with which he will open the Criterion Theater this month. The play is an adaptation by R. D. Carson of Alexander Dumas' "L'Ami des Femmes," is in four acts and is called the "Squire of Domes."

The run of "Romeo and Juliet" still continues an enormous success at the Lyceum Theater.

The French papers announce that Sardou has accepted a commission to write a play for Fanny Davenport. It is stated that the play will be taken from an incident in Gibbons' "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," and will partake largely of the nature of his "Theodora."

Fannie Ward, who has made such a success in the play "Cheer, Boy, Cheer," at Drury Lane, has just signed a three-year engagement at that house.

Of course the most interesting event of theatrical week here was the production of "Trilby" at the Haymarket by Beerbohm Tree. This presentation was really more than an ordinary success. In fact, it has caused quite a sensation, and promises to be the greatest success known at the Haymarket for years past.

The verdict of those who had the pleasure of seeing the New York production of "Trilby" before witnessing the London presentation of the same, was that, although London's "Trilby" is likely to be a great success, it is not equal to the New York "Trilby."

WORK GONE IN COMMITTEE

City Licenses and Many Saloons Probable Up for Action.

Finances Discussed and Expert Kaufman's Report Is Discussed.

Councilmen Buckland, Watkinson, Mott and Capell met last night to wrestle with the city finances. They went smoothly at first. Owen Doyle, who wants to open a saloon at 900 Twenty-seventh street, was refused a license, because his petition did not have the sufficient number of signatures, and James Sullivan of 828 San Pablo avenue and R. Wolter of 1125 Thirteenth avenue were winners as far as the committee goes.

Marshall had introduced a resolution to take away the license of Captain William A. Gardiner, whose place of business is at the corner of Fifteenth and Market streets, because of its proximity to the High school, and Gardner objected.

He came armed with a petition signed by a number of his neighbors, who protested at the closing of the place, and he also made a long speech in his own behalf to the committee. The gist of it was that he was an American citizen, and it hurt him "in society," as he said, to have his name in the papers as it has been several times of late because of his trouble with the license department. The committee decided to recommend that his license be not revoked, but that when it expires it be not renewed.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

After the adjournment of the license committee Chairman Mott of the finance committee called Councilmen Towle and Buckland to order, and for an hour they looked after the expenditure of the city's money.

Two resolutions relating to the City Treasurer were recommended. The first was to allow him three assistants for not more than four days at $4 per day, and the other authorized him to employ two more through the month at $75 each.

J. J. Hanks had a bill for $390 for detective services rendered the city in securing witnesses and serving papers in the case of Frank M. Cattell. The bill of John Teague for $250 was for the same kind of work, so Hanks' claim did not meet with a very favorable reception. He told his side of the story, but the bill was tabled to give the city further time to investigate.

The resolution of attorney Button, striking from the minutes the words "without cost to the city," which is the stone wall between himself and $250, was too weighty for the committee, and it was referred back to the Council without recommendation.

The committee recommended that $20 be allowed with which to test the bitumen which is being laid on Twelfth street, between Broadway and Washington streets, and that the City Auditor, City Attorney and Treasurer report what steps have been taken to collect the $2 per pole tax on telegraph poles.

A $10 interest coupon has been lost, and the committee recommended that the amount be given to the bondholder upon proof of the loss.

It was recommended that $450 be appropriated to connect the Perry street sewer with the east side sewer.

The Western Empire, a periodical, wanted to sell the city 10,000 copies of an edition, because Oakland had been given a "write-up." $450 was the price demanded. Mott suggested a compromise by allowing them $10, but this seemed extravagant to the rest of the committee, and the Western Empire's communication was filed.

The matter of employing a landscape gardener was laid over.

The offer of J. C. Sommers to remove the city garbage for $80 a week was referred to the garbage committee.

The recommendation that Sam Short, stoker of engine No. 1, be allowed pay for fourteen days during which he was sick was laid over.

The report of the City Expert, sent to the Council at the last meeting, was brought out. The City Attorney was asked his opinion, and decided against Kaufman. The committee stood in with Mr. Peirsol and most of the bills which the report recommended as illegal the committee recommended be paid.

SIGNALS OF WAR.

England and Russia Are Likely to Come to a Clash.

SOME OMINOUS INDICATIONS.

It Looks as if John Bull Will Be in the Lurch.

STOCKS FEEL THE EFFECT.

Armenia and Japan Are the Prime Cause of Trouble.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Nearly all the English newspapers refer seriously to the political crisis, the apparent isolation of Great Britain, and the policy pursued by Russia in the far East, as well as the future steps France may take.

People here are gradually becoming convinced that British diplomacy has been out-maneuvred by Russia, and that, in spite of the denials, the latter country has obtained important concessions from China and is prepared to stop at nothing compel the Japanese to evacuate Chinese territory, in accordance with the terms of the treaty of peace.

In Armenia the situation grows more grave in view of the spread of revolutionary feeling and the fact that England is liable to be left alone any moment to deal with the Sultan and that in the latter event there will very unlikely be reform in Armenia.

The St. James Gazette this afternoon, alluding to the danger ahead, says: "It is [illegible] no time to get [illegible] armaments [illegible] circumstances.

"It is [illegible] important [illegible] to the obligations [illegible] the dangerous [illegible].

"The [illegible] that Europe [illegible] war can be averted.

EFFECT ON STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Evening Post's London cable says: The Sultan of Turkey has ordered a four months' internal moratorium, i. e., a government decree granting extension of all debts, private and public, for four months.

Similar recourse was adopted, though on a less extended scale, by the Argentine government two years ago.

This is done mainly to allay the remittance on the Constantinople bourse.

All the banks of Turkey are understood to be still meeting obligations as usual.

The tone of the markets here was steadier but there was no business.

Settlement on the Paris bourse next week is anxiously awaited."

ENGLAND ASKS HELP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, had half an hour's conference with Secretary Olney today.

His purpose was to propose in behalf of the British government joint action to a limited extent in Turkey to insure the safety of the citizens of Great Britain and the American residents in that country.

It is believed Secretary Olney has not given an answer to the proposal.

JAPAN AND COREA.

A precise definition of the designs of Japan respecting Corea have been obtained at last by all the powers concerned, for it is assumed that the following cablegram, which was handed Secretary Olney Thursday by the Japanese Minister, has been also sent to all the Japanese legations in Europe.

"In regard to our attitude in Corea you are authorized to declare to the following effect to the Government of the United States:

"Japanese troops are now stationed at Corea to insure tranquility as well as to protect our legation, consulates and subjects, and also to maintain indispensible lines of communication with our army, which is still in occupation of Liao Tung peninsula. The troops intended for the latter purpose are much larger in number than needed.

"The necessity of keeping such troops will, however, cease at the same time of the evacuation of Liao Tung peninsula, and such of the troops will then be withdrawn from Corea.

"The Japanese government hopes the Corean government, having already entered upon a work of reform, may succeed and be able to maintain order and even protect foreigners, even though our troops are withdrawn.

"The Japanese government, having no other designs, is not desirous to prolong the maintenance of troops in Corea.

"Furthermore, we should be extremely gratified if we were relieved from such an obligation.

"Our relations with Corea and the policy of our government is one of non-interference, and our government will gladly share equally with the other powers in the same line of action."

DOODY STILL ON DUTY.

He Challenges the Right of the Council to Order His Discharge.

The Fire Commissioners Appointed Him and on Them He Relies.

Miles Doody has decided to disregard the ordinance declaring his office to be vacant and is on duty today as usual. He says that the Council has no right to declare vacant the office of first assistant chief of the fire department, and that the matter rests solely with the Board of Public Works.

This morning Doody went to his work as if nothing had happened. When asked what he thought of his position he said: "I hold that I am just as much first assistant as I have been since my appointment. I do not consider that the ordinance has any weight. I was appointed by the Fire Commissioners and I shall not vacate until they discharge me. I believe my position in the matter is the correct one."

Chief Lawton says he does not know what to think. "I am not a lawyer," he said today, "and I cannot be supposed to know the respective jurisdictions of the Board of Works and Council. Doody will have to fight it out. I shall not order him to do anything until some of my post men, who he says are operating, get back to duty for a run and will certainly turn out. I have as yet received no notice from any where that the office held by Mr. Doody is vacant and until I do I cannot see how I can be expected to take any action in the matter."

City Attorney Pheysal is not quite sure of the matter and will look up the law. He told Miles Doody this morning that he thought he was at present more than he would be paid for did not say.

Doody claims that the usual annual [illegible] regular [illegible] the Board of Works has [illegible] and if any have filed claims amounting to [illegible] against the defunct Stockton Terra Corta Company.

Detective Shorey took his first lessons in cycling on Broadway today. With the aid of a professor he did very well.

At the meeting of the Council Monday night the Mayor will send communications relating to the Grant school, city dredging and other matters.

Miles Doody continues at work and nothing more will probably be heard of the matter till he presents his demand for the salary for this month.

The improvements on Twelfth street between Washington and Broadway will not be finished for another week. A first-class cement foundation is being laid for the bitumen and the pavement will be a great boon to the residents on that street.

Captain Wilson is in possession of a purse containing a small sum of money found by a police officer and is anxious to find the owner.

There is an old basket tricycle at the city hall awaiting an owner. It was found on Telegraph avenue.

The Kinsell Case.

The case of Kinsell against the Alameda & Oakland electric road has been set for trial December 12th. A jury has been demanded.

The second trial of Thomas Hickey on an infamous charge will be held on December 3d. That date was fixed today by Judge Frick. Hickey is one of the quartette which escaped from the County Jail. He was recaptured at Reno, Nevada. The Supreme Court affirmed the decision of Judge Ellsworth granting Hickey a new trial. District Attorney Snook appealed from Judge Ellsworth's decision. The remittitur was filed today.

A Dog-Fighter Goes to Jail.

AMBROSEWF VANQUISHED

Judge Frick Sustains the Decree of the Lower Court.

The Russian Refugee Says He Will Appeal to a Higher Bench.

Dr. S. A. Ambrosewf, the Russian doctor who had an unpleasant Police court experience with the Health Department, has another burden of care upon his shoulders. Today Judge Frick affirmed the judgment of the lower court which convicted Ambrosewf of practicing medicine without a license.

The doctor narrowly escaped falling into serious difficulty with the court this morning when the decision was announced. The judge called Ambrosewf's attention to the repeated continuances that had been granted him and said no further delay would be permitted. The doctor pleaded for more time, but Judge Frick would consent to no more continuances. Then Ambrosewf muttered something about justice and the Supreme Court.

Judge Frick was all ears in a second, but after warning Ambrosewf concluded he had said nothing that was contemptuous.

Ambrosewf claims to be a graduate of a St. Petersburg university. He has also narrated thrilling tales of escape from the terrible privations of Siberian exile. He said he is a political refugee. But the Russian consul declared his credentials as a university graduate are fraudulent. He was refused a license to practice medicine by the State Board of Medical Examiners.

Mrs. Francis Asks Divorce Because She Is Not Supported.

Teresa J. Francis has a grievance against her husband which she will air before Court Commissioner Halsted in the hearing of her suit for a divorce.

Mrs. Francis' husband, Loftus, according to her complaint, is not a good provider. Like many men of strong mental development, Loftus, who has a professional bent, has failed to properly care for the material wants of his household. Loftus, according to his wife, has become very much absorbed in the study of the art of healing. He is well on to 40 years of age, however, and Mrs. Francis thinks he could be better occupied if he would get out to work and provide for her in a proper manner.

She complains that he has become so wrapped up in his researches along the medical line that he has failed absolutely to support her.

She does not object to his studious habits. She says, however, that they have so seriously interfered with his providing abilities that she can no longer put up with him. She has remonstrated with him on numerous and divers occasions, but has been unable to turn him from his course.

Mrs. Francis filed a suit for divorce a few days ago and today Judge Ogden ordered the case referred to the Court Commissioner to take testimony.

APPROVE THE CANAL.

The Nicaraguan Commission Has Submitted Its Report.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Nicaraguan canal commission through Col. Ludlow, chairman, today submitted to the President a report upon the examination of the route of the canal directed by Congress last session.

Although the report will probably be withheld from public until Congress meets, there is good reason for the belief that generally it finds the canal project entirely feasible and worthy of execution.

It is believed a change has been suggested in the line which will not affect the question of expenditure to any material degree.

FORGAVE HER DAUGHTER.

An Elopement in High Life Is Brought to a Happy Ending.

Mrs. Emma K. Loring, the wealthy San Francisco widow, and Herman C. Braulich, who eloped with her daughter May on October 10th, are reconciled. Mrs. Loring is having trouble with the construction of a building in Piedmont that is being erected from the material purchased at the wreck of the Midwinter fair.

This morning she visited the District Attorney's office, supported by her new son-in-law, to demand a warrant for the arrest of Deputy Sheriff Hitchcock, who she claims has been annoying her.

Special Correspondence of the Tribune.

NEW YORK Oct. 26, 1895.

Another week of inactivity in the stock market. Indeed, the dullness seems to have increased. The small outside interest becomes gradually less, and even the "room traders" are becoming inert. The most conspicuous feature of the market is its non-susceptibility to events and influences that would ordinarily affect prices, and especially to such as are of a favorable character. During the week, for instance, the coal companies have advanced the price of anthracite 60 cents a ton and the rail rate for carrying it has also been raised, and yet there has been no corresponding movement to put up the prices of the coalers.

This abatement of speculation on the part of capitalists associated with railroads seems to have become a feature with railroad financiers for at least the time being; and, whatever may have caused it, there is no doubt that it has had its influence in producing the present dullness of the market. Certain other movements have been favorable, such as the increasing exports of wheat and cotton and a negotiation by the Pennsylvania Railroad which will send to Europe a large amount of bonds, and an improvement in the net earnings of the railroads as compared with last year; and yet these things happen without any improving effect upon the market and with no increase in speculation.

It can hardly be said that the inactivity is due to any unfavorable factors connected with intrinsic conditions. In fact, there are no such factors of any moment; and it is, perhaps, due to that fact that the "bears" are almost as languid as the "bulls." The dullness may perhaps be chiefly attributable to mere speculative tactics on the part of the larger operators. They have deemed it prudent to get out of large lines of stocks at the late largely advanced prices, and desire an opportunity to get them back at a lower range of values. There are indications in certain stock of manipulations by parties associated with the management of the companies to neglect them and reduce their price from no reason connected with the real position of the properties, but rather contrarywise. Indeed, the market has been more or less subjected to this squeezing treatment for some weeks past, which has not only discouraged outside buying, but also produced already some considerable decline in prices.

The only factors that can be regarded as unfavorable for the moment are the unward tendency in foreign exchange and the dangers of an outbreak in the "Kaffir" shares at London and Paris. At Paris, there has already been a heavy fall in those stocks, but it is hoped that the reported intervention of the Rothschilds may prevent the occurrence of any serious form of panic. At London, however, there is no such protection, and there apprehension still exists of serious embarrassments at the next Exchange settlement. In the meantime, our securities on that market suffer in sympathy; but the amounts being returned here are no longer important and are perhaps more than offset by the value of first-class railroad mortgages going out. For the time being the supply of foreign bills seem to fall behind the demand and hence exchange rates have risen again to within a small fraction of the specie-shipping point.

No important outflow of gold, however, is expected; and for these reasons—the export of both cotton and wheat are increasing; the Pennsylvania Railroad has negotiated a loan for $6,000,000, chiefly abroad, to take up an equal amount of maturing bonds of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway, which are held principally in this country; a considerable balance of the foreign proceeds of the sale of $60,000,000 of Anaconda shares has still to be drawn against; and some three or four millions sterling has been placed at the disposal of the New York market upon first-class collateral. These facts would seem to remove all chance of any noteworthy further exports of gold.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Arena is entering upon the seventh year of a highly successful career and among the important contributions of the issue which closes in the sixth is a very suggestive paper by George D. Herron on "The Sociality of the Religion of Jesus"; Senator J. T. Morgan, who is recognized as one of the ablest thinkers in our Senate on international questions and constitutional problems, discusses the silver question; ex-Governor James M. Ashley, an old-time Republican, Congressman and Governor, writes on "The Impending Political Advance"; Professor Frank Parsons, of the Boston University School of Law, contributes a masterly paper on "Municipal Lighting." The coming year will be one of note, as papers have been secured from the leading thinkers of the country.

"Insight of the Goddess" by Harriet Riddle Davis is the title of the serial story that appears in the November Lippincott. It is a charming introductory to an excellent number, for the magazine is crowded from cover to cover with good things.

"The Idler" for November is enjoyable in every sense of the word, and the apt title of the magazine was never better illustrated. A striking feature is "A Romance in Black and White," being a chat with the talented H. R. Millar, who gives nine of his clever sketches in his best style. Evelyn Sharp writes of "The Eldest Sister as She Really is," and Mrs. Humphrey writes of "Our English Girls." J. F. Sullivan contributes an excellent sketch entitled "Chance."

"Some Speculations Regarding Rapid Transit" opens up a wide field in November Cosmopolitan. Pictures are given showing the carriages experimented with and the different motive powers are shown in detail. The bicycle railroad on Long Island is shown in a way that tells the story better than words could. I. Zangwill in the same number gives "A Story of the Jews in Rome," and Theodore Roosevelt handles the interesting subject, "Taking the Police Out of Politics," in his own trenchant way.

The great revival of the study of political science in American colleges makes a new work on International Law almost a necessity. The subject grows with the growth of opinion on the principles which should actuate States in their natural intercourse, and every question that arises between them adds something to the stores of cases and precedents from which the rules of international conduct are deduced. Messrs. D. C. Heath & Co., Boston, are to publish this month a book called "Principles of International Law," which will embody the latest results of discussion and research, and present the subject in a fresh and readable form. Its author is Thomas J. Lawrence, who acted as Professor of International Law in the University of Chicago from its opening in 1892 till the close of 1893.

"The Chain of Gold, or In Crannied Rocks," by Standish O'Grady. Cloth, 12mo., $1.25. This new Irish writer of adventure tales has not been unhappily likened to the author of Robinson Crusoe. There is a Defoe-like vigor, realism and charm about his work which heightens its pleasure to cultivated readers and does not confine it to boys alone. "The Chain of Gold" has been hailed as "by far the most fascinating boys' book which has appeared for a long time.

Two boys start out on an adventure on the wild, rugged western coast of Ireland. The keynote of their escapade, and the strange adventures and discovery it leads to, is set in these words by the narrator in the opening chapter, which responds immediately to the magic invocation as at the touch of a wizard: "At this time my mind was strangely affected by Poe's weird tales of wonder and mystery. I longed to meet with some such adventure, some rare and curious experience like those which form the theme of his fascinating stories; to light upon and follow some clue leading to hidden treasures or great discoveries." Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York.

"Selections from the Public Speeches and Writings of Abraham Lincoln." By L. E. Chittenden, with portrait and photogravure. 2 vols., $5. The Hon. Lucius E. Chittenden, formerly Registrar of the Treasury, has made a judicious collection of the best speeches and writings of Abraham Lincoln, which contains among other classics the famous Gettysburg address. Among the books published on or about Lincoln there is still a distinct place which this volume fills. All the important public speeches and classic utterances of Lincoln have been gathered together in one compact volume so as to present them in a convenient and complete form.

It need scarcely be said that these speeches and orations of Lincoln are full of historic interest and are also of great literary value. The noble sentiment which pervaded all Lincoln's acts and words is calculated to conserve in us the principles of patriotism and noble citizenship, and as stimulating these principles in American readers it can be seen that the plan upon which this book is based carries its own commendation. There is a portrait of Lincoln in photogravure. Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York.

Anthony Hope's new Greek novel, "Phroso," about which so much has been said, has been secured by McClure's Magazine. It is said to be the most exciting novel of adventure written for many years. The magazine will also publish Stevenson's last novel, and short stories by Rudyard Kipling, Ian Maclaren, Robert Barr and Bret Harte.

When tired and thirsty, for rest, a nice bit of lunch and a cool drink, go to Earl & Martin's wine rooms, 467 10th st., bet. Broadway and Washington.

DR. M'LEAN RETURNS.

He Refuses to Talk About the Selection of His Successor.

Rev. Dr. McLean returned last night from his Eastern trip after an absence of nearly a month. The object of his trip was principaly to select a successor to himself in the pastorate he has vacated.

On the subject of his successor he is mute. When asked anything regarding a choice he quietly places his finger on his lips and says nothing. He frankly remarked, however that no new men had been selected for the Theological Seminary.

His trip extended as far as New York. He spent a week in Syracuse at the Congregational ministers' triennial conference and another in Brooklyn, attending the Foreign Mission Society's conclave. On his way home he stopped for a week at Detroit at the meeting of the Home Missionary Society.

This morning he was called to San Francisco to testify in behalf of the plaintiffs in the contest for the Garcelon estate and this afternoon he preached the sermon at the funeral of Miss Ames.

J. B. Richardson, a member of the committe for the selection of Dr. McLean's successor, was seen but like the doctor, refused to talk.

SHE IS WITH ETERNITY.

Amidst Profound Mourning Mrs. Gage Is Taken to the Grave.

Magnificent Floral Tributes From Those Who Respected and Loved Her.

The funeral of Mrs. Bessie Fletcher Gage, the wife of Stephen T. Gage, of the Southern Pacific Company, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence of the deceased, 1300 Harrison street. It gave evidence in a most tender manner of the esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew her.

At the hour mentioned the remains were moved from the home of the family to the First Unitarian church, of which society in life the deceased had been one of the most devoted members.

The cortege had been preceded by a vast array of the floral tributes which had everywhere beautified the parlors of the bereaved home and softened the blow which had fallen upon its members. The floral wealth had been artistically arranged on the platform of the church and presented a most beautiful appearance.

There was an indefinite variety of symbols, comprehending among others pillows, wreaths, broken wheels, sprays, bouquets, anchors and sheaves of wheat. One of the most noticeable pieces was an immense cross of purple immortelles, around which was a creeping vine of large yellow roses. Another was a representation of a large vase made of violets, in which stood a bunch of beautiful white chrysanthemums.

The light which streamed through the stained windows of the church fell upon this floral display with a most attractive effect.

The church was filled with people distinguished not alone in social circles but in every walk of life.

The casket containing the remains was borne into the auditorium and placed in front of the pulpit, the pallbearers being George E. De Golia, John Yule, Capt. N. T. Smith, W. W. Spaulding, J. Dunham, John T. Irish, A. J. Treat and A. D. Wilder.

The casket was of solid iron covered with drab cloth.

The services were opened by the singing by the choir, the members of which were Frank Coffin, D. P. Hughes J. H. Horton and Walter Webb.

As the remains were tenderly brought into the church F. Katzenbach, the organist, played Beethoven's funeral march.

The first selection by the choir was "Lead Kindly Light."

Rev. Horatio Stebbins of San Francisco then read several psalms.

The choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which Rev. Mr. Stebbins paid a tender tribute to the modest worth of the deceased.

The choir now sang "It Singeth Low in Every Heart."

The remains were then borne from the church, the organ meanwhile intoning Chopin's Funeral March.

The interment was private, the remains being consigned to earth in Mount View cemetery.

Among the many at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilder, School Director Clement and wife, Warren English, John Allman and wife, George W. Baker and wife, N. W. Spaulding and wife.

NEVER SUCH TESTIMONIALS.

What the Mail Brings to the Paine's Celery Compound People.

What excuse is there for not getting strong and well? Paine's celery compound the world's greatest remedy for nervous weakness, can be obtained at any druggist's in any city or in any country town. One can get a heartier, healthier appetite, purify the blood and increase its power of feeding the nerves and tissues by taking Paine's celery compound.

It is the greatest invigorator in existence. Convince yourself of the fact. Try it.

Testimonials for publication are taken quite at random by the present proprietors of this great remedy.

The letters are never "doctored."

Titles are never placed before the names of untitled people. Honest but obscure men are never said to be "Honorables." Everyday kind of men who have been made well by Paine's celery compound are never paraded before the public as "Hon. Grant Mc-Squid-Slow," "The Wonderfully Successful Mr. This-and-That." Cases of ordinary sickness are never elaborated into hideous, impossible diseases.

When it happens that the mail brings a heartfelt letter from such a man as State Treasurer Colvin of New York or Mr. Carlisle's private secretary or Edmund Russell, or Mayor McShane of Montreal, or Rev. Fr. Ouellett, or Commodore Howell, or Mr. Gilman of Judge, or Ida Lewis, or ex-Minister to Austria John M. Francis, or any other widely known man or woman who expressly wishes others to be benefited by his or her experience, the proprietors of Paine's celery compound gladly give such unsolicited testimonials to the public press.

But one person's health is as valuable as another's and in publishing the testimonials of people whom this great remedy has made well and strong, no particular emphasis is put upon such person's official standing.

The world is made up of what Abraham Lincoln called "the plain people." It is they whom Paine's celery compound has most benefited.

Here is a letter (verbatim) just received from Louisa Pierce of Melette, South Dakota:

"I used Paine's celery compound first for rheumatism and found that it helped me very much. I have since used it for nervousness and kidney trouble and have received very much benefit from its use. I consider it one of the best of remedies. Mr. A. Cady's people use it and think they can hardly get along without it in the house. I know of several others that have used it that I am not acquainted with, but one other lady, Mrs. Cundil, used it for nervousness, and it made her well."

There is the testimony of thousands. Paine's celery compound makes people well!

The Electric Bath at Home.

In the coming home electricity will be stored in nice little jars or cells and left at the house each morning, just as the milk is nowadays. It will not be surprising if the entire retinue of servants are some day replaced by a set of lay figures, who will automatically perform every domestic duty according to Edisonian laws.

One of the latest household appliances is an electric bath. It can be fitted up by a combination in series of a hocking coil and a small transformer. The whole is placed in a little marble receptacle above the bath and at one side. The secondary of the transformer moves along sides, and a rod passing to the outside enables the current to be regulated from a maximum to a minimum strength. The primary circuit is provided with an interrupter. The wires of the secondary proceed directly to the electrodes, which are simple plates of metal that can be placed anywhere in the bath by means of suspended hooks. There may also be added an ampermeter for continuous and alternating currents, by means of which the strength of the currents can be estimated with strict accuracy.

An electric candle is another novelty that is sure to be popular for the lighting and decorating of dining and other tables. An ingenious device for lighting the candle is provided by placing small pads under the tablecloth and taking the current from them by means of two pinpoints in the base of the candle-stick. The candles, of course, are extinguished on being taken from the table, and are relighted when they are placed in the proper position. They are so arranged that the bulb and glass imitation of a wax candle can be removed, when the candle-stick can be used for any ordinary candle. When used with shades of colored silk the electric candle makes one of the prettiest additions to a dinner table that it is possible to imagine.

Yet another electrical appliance for the house is a radiator for heating, which has been successfully tried in England, and which can be fixed and operated at a ridiculously low cost. A large theatre has been perfectly heated at a cost of seventy-two cents an hour, and it is calculated that an ordinary house can be perfectly warmed for ten cents a day. So you see the possibilities of electricity in the household are quite beyond all mortal imagination.—House Furnishing Review.

Now that all the ground has been cut from under the feet of the prize fighters they have no longer any standing here. These rampant braggarts have attracted a great deal of attention of late. They have loaded the telegraph wires with their windy messages until there is now a strong suspicion in the public mind that these fellows are arrant cowards of the baser sort. These are the last days of pugilism.

As much as $70,000 had been raised at the close of yesterday to bring the National Republican Convention to San Francisco next year. There is little doubt that $100,000 can be obtained and perhaps more. The financial side of the question is now made secure. But if any one man turns the scale against San Francisco, it will be Quay, who wants the convention held in Pittsburg, where this adroit politician could get in his best work.

The effect of the recent earthquake in Indiana was to raise a number of small streams so that they were bank-full. After one of the great earthquakes that occurred in California several years ago a number of small streams flowing out of the Coast Range that had gone nearly dry were raised to such a height that it was hardly safe for a horse and buggy to cross them. The sources of the springs had been well shaken up, and new crevices were made for the flow of water. This additional flow subsided in a few days.

The humorous sayings of the late President Lincoln are always read with interest. In a recent lecture by Robert J. Ingersoll on Lincoln, he brought forth from his stores these two, which have seldom, if ever, been published:

"Lincoln, to satisfy a few fault-finders in the North went to Grant's headquarters and met some Confederate Commissioners. He urged that it was hardly proper for him to negotiate with the representatives who were rebels in arms—that if the South wanted peace, all they had to do was to stop fighting. (Laughter.) One of the Commissioners cited as a precedent the fact that Charles the First negotiated with rebels in arms. To which Lincoln replied that Charles the First lost his head. (Laughter.) The conference came to nothing, as Mr. Lincoln expected.

"The Commissioners one of them being Alexander H. Stephens, who, when in good health, weighed about 90 pounds dined with the President and General Grant. After dinner, as they were leaving, Stephens put on an English ulster, the tails of which reached the ground, while the collar was somewhat above the wearer's head. As Stephens went out, Lincoln touched Grant and said: 'Grant, look at Stephens. Did you ever see as little a nubbin with as much shuck?'"

Six Amendments to the Constitution.

The Stockton Mail brings out the half-forgotten fact that there are no less than six constitutional amendments to be submitted to the people at the next general election in this State. One extends the right of suffrage to women; one refers to the liability of stockholders; one defines taxable property; one provides for the manner of holding elections; one relates to cities, counties and towns, and one to municipal corporations.

Only one of these proposed amendments has attracted any special attention. That is the one giving suffrage to women. They have already begun a campaign of education. Clubs and associations have been organized for the creation of public opinion favorable to female suffrage. The fact that work has begun a year in advance of the election indicates that there is to be an earnest and persistent struggle to obtain the franchise.

The prominence given to this one amendment ought not to obscure the importance of the others. Political clubs might well take them up and discuss them on their merits. These propositions go to the question of making in part a new constitution. The old one has had a number of patches, but hardly any more important than those proposed by these amendments.

Mexico for Cuba.

Some of the telegrams touching the attitude of Mexico towards Cuba are to be read with saving doubts. There is no question that the Republicans of Mexico sympathize with the Republicans of Cuba, and are disposed to render them a helping hand. But Mexico has no money to make a descent on Cuba, and no use for the island if it could be had for the asking. It is not a contiguous country. The only bond would be that of a Latin people speaking the same language.

If Mexico wanted more territory there are the five Central American republics, some of which would be far better off as an integral part of the greater republic. But Mexico has avoided war with any of them, even when there seemed to be a sufficient provocation. Financial support, as well as that of the republic on the continent, might go to these struggling Cuban revolutionists. There is not one of these things, so far as is known, that has any sympathy for the Spanish in Cuba. But that any great deal of material support will be rendered by the Cubans by Mexico for the purpose of securing that island, is a thing that lacks the support of any known facts.

The Cost of Ill Chosen Words.

When the late Leland Stanford was nominated by Governor Perkins as a Regent of the University of California he was heard to say that the appointment would eventually involve a gift of a quarter of a million or so to the university. When the nomination came up in the Senate a great deal of partisan feeling was enlisted against the confirmation. Much of this was seemingly an echo of a foolish and mischievous speech that was made by a graduate of the old College of California at an alumni meeting held at Berkeley. The Senate refused to confirm the nomination.

It is now pretty well known that had no opposition been made to the appointment of Governor Stanford as Regent he never would have established any university at Palo Alto, but would have given some millions of his fortune to the University of California. The use of a few depreciating words by Senator Hearst has been expended in modern times. Stanford said after his defeat that he would found a university of his own. That determination went a long way beyond the original loss.

Dr. Samuel Merrill was one of the early Regents of the University of California. He took great pride in its success. Having more constructive ability than the Regents he was placed at the head of a committee to erect a building. He took pride on the grounds at Berkeley. It was a matter of pride to him to erect the best building for the least amount of money. He planned the wooden edifice and furnished the lumber for its construction. It was not shown that he profited in any way by that transaction. But suddenly the architect took the matter up in the legislature, a committee was sent down to investigate.

The whole affair went off in smoke. He absconded or forgot the harsh things that were said of him. He declared that he had been abused for endeavoring to serve the public to the best of his ability, and that he would render no further service. Just how much the ill natured attacks made on him cost cannot be estimated to a dollar. But it is known that he had contemplated giving a part of his fortune to the University of California. The fact that a part of it was finally given to another educational institution is a blot, at least of what was lost to the institution at Berkeley.

Offset against these untoward incidents is one which might be placed. Some time ago Dr. D. K. Pearsons of Chicago began to distribute some part of his fortune to educational institutions. He offered to give $50,000 to Mount Holyoke college if a like amount were raised by other friends of that institution. They went to work with a will, and made such progress that he offered to give $150,000 to the college towards a two hundred thousand endowment if others will add $50,000. The good words emblazoned in this offer will result in securing the full amount of the proposed endowment. If a few evil words had been spoken probably the whole gift would have been diverted to some other institution.

The Crime and the Verdict.

Durrant has been convicted at last of one of the greatest crimes of the century. It was not an ordinary murder, but one involving some horrible features. Two young girls were inveigled into a church and murdered by the same man. The two crimes were committed several days apart. The last one was in the mind of the criminal a necessary screen from the guilt of the first. Minnie Williams believed that Durrant knew what had become of Blanche Lamont. It might have been no more than a suspicion. But Durrant was evidently afraid it might some day culminate in an open accusation. And yet this girl suffered herself to be enticed by the same man to enter a church from which the other had never been seen to come out alive. Once within the church the fate of the second girl was sealed. The only actual witnesses of the crime were dead. But "murder will out."

Durrant had neither robbery nor clothes as a motive for the crimes. Murder was a secondary result. The gratification of lust was the inspiring motive. A felony once committed there must be no witnesses. The man was sunk in the brute. There was no apparent compunction of conscience. He could go to the place where the murders had been committed, the coolest man in all the crowd. The brute who had violated innocent girls and then dismembered them that no accusing voice might be lifted against him, was not to be put out of countenance by any recital of details. The stolid composure of the beast whose humanity had been sunk counted for little. The man who could commit such crimes seemed to have a suit from the consciousness of his guilt, as many other great criminals have in other times.

The verdict satisfies the community by its justice. There could be no other consistent with the evidence brought out on the trial. Justice in this instance has not been hindered in overtaking the criminal. Death will be a small expiation for such revolting crimes. The sooner the drama closes the better. The public has had enough of it. The trial for the second crime will excite far less interest. But the verdict can hardly be otherwise than guilty. The same hand in both, the same verdict carrying the single penalty of death. Then the record will end, to be read with wonder and then forgotten by the world.

The Minister of Justice.

District Attorney Barnes, who conducted the prosecution of Durrant, said that he was only "a minister of justice." But it is many a day since more effective work has been done for justice than that performed by this fearless and able lawyer. The case for the prosecution was handled with consummate ability. Not a fact or a circumstance escaped his notice. A more searching examination has seldom been witnessed in any court. When the network of evidence had been woven there was not a loophole of escape. The defense could not break through it.

The final speech of Barnes was a model of clear and logical reasoning, with great felicity of expression. Such opportunities do not come very often to members of the bar. This was the opportunity of a lifetime. He had to deal with one of the most remarkable criminal cases of the century. It was a great plea for justice, followed by a verdict that must satisfy the prosecution and the community.

Jingoism and War.

Senator Chandler's prediction that at no distant day the United States will be forced into a war with Great Britain will strike many as a sort of jingo inspiration. Chandler himself gives no good reason for any such result. As a defensive war he says "it should be welcomed." While there were some grievances growing out of the raids made upon our commerce by British built cruisers during the late civil war, these have no effect at present on the public mind. Great Britain paid the bill for damages.

Since that event the two nations have been coming gradually nearer each other. They have the same language and the same spirit is invested in their laws and institutions. What under the heavens is there to fight about? The Monroe doctrine has not yet furnished any occasion for war. If one should occur the United States could reach over and take Canada by way of reprisal. But it is a question if that country, with its immense debt, is worth annexing.

This country has no entangling alliances. It has raised no questions about the fortunes of Japan and China. It simply demands fair play for all Republican States of North and South America. The Venezuela question is one of territorial boundaries and at most it is not large enough to engender a war. Senator Chandler manages to attract attention by utterances that have in them the sound of war. But there is no concurrent response worthy of any record. Flippant talk about war may to some extent inflame a war spirit. The most significant fact is that there is very little of that spirit in the country.

The Regents have decided that instead of one building to serve for the affiliated colleges in San Francisco, a group of buildings will be required of not less than three. Law, medicine, dentistry and pharmacy could not well be brought under one roof. Separate buildings may not be so imposing as a single edifice, but the facilities for good work would be far greater.

Rev. Dr. McLean, pastor of Plymouth church and president of the Theological Seminary, has returned from his eastern tour. The main object of his journey was to find a pastor for the vacant pulpit of the First Congregational church of this city. It may be assumed that he has found the man; and for the very best reasons will not give the name to the public until the preliminary business has been settled.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

Darkness prevailed in Stamford, Ct., Wednesday night, all on account of an eel that got into the water supply pipe of the electric light plant and cut off the water. It took two hours to catch the eel, and meanwhile the street cars were stalled and the play at the opera house had to be abandoned for want of light.

There is a banana plantation in Cuba, covering an area of fifty square miles, containing on an average 2,500,000 trees, and keeping in constant employment 2500 persons. A fleet of twenty-six steamers is required to transport the fruit to the United States. The banana is fast superseding the sugar cane in the West Indies. Its cultivation pays where that of the cane did not. The conquest of the banana has made over the appetites of races who a few years ago had never tasted it is quite as remarkable and far more rapid than that formerly made by the potato.

Edgar Saltus had almost dropped out of public sight until the news of his marriage was published recently. His career in literature was brilliant, but short-lived. Possessing a fine education, a brilliant mind and the advantages of travel, Mr. Saltus had the power to do American literature valuable service. He chose, however, to destroy his opportunities by indulging in offensive eroticism, and his work has proved itself ephemeral.

Although Hetty Green, with all her $60,000,000, dresses as cheaply as a shop girl with $5 a week, she impressed the Washington reporter who saw her in the national capital the other day as a woman who would shine in fine raiment. "The truth is," says the Post, "that Mrs. Green is not only attractive, but exceedingly fine looking. In manner she is as vivacious and sprightly as a young girl, and to look at her rosy cheeks and her hair, with hardly a trace of silver in it, one would not believe that she had celebrated her sixty-first birthday. Arrayed in rich garments she would attract much attention."

A small, quick-moving man, with an alert face and wearing a cap and long overcoat, got on a Pennsylvania railroad train at a suburban station recently. In his hand he carried two long square canes, which he held in front of him a little cautiously, as if not anxious to jar them. The car he had entered was well filled, almost exclusively with ladies going to the city on shopping expeditions. He evidently did not care to cross the platform to another car, but sat beside a lady who thought it rather odd that he should keep the two grimy-looking canes in his lap, instead of placing them on the floor. At Powelton avenue somebody got on who recognized in the person of the man with the canes a practical engineer in charge of some extensive excavating operations, and remarked: "What have you got there, old man?" "Oh, only twenty pounds of dynamite," was the response. —Philadelphia Times.

The full extent of the "trolly party" infatuation and the number of persons who have engaged in it is shown by the receipts of the four companies up to October 1. The amount received by the People's Traction Company is $17,000; the Philadelphia, $10,000; Electric, $20,000; and Hestonville, $3,000, or $70,000 in all. The average amount received from each participant is estimated at ten cents, and this would show 700,000 persons who indulged in this amusement.

Universities are not made. They grow. Rich endowments, fine buildings, spacious grounds, may be provided in a day. They are not a university. They alone do not and cannot make one. They may, however, be the means of promoting its growth, or they may be merely the crown of its completion. Some universities—a few have such equipments at the very beginning, and have to grow up to them; if we may properly speak of growing up to what, after all, are inferior things. Most, however, begin with meagre material equipment, and have to grow to greatness without it. Then, when their worth is seen and known of all men, the tardy benefactions come.—New York Tribune.

Lord Scully, or as he is familiarly known, "Rackrent" Scully of Ireland, has moved to New York in order to take out naturalization papers. Scully is well known out West, as he is the owner of many thousand acres of land in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. His action in moving to the United States to become a citizen is for the purpose of removing all doubts about his right to acquire more land. Scully owns in Illinois from 80,000 to 100,000 acres. Much of this land was acquired from the Government at $1.25 an acre. Large tracts were obtained at 50 cents to $1 an acre through the use of soldiers' land warrants. He bought lands in Illinois until prevented by the adoption of a new law. Several attempts have been made to compel him to pay an income tax, but without results. One case was taken to the Supreme Court before he won. He now owns more than a whole county in Nebraska, slices of Missouri counties and sections in other States.—Philadelphia Press.

A CHALLENGE

To the Contra Costa Water Company, Oakland:

Some time ago I had occasion to make a microscopical analysis of the water furnished to the city of Oakland by your company, coming from Lakes Temescal and Chabot.

At your instance I am informed this analysis has been questioned and my reputation placed in a doubtful position.

In order that I may prove to your satisfaction and to that of the general public of the city of Oakland, the absolute correctness of my analysis that the water supplied by your company IS UNFIT FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION, I now make the following proposition:

I will meet any expert appointed by you and proceed to Lakes Temescal and Chabot, where we will procure samples of water from each lake, and on the usual precautions taken relative to any analysis under dispute. Having obtained the samples, we will proceed to some proper place in the city of Oakland, fitted up as a laboratory, to be selected by your expert and myself—your expert to provide the necessary material for his investigation, and I will do likewise; both investigations to be conducted simultaneously and in the presence of each other. And daily upon leaving the operating room we will seal it up with the dual seals of the experts and place a watchman in charge, that there may be no opportunity for fraud or chicanery by anybody.

The expense of these investigations to be mutual, each side to pay their own expert and any extra expenses to be divided. I will undertake to establish without cavil the absolute correctness of my previous analysis of the waters from Lakes Temescal and Chabot, whereby it was proven without the reason of any doubt to unbiased people that SAID WATERS FROM LAKES TEMESCAL AND CHABOT ARE ABSOLUTELY UNWHOLESOME, UNHEALTHY AND UNFIT FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION.

In event of your refusing to accept or consider this challenge I shall make a proposition to the authorities of Oakland to name a committee, that I may establish to it the correctness of my previous conclusions regarding the unfitness for human consumption of the water which comes from either Lake Temescal or Chabot.

Respectfully,
THOMAS BOWHILL,

SHOWS OF ALL SORTS.

Oakland Pleasure-Seekers Are Regaled With Good Attractions.

"The Coast Guard" Will Be Next Week's Bill at the Oakland.

The star entertainment course, under the direction of Bragg & Muller, will be inaugurated next Friday evening at the Macdonough Theater. Manager Cook will present as the initial production the artiste trio, which will give a delightful series of brilliant musical and literary numbers. Miss Laura McManus, whose wonderful whistling is a revelation, is in the troupe. Miss Julia Hobbs, a pianist and harp soloist of marked ability, will be on the programme, while Cornelia May, a clever reader and pantomimist, will be a feature of the entertainment.

"A CONTENTED WOMAN."

Eminent among the theatrical attractions that will be seen at the Macdonough Theater soon is Hoyt's very latest and what the wise ones say very good comedy success, "A Contented Woman," which will be here for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, November 11th and 12th. It will be produced under the personal supervision of the author, and to those who are familiar with Mr. Hoyt's remarkable gifts as a stage director the announcement will be in the nature of a guarantee that all the appointments will be perfect.

Mr. Hoyt's new play goes to show that the author looks on the question of woman's suffrage much the same as does every other man who has a proper regard for the fitness of things and the respect due the opposite sex. He has not aimed to write a play which will cause swallows of the "new woman" to bubble over with enthusiasm, but rather to perfect a stage picture which will win the support of the greater proportion of both sexes. The regular sale of seats begins next Thursday. Orders for seats now received at the box office.

"THE PASSING SHOW."

Canary & Lederer's big New York Casino production "The Passing Show" is now drawing large houses at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, will be the attraction at the Macdonough Theater on Thursday and Friday, November 14th and 15th, with a matinee on Saturday, November 16th.

The piece is a combination of opera, tragedy, ballet, burlesque, vaudeville, drama and broad farce.

THE BOSTONIANS

The Bostonians come to the Macdonough Friday and Saturday nights, November 22d and 23d, and Saturday matinee November 23d. They will only present "Robin Hood" here, as the public demand that popular opera. Already the orders for seats have run into the hundreds.

FUTURE ATTRACTIONS

"Charley's Aunt" comes to the Macdonough this month, and will no doubt be received as it was a year ago when the theater was crowded at every performance.

"The War of Wealth," De Wolf Hopper Opera Company, Professor Hoffmann, Robert Downing and the Frawley Company come next month.

THE OAKLAND.

It has been many years since Oakland witnessed a sterling "tank" drama and its advent on the Oakland stage next week will in a measure be a novelty. An immense tank, capable of holding many thousand gallons of water, has been constructed and placed on the stage, and next week the heavy man will throw a wretched woman into the water from which she will be rescued by the hero. This necessitates two chilly baths for the edification of the auditors, and should be appreciated in this weather. All this and more of a sensational order occurs in the "Coast Guard." There is a revolving lighthouse in the first act, a practical river dredger in operation in the second a sensational abduction in the third and a picturesque life saving station in the last. These, with a series of highly exciting situations as an adjunct, should satisfy the most devout admirer of mechanical melodrama. "The Coast Guard" is an American play, founded on an American story. The scenes are laid on Long Island and adjacent to New York, and the story told in four brisk acts.

There is a happy vein of laughter interwoven through the piece, and "The Coast Guard" will undoubtedly enjoy a very prosperous week.

Manager Dalley of the Oakland Theater is a very busy man just at present, as he is handling three attractions. His company, headed by May Nannary, is to alternate with a comedy organization. May Nannary opening in Stockton Thanksgiving week and the comedy company here. They change positions the following week. In addition to this he has secured a controlling interest in the company now playing at the Clunie Opera House in Sacramento, and will reorganize it during the coming week. With three companies, Dalley will have his hands full.

Mortimer Snow will return from Salt Lake and again enlist with one of Dalley's companies. He is a favorite in this

How They Differ

Man is a creature of custom—born habits—woman adapts herself to circumstances—that is the foundation of the moral difference between them.

A man considers a corkscrew absolutely necessary to open a bottle; a woman ... to extract the cork ... she succeeds if she does not succeed ... she pushes the cork into the bottle, since the essential thing is to get at the fluid.

When a man writes everything must ... paper, blotting paper and ... a profound silence ... which accomplishes this important function. A woman gets any sheet of paper, tears it perhaps from a book or portfolio, sharpens a pencil with the scissors, puts the paper on an old ... crosses her feet, balances herself on her chair, and commits her thoughts to paper, changing from pencil to pen and vice versa from time to time, nor does she care if the children romp or the cook comes to speak to her.

A man storms if the blotting paper is not conveniently near; a woman dries the ink by blowing on it, waving the paper in the air, or holding it near a lamp or fire.

A man drops a letter unhesitatingly in the box; a woman re-reads the address, assures herself that the envelope is sealed, the stamp secure and then throws it violently into the box.

A man can cut a book only with a paper-cutter; a woman deftly inserts a hairpin and the book is cut.

For a man "goodby" signifies the end of a conversation and the moment of his departure; for a woman it is the beginning of a new chapter, for it is just when they are taking leave of each other that women think of the most important topics of conversation.

A woman ransacks her brain trying to mend a broken object; a man puts it aside and forgets that for which there is no remedy. Which is the superior?—Lippincott's Magazine.

Women inventors are, according to the Patent Office reports, adhering to the lines of the old rather than the new woman. Out of 400 patents granted to women in 1894, 160 were for wearing apparel and 100 for cooking utensils.

CHAT FOR CHURCH-GOERS.

Sound Subjects Selected by the Pastors for Sunday Sermons

A Few Changes Are Announced in Some of the Leading Missions.

Tomorrow will be an interesting event in the history of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Some two months ago the Rev. Marion D. Wilson tendered his resignation to accept the rectorship of St. Peter's in San Francisco, since which time St. Andrew's has been without a shepherd. Good fortune has, however, been on the side of the vestry, they having been successful in securing the services of the Rev. James Hulme to become its rector. This reverend gentleman will begin his labors with the parish tomorrow. He is considered a fine speaker, preaching wholly extemporaneously—one of Mr. Hulme's specialties in parish work—and it is safe to predict that through his efforts the number of worshipers at St. Andrews will be largely increased. Additions have been made to the choir so that in the future good music is assured. The floral decorations will also be fine tomorrow, in keeping with the day.

AN ODD ELECTION BILL.

Sir Mark Sommerville Ran for Office in Ireland in 1786.

An Original Expense Account Sent in by a Tavern Keeper.

In 1786 the purity of election laws must have been rather slack in the County of Meath, Ireland. In that year Sir Mark Sommerville was a candidate for political preferment, and told Jemmy Cass, the proprietor of an inn in Trim, to do the elegant thing for the boys. Cass accepted the duty, and after the election sent his bill to Sir Mark, who appreciating its oddity, had it framed and it still hangs in Sommerville House.

In No an enterprising Irish printer struck off several copies of the account and had them framed, and they now adorn many an Irish home.

William Stack, in Oakland, but here is one of the copies, which was sent him by William Doran, a native of County Meath, and which Stack exhibits to all who visit his shop on Fifth and Harrison streets. The accounting is as follows:

MY BILL.

To Tenting 16 Freeholders a novel stairs for Sir Mark at —'s a head is to me	2	12	0
To eating le more before sixteen, and two priests after Supper is to me	2	15	9
To 18 Horses and 5 Mules about my yard all night at 13d. every one of them, and for which a man was lost on the head of Watching them all night is 19 me	5	5	0
To 8 beds in one Room and to lie in another, at 2 Guineas every Bed and not more than four in any bed, at my own cheap enough, God knows, is to me	22	15	0
Per Breakfast on Tea in the morning for every one of them, and a many more as they brought in as near as I can guess, is to me	4	12	0

DURABLE ROADS.

Iron Rock Furnishes by Far the Best Material.

The people who do not have to express dissatisfaction over the bad streets or roads in their neighborhood are those who had the good sense to use Iron Rock in the making of their streets and roads. These thoroughfares are everywhere pronounced models of their kind. They are laid by the Oakland Rock Company. It was the excellent work done by this company and the almost everlasting durability which it has been shown Iron Rock possesses that led to the reception of the demand for good roads in all parts of the county. For this valuable suggestion the Oakland Rock Company is to be congratulated and is seconded by all citizens having the welfare of the community at heart. The office of the company is room 7 Macdonough theater building, Fourteenth and Broadway. Telephone 1007. The work of this company is visible in a number of places, especially in the northern part of the city, and is well worthy of being examined.

THE BEST BEER

The Finest in the World Sold Here.

Herbert & Sonderleiter Have Made a Great Stroke of Enterprise.

It is generally admitted that lager beer is rapidly supplanting wine as the popular beverage of California. This is especially true in Oakland because of the enterprise of Herbert & Sonderleiter of 477 Ninth street, between Broadway and Washington street, who have introduced the Anheuser-Busch Faust Lager of St. Louis, Mo., which is the finest beer in the world. It secured the first premium at the great Columbian Exposition in Chicago, where all the world's beers on earth were in competition. It is light, palatable, wholesome, invigorating, made of the finest hops, and is always served in a cool and refreshing manner. To learn what a glass of good beer is, one must try a glass of this Faust beer. Herbert & Sonderleiter have newly decorated their place, and have now, as they always had, the finest beer saloon in Oakland.

INTRODUCTORY.

The Tribune, anxious to please its numerous readers, herewith inaugurates a course devoted to puzzling. Instruction and pleasure are the rewards of those who have given a spare hour to the art, a search for words and only teaching, the greatest teaching and the proper use of language, for aboli ashing to "word research and study. We would be pleased to receive the effort of our youthful, as well as more advanced readers, and thus assure the beginner that due consideration for meritorious work will be given. Let us have a hearty response.

In explanation of puzzle, they are respectfully referred to Kate Greenaway's Almanac, and to any of Mrs. Sloane's numerous Illustrated Half Hour Stories, Fairy Tales, Legends, and other Compositions.

The flat puzzles are those having for an answer a word, phrase or sentence. They consist of descriptions, curtailments, anagrams, enigmas, transpositions, dissections, charades, acrostics, numerals and rebuses. A careful comparison of the answer with the puzzle will render it easy for beginners to construct similar contributions.

1. NUMERICAL.

For puns, sarcasm, humor, repartee,
Command me always to the 1-2-3.

Yet 3-4-5 of the above would be
A double dose of sense as you will see.

The 5 to 7 a paramour is he
And gambles up whenever on a spree.

Find 7 to 9 a bird upon a tree
Or sailing search the caverns of the sea.

A limbo note or strata you will agree
5, 1-7, 11-8, or 1, 2-3.

If this contains a speck of mystery
In 9 to 12 I tender you the key.

Before the conquest wise men used to meet,
And people called their gathering comitate.

AROUND THE TABLE.

Any information cheerfully given when request is made....A few leaders would be appreciated....Our California friends need not be backward. Who will be the first solver to the initial number?....Can some of our beginners send a few good rebuses? Neatness will always be commended....For the neatest list of answers to November puzzles a suitable prize will be given. Answers are to be sent on postal cards. Contributions must be by letter. Write on one side of page only....Suggestions from readers are not amiss. We aim to interest all and will not reject whatever may add to such a result. Words outside of our standard authorities must be properly tagged. Any enigma or riddle original of sufficient brilliancy will be published. Of the puzzles of 1894 issue a numerical is one in which 1, 2, 3, etc., represents respectively the first, second and third letters of the answers. A decapitation is curtailing off the first letter of a word and still leaving a word, as, there, here. A rebus is a combination of letters or figures or both, making a word or sentence, as

One of the finest accommodations which people on this side of the bay experience is the communication which they enjoy with the rest of the world by means of the transportation companies, the leading one of which is the People's Express and Transfer Co., the office of which is at 412-418 Ninth street, between Broadway and Franklin street. This company gives not only perfect services between this city, Berkeley, Alameda and San Francisco, but saves people who go traveling the necessity of personally attending to the checking of their baggage. It checks the baggage at one's house and delivers it there after arrival without extra expense.

ARTHUR M'EWEN'S LETTER.

The Grand Jury Will Probably Investigate the Scandal Attached to the Durrant Defense.

DEUPREY'S PLANS WERE HURRIEDLY CHANGED.

The Agitation for the Big Republican Convention Not Very Genuine.

DAVIDSON LOSES GROUND.

Mrs. Clara Foltz Will Transfer Her Legal Business to New York

A "NEW WOMAN'S" FAILURE.

Hearst Will Not Splurge With the "Journal" Until After Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The utter breakdown of the defense in the Durrant trial of which the apparently imbecile opening statement was the immediate precursor has been explained—whether truthfully or not remains at this writing to be seen. It may be that the men Reynolds and Smyth who have confessed that they with others were to perjure themselves and supply Durrant with an alibi are mere hacks. Still the lost money which they say was prepared for them cannot be the work of ignorant and unskilled men. It is too lawyerlike in its features for that, and is precisely the sort of testimony that the defense needed to clear the prisoner. In its light, seemingly aimless cross-examinations conducted by Deuprey and Dickinson are given a purpose. The foundation was laid for just such evidence as Smyth would have given had he gone on the stand and made oath to the statement which the Examiner got possession of more than a month ago. That the Examiner, at the request of Captain Lees, should have suppressed a piece of news of this magnitude in the interest of justice is extremely creditable to that journal, and its forbearance is bringing it compliments which are worth having. Assuming that Mr. Deuprey knew of the existence of this testimony and intended to use it, the confidence in the speedy acquittal of his client, which he everywhere expressed is perfectly comprehensible. It was rumored before the opening statement that the defense would show that Blanche Lamont was in Haywards on the night of April 3d and some great surprise of the kind was certainly looked for. It is now plain that the rumor was based on leaks from the Examiner office or the police department.

A month ago I was told that an incident of the trial might be the arrest in the court room of the attorneys for the defense. No particulars were given me, and I was asked not to make use of what I had heard. Ever since Mr. Deuprey arose and made that feeble and fatal opening statement his friends have been saying that he was compelled to prepare it very hurriedly, and that it was totally different from what they had expected it to be up to within a few hours of its delivery. Others now say that he feared the police were on the track of the movement, and altered his intentions at the last moment. This can hardly be, however, since Mr. Deuprey and General Barnes both declare that they never heard of the intention of their conspiracy until the newspapers published the news. Nevertheless they will be given an opportunity before the Grand Jury to refute the charges. The city has been startled by the disclosure to a degree which is not reflected by the newspapers. The press here gives the news but does not get the fashion with it to furnish it starts that either guide or influence public opinion. Nevertheless the startling nature does some thing and it is very generally felt that one of two things is true. That a most serious fake has been invented in order to ruin two prominent attorneys of that city, or that powerful efforts have attempted to conceal a great crime. The Bar Association will not, of course, do anything so unprofessional as to investigate the conduct of any of its members who have offended rivals' or important political interests, but the Grand Jury, being a lay body, will have less respect for the proprieties. At least that is what everybody anticipates.

The District Attorney's closing address will be over, the Judge's charge delivered and the verdict rendered, perhaps before this letter is in print. Let us see how good people are at guessing. Yesterday afternoon at the Press Club I asked half a dozen newspaper men, two actors, two musicians and one detective what they thought the outcome would be. A reporter answered "Guilty, and the jury will stay out able at least an hour for decency's sake." All instantly concurred except the detective. "There may be a crank in the jury" he said "Or" suggested a reporter "one of the jury may have been bought" "No," objected the detective, "that's an honest jury. I think. Besides it would take a mighty nervy man to stave it right in this case." At the Occidental hotel I talked with some lawyers and merchants and men about town. The belief was invariable that the verdict would be against Durrant and rendered within an hour. I met nobody who was not of the opinion that the defense had emphasized and enriched the evidence brought out by the prosecution. If a vote were taken in San Francisco, I judge would give a large majority in favor of a public execution. The desire to see Durrant hanged is appallingly prevalent. That he will be hanged, unless he shall make away with himself, nobody that I encounter seems to doubt.

Anyone who should rise in public just now and say he didn't want the National Republican Convention to come here would, of course, be roasted in the fire of newspaper indignation—bogus indignation. The newspapers really don't care whether the Convention comes or not—rather it wouldn't in fact, as it must involve for them much work and great expense—but they think the people want it, so they whoop and make contributions. And the people who don't keep hotels or barrooms or theaters or railroads are not excited about it, but as the newspapers seem to be half mad with an agony of desire, the people are good-natured enough not to dissent. Those who know what a national convention is like, and what a nuisance a great crowd is in a small city hope the movement will fail, unless they are curious to see celebrated politicians at close quarters, or perceive a chance of profit. The conclaves, encampments and other big gatherings with which San Francisco has ben invaded have done little more than to disturb her peace. And I discover that few, even among the faithful newspaper boomers, expect the convention to come. But it being the proper thing to clamor for the convention as if the city would be set up for life by obtaining it, every second man tries to show his public spirit by doing a little clamoring. As for the advertising of California that success would mean, more advertising is about the last thing of which this State stands in need. There are more people here now than can make a good living under present conditions, and there is capital enough too for current needs, if the capital could be induced to employ itself. The spirit that prompts the hubbub about the convention is the same as that which inspired the organization of the Half Million Club—a hungry and more or less vague notion that somebody on the outside may be induced to do for us what we won't do for ourselves. When California has the intelligence to appreciate her own resources and opportunities there will be no need to drum for population or pray for conventions and conclaves. Home-made prosperity is the kind that lasts—news for patriotic real estate dealers.

It will be recalled that the press of San Francisco was moved to hot wrath not very long ago by the removal of Professor Davidson from his position at the head of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The public partook of that wrath, for Professor Davidson had come to be considered the most learned scientific man of the coast. If I remember aright the faculties of Berkeley and Stanford, with other imposing bodies, protested against the removal. The authorities at Washington not only turned a deaf ear to all appeals for Professor Davidson's re-instatement, but haughtily refused to give any reason for its act other than that the professor had grown a little too old for active service. In the afterglow of all the indignation it is interesting to read that "a survey of the bay of San Francisco and its approaches is being made by the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The need for this new survey, notwithstanding Professor Davidson's labors, extending through forty years, is shown by the discovery of a pinnacle rock in the middle of Point Lobos channel—a rock that rises to within fourteen feet of the surface at low tide and is sure to wreck any vessel that may innocently try to sail over its uncharted point. "A more dangerous obstruction," the Examiner says, "it would be difficult to imagine." Two other dangerous rocks have been found by the new men who are in charge of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. Journalists and local scientists may continue to think that Professor Davidson's removal was an outrage, but mariners will hardly petition the Government to give the old gentleman his place back.

In one way and another we are losing our great people. Death does its steady work, of course, but notwithstanding Mr William Greer Harrison's poor opinion of New York, that metropolis is making drafts upon us which ought to reduce our pride. Mr. Hearst had hardly gone there and bought the Journal thus reducing the Examiner to the position of a side show, than we were given the shock of learning that Mrs Clara Shortridge Foltz was about to abandon the San Francisco bar and go East. The lady declares that she cannot do well here at her profession, which is astonishing, for she has had more free advertising, because of her sex, than any other lawyer in the State. If Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz cannot make a success, then the New Woman may as well count the courts out as a field of possible triumph, for Mrs Foltz is richly endowed. She possesses all that calm confidence that sunny trust in her ability which distinguishes her celebrated brother Samuel, and she does not fall short in push, enterprise and intellectuality of her other brother, Charles, who has made the Call a wonder in journalism. Mrs. Foltz attributes her comparative failure at the bar to two causes: The indisposition of old ladies of large property to intrust their interests to a female lawyer, and to a conspiracy into which the male attorneys and judges of the city have entered for the blighting of her career. Perhaps, however, Mrs Foltz has special reasons, not divulged, for leaving the cause of the New Woman here to his fate. She will take offices in New York not far removed from those of the Journal. Being thus on the ground and able to form a judgment of Mr. Hearst's progress that will be sounder than any arrived at from a distance, she can keep her brother Charles well informed. It is not to be supposed that if Mr. Hearst exhibits ability to make a brilliant headway Mr Shortridge will be content to remain in this narrow sphere. Talents so unique as his have surprised San Francisco; they would astonish New York.

Mr Hearst has done that already. It was supposed that when he entered the metropolis it would be in a band wagon, burning red fire and letting off skyrockets. On the contrary he has kept as still as if his most ardent wish were not to let his rivals know that he had come. No alterations have been made in the appearance, and even the change in ownership has not been announced. Considering the balloons and special trains and calliope advertising that marked his taking possession of the Examiner eight years back, this extreme quietude has puzzled San Francisco observers. But the explanation is simple. An exceedingly warm political campaign is in progress in New York, and there is nothing that Mr. Hearst dislikes so much as political campaigns. They make it necessary for newspapers to say things, and the saying of things is sure to offend somebody, whereas Mr. Hearst's desire in journalism is to offend nobody, please and get all the subscribers and advertisers that are to be had. So the story of the new Journal, I am informed, has been postponed to November 4th, when the annoying election will be over. Then the floodgates of wealth are to be opened, the genius of enterprise turned loose and the country taught what a really great newspaper is. By the time the next campaign comes the hope is that the Journal will be so popular, so well liked and understood, that nobody will expect it to have opinions. New York is not accustomed to that sort of journalism, but New York ought not to be above learning something from San Francisco. No man in the newspaper business lived and died more honored than Geo W. Childs, who made his fortune out of the Philadelphia Ledger, a journal that never took the risk of printing an editorial worth reading when anything important in politics was going on. It is a venerable tradition that the Ledger's leading article the morning after Sumter was fired on dealt with "Printed Calicoes." With an editorial policy inspired by the Childs spirit, and a knowledge of the value of news as keen as Mr. Pulitzer's, Mr. Hearst ought to make the Journal a paying property. It may take a year or two to do it, but Hearst is a millionaire, and if expenditure can conquer the situation he will not fail. Why, being a millionaire, he should want to make more money by creating a newspaper policy strictly commercial in purpose only he can tell. Most young men with his opportunities would seek a different kind of success.

There are some signs of an intention on the part of Mr. Hearst's San Francisco rivals to take advantage of his absence and necessary neglect of the Examiner to make it warm for that paper. Already the Call has improved (if that, in Mr. Shortridge's opinion, is possible) and the other day Mr. De Young came out in the Chronicle as a defender of the faith by rebuking the Examiner for publishing an extended telegraphic report of Colonel Ingersoll's new lecture on the imperfections of the Deity. In consequence, the alarmed Examiner is running to the reporting of sermons, with flattering pictures of the preachers. Presently the Call and Chronicle may take it into their heads to spend some more money on their papers, which is the only thing that Mr. Hearst has seriously to fear.

An admirable young man died here this week, the Rev Hanson Irwin, pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church. He was in his youth—only 29—and San Francisco will miss him, for he was an honor to his profession and a good citizen. Mr. Irwin had intellect and a warm heart, which carried him beyond church work, though to that he gave exceptional energy. He met men of every kind unaffectedly and with a sympathy that won their liking. His interest was engaged by the secular movements for bettering the lot of the poor, and he had no clerical prejudices that kept him apart from any man who was trying to do good in any way. Men of high purpose and nobility of spirit are so few that when one of them passes away the calamity is public. Though Mr. Irwin had been here but a short time he had made his mark in the best way. He was capable of much, and much was expected of him. Time promised to develop him into another Starr King. There is mourning for him outside the churches as well as within them.

ARTHUR McEWEN.

THE JOHNSTOWN CAME DOWN.

(After Lord Byron with apologies.)

I.

The Johnstown came down like a wolf on the fold,
His pianos all glittering with varnish and gold;
And the shine of each box was like glints in the sea,
And pure celluloid gleamed from its "do, re and mi."

II.

"Like the leaves of the forest when summer is green,"
Said ex-Preacher Jay, "will our suckers be seen."
Like the leaves of the forest when Autumn hath blown,
His hopes on the morrow lay withered and strown.

III.

For the dealers of Oakland who do business straight,
Exposed the smooth schemes of this fakir so great;
And the Johnstown grew chill, and despaired after while;
His pianos first tuned waxed discordant and vile.

IV.

In his store his poor boxes stood dismal and dear,
And from them there came not a lyric to cheer.
But the wail from his heart was as dismal and dread
As the yelp of a circus tent lion unfed.

V.

Yea, there were his contracts unwritten—unsold
Were his Fresno pianos all rusty and old
And his tunes and sooners all stil and alone;
Their hopes dissipated, their schemes overthrown.

VI.

And the people of Oakland are loud in their laugh,
For they did not take kindly to Johnstown's fake chaff;
And the truth of the dealers, untouched by the foe,
Has melted the fakir as sun melts the snow.

VII.

All triumphant over Kymbill's unmusical box,
Unmoved by the fakir's sensational shocks,
The Steinway, the Decker, the Wheelock still play
To the people of Oakland—for truth won the day. ADV

Save Your Babies.

The health authorities in San Francisco say impure milk causes most infantile diseases. Now, mothers, it is not advisable to save 25 cents a month, when your economy may cost you your child's health. The Jersey Milk, Cream and Butter Company of 1259 Broadway (telephone 261) sells the purest and best. Our prices are by the month as follows: Pure rich milk, 1 quart, $2.25; 2 quarts, $4.50; 3 quarts, $6.50; 4 quarts, $8. Our butter is made fresh daily. Hadn't you better give this matter some thought?

LITTLE ROCK Nov 2—The case of the State against Fitzsimmons and Julian was continued this morning until 2 P M at the request of Attorney General Kinsworthy

He said to-night that he had come to an agreement with the prisoners and the charges were that the matter would be disposed of in the afternoon without troubling the court

Fitzsimmons and Julian expressed themselves today as anxious to accept either Brady's proposition or a similar one from the Florida Athletic Club specifications to fight to a finish

Julian put forth the fact that the ground as the $5000 stated would help to pay for it but he said in case the fight did not come off

He declared how ever he would have $10 000 ready to put up Brady's proposition to pay it to-night

The agreement to which Attorney General Kinsworthy alluded in court was that all the court proceedings be dismissed on condition that the pugilists leave the State

LONDON Nov 2—The war scare caused by the Morgkong dispatch to the Times the Globe Telegraph and other concessions China is supposed to have secretly made to Russia has been reflected in the public mind by the alarm felt in the rumors from east in quarters that Japan and Russia have formed or are forming an understanding which is to result to their mutual benefit

There seems to be no doubt that Great Britain practically isolated is facing across the great expanse and no end of it does not seem to be in sight

But new clouds do not seem to have depressed the spirits of the royal family to any appreciable extent

On the contrary since her return on Saturday last from visiting her parents the King and Queen of Denmark at Copenhagen the Princess of Wales and her daughters Victoria and Maud the three ladies of the royal family whom the Prince of Wales declined at Newmarket could not find time to meet at Charing Cross railroad station have been constant users on the go visiting the different art galleries theaters etc

The Princesses have been accompanied on these pleasure tours by the Duke of York and Prince Nicholas of Greece and their comings and goings have done much to enliven smoky old London

THEATRICAL NOTES

George Alexander has now definitely decided upon the play with which he will open the St James Theater next Thursday night There has been much speculation as to the new drama When Mr Edmonds play Bogie proved such a dire failure it was announced that the drama the Divided Way by the same author which Mr Alexander had provisionally accepted would be shelved and a dramatization of Hall Caines The Manxman was to be substituted This plan has however been abandoned and The Divided Way which was successfully produced in Manchester on Thursday will be presented

Mr Charles Wyndham has also announced the next play with which he will open to the Criterion theater this month The play is an adaptation by R D Cuton o Alexander Dumas La Ami des Femmes is in four acts and is called the Squire of Dames

The run of Romeo and Juliet still continues an enormous success at the Lyceum Theater

The Pioneer puts announce that Seldon has accepted a commission to write a play for Lily Davenport It is stated that the play will be taken from an incident in Gibbons Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire and will partake largely of the nature of his Theodora

Fannie Ward who has made such a success in the play Cheer Boy Cheer at Daly's Lane has just signed a three-years engagement at that house

Of course the most interesting event of theatrical week here was the production of Trilby at the Haymarket by Beerbohm Tree This presentation was in fact more than an ordinary success in fact it has caused quite a sensation and promises to be the greatest success known at the Haymarket for years past

The verdict of those who hail the pleasure of seeing the New York production of Trilby before witnessing the London presentation of the same was that although Edmonds Trilby is likely to be a great success it is not equal to the New York Trilby

He came armed with a petition signed by a number of his neighbors who protested at the closing of the place and he also made a long speech in his own behalf to the committee The gist of his was that he was an American citizen and it hurt him in society as he said to have his name in the papers as it has been several times of late because of his trouble with the license department The committee decided to recommend that his license be renewed

The resolution of Attorney Button striking from the minutes the words 'without cost to the city' which is the stone wall between himself and $200 was too weighty for the committee and it was referred back to the Council without recommendation

The recommendation that Sam Short stoker of engine No 1, be allowed pay for fourteen days during which he was sick was laid over

Julian Talks Acceptance, but He Has No Forfeit Money.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 2.—The case of the State against Fitzsimmons and Julian was continued this morning until 2 P. M. at the request of Attorney General Kinsworthy.

He said an agreement had been reached with the prisoners and the chances were that the matter would be disposed of in the afternoon without troubling the court.

Fitzsimmons and Julian expressed themselves today as anxious to accept either Brady's proposition of yesterday or the Florida Athletic Club's proposition to fight at El Paso.

Julian preferred the Texas battle ground as the $5000 forfeit offered would help to pay for lost time, he said, in case the fight did not come off.

He declared, however, he would have $10,000 ready to accept Brady's proposition today if possible.

The agreement to which Attorney General Kinsworthy alluded in court was that all the court proceedings be dismissed on condition that the pugilists leave the State.

THE CASES COME UP.

The cases against Fitzsimmons, Julian, Brady and Corbett were dismissed by the court this afternoon on the agreement to leave the State as soon as they can.

All the fighters are included and the big fellows will be given a reasonable time to get out.

Governor Clarke says he has no intention of driving them out, but it will be a serious thing if the restraining order is violated.

This disposes of almost the last chance to pull off the fight.

Brady will agree to nothing unless Julian's $10,000 is up and there are no signs of its being put up.

Corbett and Brady will leave for New York soon.

There were forty-four distinct breeds exhibited and the quality of the dogs was equal to the best former shows. The Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia and the Duchess of Newcastle were prominent exhibitors. One of the young Wannamakers, who is taking a course at Oxford showed some bull terriers and wire-haired fox terriers. He was awarded several third prizes.

Fox hunting began on Friday, though there were several notable exceptions. Lord Lonsdale, for instance, announced that owing to the hard condition of the grounds the meet of the Quern hounds, which was as usual fixed to take place at Kirby gate, was postponed for a fortnight. Mr. Foxhall Keene and other well-known Americans here, have taken houses near Melton Mowbray, and will hunt with this pack.

The arrival of Messrs. Lorillard's and Belmont's horses at Newmarket has been the occasion for many friendly notices from the sporting press. All the sporting writers welcome Mr. Lorillard as being a true sportsman.

Lord Francis Hope, the husband of May Yohe, the American actress, made famous by her so-called "fog-horn" voice, etc., appeared in court yesterday for examination in connection with his bankruptcy. His debts are $3,290,000. The largest items of his losses are betting, etc., $350,000; theater speculations, $105,000.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

George Alexander has now definitely decided upon the play with which he will open the St. James Theater next Thursday night. There has been much speculation as to the new drama. When Mr. Edmonds' play "Bogie" proved such a dire failure, it was announced that the drama the "Divided Way," by the same author, which Mr. Alexander had provisionally accepted, would be shelved and a dramatization of Hall Caine's "The Manxman" was to be substituted. This plan has, however, been abandoned, and "The Divided Way," which was successfully produced in Manchester on Thursday, will be presented.

Mr. Charles Wyndham has also announced the next play with which he will open to the Criterion Theater this month. The play is an adaptation by R. D. Carton of Alexander Dumas' "L'Ami des Femmes," is in four acts and is called the "Squire of Domes."

The run of "Romeo and Juliet" still continues an enormous success at the Lyceum Theater.

The French papers announce that Sardou has accepted a commission to write a play for Fanny Davenport. It is stated that the play will be taken from an incident in Gibbons' "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," and will partake largely of the nature of his "Theodora."

Fannie Ward, who has made such a success in the play "Cheer, Boy, Cheer," at Drury Lane, has just signed a three-year engagement at that house.

Of course the most interesting event of theatrical week here was the production of "Trilby" at the Haymarket by Beerbohm Tree. This presentation was really more than an ordinary success. In fact, it has caused quite a sensation, and promises to be the greatest success known at the Haymarket for years past.

The verdict of those who had the pleasure of seeing the New York production of "Trilby" before witnessing the London presentation of the same, was that, although London's "Trilby" is likely to be a great success, it is not equal to the New York "Trilby."

WORK DONE IN COMMITTEE

City Licenses and Many Saloon Protests Up for Action.

Finances Discussed and Expert Kaufman's Report Is Favorably Defended.

Councilmen Buckland, Watkinson, Mott and Capell met last night to wrestle with the city licenses. Things went smoothly at first. Owen Boyle, who wants to open a saloon at 900 Twenty-seventh street, was refused a license, because his petition did not have the sufficient number of signatures, and James Sullivan of 538 San Pablo avenue and R. Wolter of 1125 Thirteenth avenue were winners as far as the committee goes.

Marshall had introduced a resolution to take away the license of Captain William A. Gardner, whose place of business is at the corner of Fifteenth and Market streets, because of its proximity to the High school, and Gardner objected.

He came armed with a petition signed by a number of his neighbors, who protested at the closing of the place, and he also made a long speech in his own behalf to the committee. The gist of it was that he was an American citizen, and it hurt him "in society," as he said, to have his name in the papers as it has been several times of late because of his trouble with the license department. The committee decided to recommend that his license be not revoked, but that when it expires it be not renewed.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

After the adjournment of the license committee Chairman Mott of the finance committee called Councilmen Towle and Buckland to order, and for an hour they looked after the expenditure of the city's money.

Two resolutions relating to the City Treasurer were recommended. The first was to allow him three assistants for not more than four days at $4 per day, and the other authorized him to employ two more through the month at $75 each.

J. J. Hanks had a bill for $300 for detective services rendered the city in securing witnesses and serving papers in the case of Frank M. Cattell. The bill of John Teague for $250 was for the same kind of work, so Hanks' claim did not meet with a very favorable reception. He told his side of the story, but the bill was tabled to give the city further time to investigate.

The resolution of attorney Button, striking from the minutes the words "without cost to the city," which is the stone wall between himself and $250, was too weighty for the committee, and it was referred back to the Council without recommendation.

The committee recommended that $20 be allowed with which to test the bituminen which is being laid on Twelfth street, between Broadway and Washington streets, and that the City Auditor, City Attorney and Treasurer report what steps have been taken to collect the $2 per pole tax on telegraph poles.

A $10 interest coupon has been lost, and the committee recommended that the amount be given to the bondholder upon proof of the loss.

It was recommended that $450 be appropriated to connect the Perry street sewer with the east side sewer.

The Western Empire, a periodical, wanted to sell the city 10,000 copies of an edition, because Oakland had been given a "write-up." $450 was the price demanded. Mott suggested a compromise by allowing them $10, but this seemed extravagant to the rest of the committee, and the Western Empire's communication was filed.

The matter of employing a landscape gardener was laid over.

The offer of J. C. Sommers to remove the city garbage for $80 a week was referred to the garbage committee.

The recommendation that Sam Short, stoker of engine No. 1, be allowed pay for fourteen days during which he was sick was laid over.

The report of the City Expert, sent to the Council at the last meeting, was brought out. The City Attorney was asked his opinion, and decided against Kaufman. The committee stood in with Mr. Peirsol, and most of the bills which the report recommended as illegal the committee recommended be paid.

SIGNALS OF WAR.

England and Russia Are Likely to Come to a Clash.

SOME OMINOUS INDICATIONS.

It Looks as if John Bull Will Be In the Lurch.

STOCKS FEEL THE EFFECT.

Armenia and Japan Are the Prime Cause of Trouble.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Nearly all the English newspapers refer seriously to the political crisis, the apparent isolation of Great Britain, and the policy pursued by Russia in the far East, as well as the future steps France may take.

People here are gradually becoming convinced that British diplomacy has been out-maneuvred by Russia, and that, in spite of the denials, the latter country has obtained important concessions from China and is prepared to stop at nothing compel the Japanese to evacuate Chinese territory, in accordance with the terms of the treaty of peace.

In Armenia the situation grows more grave in view of the spread of revolutionary feeling and the fact that England is liable to be left alone any moment to deal with the Sultan and that in the latter event there will very unlikely be reform in Armenia.

The St. James Gazette this afternoon, alluding to the danger ahead, says: "It is [illegible] us not lose time in getting [illegible] and military armamen a in accordance [illegible] of efficiency as circumstances will allow."

It is understood the most important exchange of [illegible] been taking place at the [illegible] although the officials [illegible] to lessen the danger has [illegible] exaggerated.

The general opinion, however, is that Europe may be congratulated if war can be averted.

EFFECT ON STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Evening Post's London cablegram says: The Sultan of Turkey has ordered a four months' internal moratorium, i. e., a government decree granting extension of all debts, private and public, for four months.

Similar recourse was adopted, though on a less extended scale, by the Argentine government two years ago.

This is done mainly to allay the semi-panic on the Constantinople bourse.

All the banks of Turkey are understood to be still meeting obligations as usual.

The tone of the markets here was steadier but there was no business.

Settlement on the Paris bourse next week is anxiously awaited."

ENGLAND ASKS HELP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, had half an hour's conference with Secretary Olney today.

His purpose was to propose in behalf of the British government joint action to a limited extent in Turkey to insure the safety of the citizens of Great Britain and the American residents in that country.

It is believed Secretary Olney has not given an answer to the proposal.

JAPAN AND COREA.

A precise definition of the designs of Japan respecting Corea have been obtained at last by all the powers concerned, for it is assumed that the following cablegram, which was handed Secretary Olney Thursday by the Japanese Minister, has been also sent to all the Japanese legations in Europe.

"In regard to our attitude in Corea you are authorized to declare to the following effect to the Government of the United States:

"Japanese troops are now stationed at Corea to insure tranquility as well as to protect our legation, consulates and subjects, and also to maintain indispensible lines of communication with our army, which is still in occupation of Liao Tung peninsula. The troops intended for the latter purpose are much larger in number than needed.

"The necessity of keeping such troops will, however, cease at the same time of the evacuation of Liao Tung peninsula, and such of the troops will then be withdrawn from Corea.

"The Japanese government hopes the Corean government, having already entered upon a work of reform, may succeed and be able to maintain order and even protect foreigners, even though our troops are withdrawn.

"The Japanese government, having no other designs, is not desirous to prolong the maintenance of troops in Corea.

"Furthermore, we should be extremely gratified if we were relieved from such an obligation.

"Our relations with Corea and the policy of our government is one of non-interference, and our government will gladly share equally with the other powers in the same line of action."

DOODY STILL ON DUTY.

He Challenges the Right of the Council to Order His Discharge.

The Fire Commissioners Appointed Him and on Them He Rolles.

Miles Doody has decided to disregard the ordinance declaring his office to be vacant and is on duty today as usual. He says that the Council has no right to declare vacant the office of first assistant chief of the fire department, and that the matter rests solely with the Board of Public Works.

This morning Doody went to his work as if nothing had happened. When asked what he thought of his position he said: "I hold that I am just as much first assistant as I have been since my appointment. I do not consider that the ordinance has any weight. I was appointed by the Fire Commissioners and I shall not vacate until they discharge me. I believe my position in the matter is the correct one."

Chief Lawton says he does not know what to think. "I am not a lawyer," he said today, "and I cannot be supposed to know the respective jurisdictions of the Board of Works and Council. Doody will have to fight it out. I shall not order him to do anything until sure of my position, but he said this morning that he is ready for a run and will certainly turn out. I have as yet received no notice from anywhere that the office held by Mr. Doody is vacant and until I do I cannot see how I can be expected to take any action in the matter."

City Attorney Piersol is not quite sure of the matter and will look up the law. He told Miles Doody this morning that he (Peirsol) was not at all sure that he would get his pay if he did go to a fire.

Doody's friends claim that Peirsol cannot be consulted regarding the powers of the Board of Works as he is a member of it and that his promise to Doody before election not to vote against him will prevent him ousting the first assistant, if not through.

It is probable that the present complication will ultimately determine the question of the right of the Council men to pass on their own acts.

A STUDENT IS SET UP

He Wants to Be a Doctor but His Wife Strongly Objects.

Mrs Francis Asks Divorce Because She Is Not Supported.

Teresa J. Francis has a grievance against her husband which she will air before Court Commissioner Babcock in the hearing of her suit for a divorce.

Mrs. Francis' husband, Loftus, according to her complaint, is not a good provider. Like many men of strong mental development, Loftus, who has a professional bent, has failed to properly care for the material wants of his household. Loftus, according to his wife, has become very much absorbed in the study of the art of healing. He is well nigh 40 years of age, however, and Mrs. Francis thinks he could be better occupied if he would get out to work and provide for her in a proper manner.

She complains that he has become so wrapped up in his researches along the medical line that he has failed absolutely to support her.

She does not object to his studious habits. She says, however, that they have so seriously interfered with his providing abilities that she can no longer put up with him. She has remonstrated with him on numerous and divers occasions, but has been unable to turn him from his course.

Mrs. Francis filed a suit for divorce a few days ago and today Judge Ogden ordered the case referred to the Court Commissioner to take testimony.

APPROVE THE CANAL.

The Nicaraguan Commission Has Submitted Its Report.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Nicaraguan canal commission through Col. Ludlow, chairman, today submitted to the President a report upon the examination of the route of the canal directed by Congress last session.

Although the report will probably be withheld from public until Congress meets, there is good reason for the belief that generally it finds the canal project entirely feasible and worthy of execution.

It is believed a change has been suggested in the line which will not affect the question of expenditure to any material degree.

FORGAVE HER DAUGHTER.

An Elopement in High Life Is Brought to a Happy Ending.

Mrs. Emma K. Loring, the wealthy San Francisco widow, and Herman C. Braulich, who eloped with her daughter May on October 10th, are reconciled. Mrs. Loring is having trouble with the construction of a building in Piedmont that is being erected from the material purchased at the wreck of the Midwinter fair.

This morning she visited the District Attorney's office, supported by her new son-in-law, to demand a warrant for the arrest of Deputy Sheriff Hitchcock, who she claims has been annoying her.

Hams on Fire.

AMBROSEWF VANQUISHED

Judge Frick Sustains the Decree of the Lower Court.

The Russian Refugee Says He Will Appeal to a Higher Bench.

Dr. S. A. Ambrosewf, the Russian doctor who had an unpleasant Police court experience with the Health Department, has another burden of care upon his shoulders. Today Judge Frick affirmed the judgment of the lower court which convicted Ambrosewf of practicing medicine without a license.

The doctor narrowly escaped falling into serious difficulty with the court this morning when the decision was announced. The judge called Ambrosewf's attention to the repeated continuances that had been granted him and said no further delay would be permitted. The doctor pleaded for more time, but Judge Frick would consent to no more continuances. Then Ambrosewf muttered something about justice and the Supreme Court.

Judge Frick was all ears in a second, but after warning Ambrosewf concluded he had said nothing that was contemptuous.

Ambrosewf claims to be a graduate of a St. Petersburg university. He has also narrated thrilling tales of escape from the terrible privations of Siberian exile. He said he is a political refugee. But the Russian consul declared his credentials as a university graduate are fraudulent. He was refused a license to practice medicine by the State Board of Medical Examiners.

GOLD SHIPMENTS STOP.

Some Heavy Deals Prevent All Exportation of the Metal.

Cotton and Wheat Crops Moving and the Outlook Brightens.

Special Correspondence of the Tribune.

NEW YORK Oct. 26, 1895.

Another week of inactivity in the stock market. Indeed, the dullness seems to have increased. The small outside interest becomes gradually less, and even the "room traders" are becoming inert. The most conspicuous feature of the market is its non-susceptibility to events and influences that would ordinarily affect prices, and especially to such as are of a favorable character. During the week, for instance, the coal companies have advanced the price of anthracite 60 cents a ton and the rail rate for carrying it has also been raised, and yet there has been no corresponding movement to put up the prices of the coalers.

This abatement of speculation on the part of capitalists associated with railroads seems to have become a feature with railroad financiers for at least the time being; and, whatever may have caused it, there is no doubt that it has had its influence in producing the present dullness of the market. Certain other movements have been favorable, such as the increasing exports of wheat and cotton and a negotiation by the Pennsylvania Railroad which will send to Europe a large amount of bonds, and an improvement in the net earnings of the railroads as compared with last year, and yet these things happen without any improving effect upon the market and with no increase in speculation

It can hardly be said that the inactivity is due to any unfavorable factors connected with intrinsic conditions. In fact, there are no such factors of any moment, and it is, perhaps, due to that fact that the "bears" are almost as languid as the "bulls." The dullness may perhaps be chiefly attributable to mere speculative tactics on the part of the larger operators They have deemed it prudent to get out of large lines of stocks at the late largely advanced prices, and desire an opportunity to get them back at a lower range of values. There are indications in certain stock of manipulations by parties associated with the management of the companies to neglect them and reduce their price from no reason connected with the real position of the properties, but rather contrary wise Indeed the market has been more or less subjected to this squeezing treatment for some weeks past, which has not only discouraged outside buying, but also produced already some considerable decline in prices.

The only factors that can be regarded as untavorable for the moment are the upward tendency in foreign exchange and the dangers of an outbreak in the "Kaffir" shares at London and Paris. At Paris, there has already been a heavy fall in those stocks, but it is hoped that the reported intervention of the Rothschilds may prevent the occurrence of any serious form of panic At London, however, there is no such protection, and there apprehension still exists of serious embarrassments at the next Exchange settlement In the meantime, our securities on that market suffer in sympathy; but the amounts being returned here are no longer important and are perhaps more than offset by the value of first-class railroad mortgages going out. For the time being the supply of foreign bills seem to fall behind the demand and hence exchange rates have risen again to within a small fraction of the specie-shipping point.

No important outflow of gold, however, is expected, and for these reasons—the export of both cotton and wheat are increasing; the Pennsylvania Railroad has negotiated a loan for $6,000,000, chiefly abroad, to take up an equal amount of maturing bonds of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway, which are held principally in this country; a considerable balance of the foreign proceeds of the sale of $60,000,000 of Anaconda shares has still to be drawn against; and some three or four millions sterling has been placed at the disposal of the New York market upon first-class collateral. These facts would seem to remove all chance of any noteworthy further exports of gold.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Arena is entering upon the seventh year of a highly successful career and among the important contributions of the issue which closes in the sixth is a very suggestive paper by George D. Herron on "The Sociality of the Religion of Jesus"; Senator J. T. Morgan, who is recognized as one of the ablest thinkers in our Senate on international questions and constitutional problems, discusses the silver question; ex-Governor James M. Ashley, an old-time Republican, Congressman and Governor, writes on "The Impending Political Advance"; Professor Frank Parsons, of the Boston University School of Law, contributes a masterly paper on "Municipal Lighting." The coming year will be one of note, as papers have been secured from the leading thinkers of the country.

"Insight of the Goddess" by Harriet Riddle Davis is the title of the serial story that appears in the November Lippincott. It is a charming introductory to an excellent number, for the magazine is crowded from cover to cover with good things.

"The Idler" for November is enjoyable in every sense of the word, and the apt title of the magazine was never better illustrated. A striking feature is "A Romance in Black and White," being a chat with the talented H. R. Millar, who gives nine of his clever sketches in his best style. Evelyn Sharp writes of "The Eldest Sister as She Really is," and Mrs. Humphrey writes of "Our English Girls." J. F. Sullivan contributes an excellent sketch entitled "Chance."

"Some Speculations Regarding Rapid Transit" opens up a wide field in November Cosmopolitan. Pictures are given showing the carriages experimented with and the different motive powers are shown in detail. The bicycle railroad on Long Island is shown in a way that tells the story better than words could. I Zangwill in the same number gives "A Story of the Jews in Rome," and Theodore Roosevelt handles the interesting subject, 'Taking the Police out of Politics," in his own trenchant way.

The great revival of the study of political science in American colleges makes a new work on International Law almost a necessity. The subject grows with the growth of opinion on the principles which should actuate States in their natural intercourse, and every question that arises between them adds something to the stores of cases and precedents from which the rules of international conduct are deduced. Messrs. D. C Heath & Co., Boston, are to publish this month a book called "Principles of International Law," which will embody the latest results of discussion and research and present the subject in a fresh and readable form. Its author is Thomas J. Lawrence, who acted as Professor of International Law in the University of Chicago from its opening in 1892 till the close of 1893.

"The Chain of Gold, or In Channied Rocks," by Stanlish O'Grady. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25. This new Irish writer of adventure tales has not been unhappily likened to the author of Robinson Crusoe. There is a Defoe-like vigor, realism and charm about his work which heightens its pleasure to cultivated readers and does not confine it to boys alone. "The Chain of Gold" has been hailed as "by far the most fascinating boys' book which has appeared for a long time.

Two boys start out on an adventure on the wild, rugged western coast of Ireland. The keynote of their escapade, and the strange adventures and discovery it leads to, is set in these words by the narrator in the opening chapter, which responds immediately to the magic invocation as at the touch of a wizard: "At this time my mind was strangely affected by Poe's weird tales of wonder and mystery. I longed to meet with some such adventure, some rare and curious experience like those which form the theme of his fascinating stories; to light upon and follow some clue leading to hidden treasures or great discoveries." Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York.

"Selections from the Public Speeches and Writings of Abraham Lincoln." By L. E. Chittenden, with portrait and photogravure. 2 vols., $5 The Hon. Lucius E. Chittenden, formerly Registrar of the Treasury, has made a judicious collection of the best speeches and writings of Abraham Lincoln, which contains among other classics the famous Gettysburg address. Among the books published on or about Lincoln there is still a distinct place which this volume fills. All the important public speeches and classic utterances of Lincoln have been gathered together in one compact volume so as to present them in a convenient and complete form.

It need scarcely be said that these speeches and orations of Lincoln are full of historic interest and are also of great literary value. The noble sentiment which pervaded all Lincoln's acts and words is calculated to conserve in us the principles of patriotism and noble citizenship, and as stimulating these principles in American leaders it can be seen that the plan upon which this book is based carries its own commendation. There is a portrait of Lincoln in photogravure. Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York.

DR. M'LEAN RETURNS.

He Refuses to Talk About the Selection of His Successor.

Rev. Dr. McLean returned last night from his Eastern trip after an absence of nearly a month. The object of his trip was principaly to select a successor to himself in the pastorate he has vacated.

On the subject of his successor he is mute. When asked anything regarding a choice he quietly places his finger on his lips and says nothing. He frankly remarked, however, that no new men had been selected for the Theological Seminary.

His trip extended as far as New York. He spent a week in Syracuse at the Congregational ministers' triennial conference and another in Brooklyn, attending the Foreign Mission Society's conclave. On his way home he stopped for a week at Detroit at the meeting of the Home Missionary Society.

This morning he was called to San Francisco to testify in behalf of the plaintiffs in the contest for the Garcelon estate and this afternoon he preached the sermon at the funeral of Miss Ames.

J. B. Richardson, a member of the committe for the selection of Dr. McLean's successor, was seen but like the doctor, refused to talk.

Amidst Profound Mourning Mrs. Gage Is Taken to the Grave.

Magnificent Floral Tributes From Those Who Respected and Loved Her.

The funeral of Mrs. Bessie Fletcher Gage, the wife of Stephen T. Gage, of the Southern Pacific Company, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence of the deceased, 1300 Harrison street. It gave evidence in a most tender manner of the esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew her.

At the hour mentioned the remains were moved from the home of the family to the First Unitarian church, of which society in life the deceased had been one of the most devoted members.

The cortege had been preceded by a vast array of the floral tributes which had everywhere beautified the parlors of the bereaved home and softened the blow which had fallen upon its members. The floral wealth had been artistically arranged on the platform of the church and presented a most beautiful appearance.

There was an indefinite variety of symbols, comprehending among others pillows, wreaths, broken wheels, sprays, bouquets, anchors and sheaves of wheat. One of the most noticeable pieces was an immense cross of purple immortelles, around which was a creeping vine of large yellow roses. Another was a representation of a large vase made of violets, in which stood a bunch of beautiful white chrysanthemums.

The light which streamed through the stained windows of the church fell upon this floral display with a most attractive effect.

The church was filled with people distinguished not alone in social circles but in every walk of life.

The casket containing the remains was borne into the auditorium and placed in front of the pulpit, the pallbearers being George K. De Golia, John Yule, Capt. N. T. Smith, W. W. Spaulding, J. Dunham, John P. Irish, A. J. Treat and A. D. Wilder.

The casket was of solid iron covered with drab cloth

The services were opened by the singing by the choir, the members of which were Frank Coffin, D. P. Hughes J. H Horton and Walter Webb.

As the remains were tenderly brought into the church F. Katzenbach, the organist, played Beethoven's funeral march.

The first selection by the choir was "Lead Kindly Light."

Rev. Horatio Stebbins of San Francisco then read several psalms.

The choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which Rev. Mr. Stebbins paid a tender tribute to the modest worth of the deceased.

The choir now sang "It Singeth Low in Every Heart."

The remains were then borne from the church, the organ meanwhile intoning Chopin's Funeral March.

The interment was private, the remains being consigned to earth in Mount View cemetery.

Among the many at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A D Wilder, School Director Clement and wife, Warren English, John Allman and wife, George W. Baker and wife, N. W. Spaulding and wife.

NEVER SUCH TESTIMONIALS.

What the Mail Brings to the Paine's Celery Compound People.

What excuse is there for not getting strong and well? Paine's celery compound the world's greatest remedy for nervous weakness, can be obtained at any druggists in any city or in any country town. One can get a heartier, healthier appetite, purify the blood and increase its power of feeding the nerves and tissues by taking Paine's celery compound.

It is the greatest invigorator in existence. Convince yourself of the fact. Try it.

Testimonials for publication are taken quite at random by the present proprietors of this great remedy.

The letters are never "doctored."

Titles are never placed before the names of untitled people. Honest but obscure men are never said to be "honorables." Everyday kind of men who have been made well by Paine's celery compound are never paraded before the public as "The Great Mr. So-and-So," or "The Wonderfully Successful Mr. This-and-That." Cases of ordinary sickness are never elaborated into hideous, impossible diseases.

When it happens that the mail brings a heartfelt letter from such a man as State Treasurer Colvin of New York, or Mr. Carlisle's private secretary or Edmund Russell, or Mayor McShane of Montreal, or Rev. Fr. Ouellet, or Commodore Howell, or Mr. Gilman of Judge, or Ida Lewis, or ex-Minister to Austria John M. Francis, or any other widely known man or woman who expressly wishes others to be benefited by his or her experience, the proprietors of Paine's celery compound gladly give such unsolicited testimonials to the public press.

But one person's health is as valuable as another's and in publishing the testimonials of people whom this great remedy has made well and strong, no particular emphasis is put upon such person's official standing.

The world is made up of what Abraham Lincoln called "the plain people." It is they whom Paine's celery compound has most benefited.

Here is a letter (verbatim) just received from Louisa Pierce of Melette, South Dakota:

"I used Paine's celery compound first for rheumatism and found that it helped me very much. I have since used it for nervousness and kidney trouble and have received very much benefit from its use, and consider it one of the best of remedies. Mr. A. Cady's people use it and think they can hardly get along without it in the house. I know of several others that have used it that I am not acquainted with, but one other lady, Mrs. Ondell, used it for nervousness, and it made her well."

There is the testimony of thousands. Paine's celery compound makes people well!

Special Correspondence of the Tribune.

NEW YORK Oct. 26, 1895.

Another week of inactivity in the stock market. Indeed, the dullness seems to have increased. The small outside interest becomes gradually less, and even the "room traders" are becoming inert. The most conspicuous feature of the market is its non-susceptibility to events and influences that would ordinarily affect prices, and especially to such as are of a favorable character. During the week, for instance, the coal companies have advanced the price of anthracite 60 cents a ton and the rail rate for carrying it has also been raised, and yet there has been no corresponding movement to put up the prices of the coalers.

This abatement of speculation on the part of capitalists associated with railroads seems to have become a feature with railroad financiers for at least the time being; and, whatever may have caused it, there is no doubt that it has had its influence in producing the present dullness of the market. Certain other movements have been favorable, such as the increasing exports of wheat and cotton and a negotiation by the Pennsylvania Railroad which will send to Europe a large amount of bonds, and an improvement in the net earnings of the railroads as compared with last year and yet these things happen without any improving effect upon the market and with no increase in speculation.

It can hardly be said that the inactivity is due to any unfavorable factors connected with intrinsic conditions. In fact, there are no such factors of any moment; and it is, perhaps, due to that fact that the "bears" are almost as languid as the "bulls." The dullness may perhaps be chiefly attributable to mere speculative inertia on the part of the larger operators. They have deemed it prudent to get out of large lines of stocks at the last largely advanced prices, and desire an opportunity to get them back at a large range of values. There are indications in certain stock of manipulations by parties associated with the management of the companies to neglect them and reduce their price from no reason connected with the real position of the properties, but rather contrarywise. Indeed the market has been more or less subjected to this squeezing treatment for some weeks past, which has not only discouraged outside buying, but also produced already some considerable decline in prices.

The only factors that can be regarded as unfavorable for the moment are the upward tendency in foreign exchange and the dangers of an outbreak in the "Kaffir" shares at London and Paris. At Paris, there has already been a heavy fall in those stocks, but it is hoped that the reported intervention of the Rothschilds may prevent the occurrence of any serious form of panic. At London, however, there is no such protection, and there apprehension still exists of serious embarrassments at the next Exchange settlement. In the meantime, our securities on that market suffer in sympathy; but the amounts being returned here are no longer important and are perhaps more than offset by the value of first-class railroad mortgages going out. For the time being the supply of foreign bills seem to fall behind the demand and hence exchange rates have risen again to within a small fraction of the specie-shipping point.

No important outflow of gold, however, is expected; and for these reasons—the export of both cotton and wheat are increasing, the Pennsylvania Railroad has negotiated a loan for $6,000,000, chiefly abroad, to take up an equal amount of maturing bonds of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway, which are held principally in this country; a considerable balance of the foreign proceeds of the sale of $60,000,000 of Anaconda shares has still to be drawn against; and some three or four millions sterling has been placed at the disposal of the New York market upon first-class collateral. These facts would seem to remove all chance of any noteworthy further exports of gold.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Arena is entering upon the seventh year of a highly successful career and among the important contributions of the issue which closes in the sixth is a very suggestive paper by George D. Herron on "The Sociality of the Religion of Jesus"; Senator J. T. Morgan, who is recognized as one of the ablest thinkers in our Senate on international questions and constitutional problems, discusses the silver question; ex-Governor James M. Ashley, an old-time Republican, Congressman and Governor, writes on "The Impending Political Advance"; Professor Frank Parsons, of the Boston University School of Law, contributes a masterly paper on "Municipal Lighting." The coming year will be one of note, as papers have been secured from the leading thinkers of the country.

"Insight of the Goddess" by Harriet Riddle Davis is the title of the serial story that appears in the November Lippincott. It is a charming introductory to an excellent number, for the magazine is crowded from cover to cover with good things.

"The Idler" for November is enjoyable in every sense of the word, and the apt title of the magazine was never better illustrated. A striking feature is "A Romance in Black and White," being a chat with the talented H. R. Millar, who gives nine of his clever sketches in his best style. Evelyn Sharp writes of "The Eldest Sister as She Really is," and Mrs. Humphrey writes of "Our English Girls." J. F. Sullivan contributes an excellent sketch entitled "Chance."

"Some Speculations Regarding Rapid Transit" opens up a wide field in November Cosmopolitan. Pictures are given showing the carriages experimented with and the different motive powers are shown in detail. The bicycle railroad on Long Island is shown in a way that tells the story better than words could. I Zangwil in the same number gives "A Story of the Jews in Rome," and Theodore Roosevelt handles the interesting subject, "Taking the Police out of Politics," in his own trenchant way.

The great revival of the study of political science in American colleges makes a new work on International Law almost a necessity. The subject grows with the growth of opinion on the principles which should actuate States in their natural intercourse and every question that arises between them adds something to the stores of cases and precedents from which the rules of international conduct are deduced. Messrs. D. C. Heath & Co., Boston, are to publish this month a book called 'Principles of International Law" which will embody the latest results of discussion and research and present the subject in a fresh and readable form. Its author is Thomas J. Lawrence, who acted as Professor of International Law in the University of Chicago from its opening in 1892 till the close of 1894.

"The Chain of Gold, or In Cranniel Rocks," by Standish O'Grady. Cloth, 12mo., $1 25. This new Irish writer of adventure tales has not been unhappily likened to the author of Robinson Crusoe. There is a Defoe-like vigor, realism and charm about his work which heightens its pleasure to cultivated readers and does not confine it to boys alone. "The Chain of Gold" has been hailed as "by far the most fascinating boys' book which has appeared for a long time.

Two boys start out on an adventure on the wild, rugged western coast of Ireland. The keynote of their escapade, and the strange adventures and discovery it leads to, is set in these words by the narrator in the opening chapter, which responds immediately to the magic invocation as at the touch of a wizard: "At this time my mind was strangely affected by Poe's weird tales of wonder and mystery. I longed to meet with some such adventure, some rare and curious experience like those which form the theme of his fascinating stories; to light upon and follow some clue leading to hidden treasures or great discoveries." Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York.

"Selections from the Public Speeches and Writings of Abraham Lincoln." By L. E. Chittenden, with portrait and photogravure, 2 vols., $5. The Hon. Lucius E Chittenden, formerly Registrar of the Treasury, has made a judicious collection of the best speeches and writings of Abraham Lincoln, which contains among other classics the famous Gettysburg address. Among the books published on or about Lincoln there is still a distinct place which this volume fills. All the important public speeches and classic utterances of Lincoln have been gathered together in one compact volume so as to present them in a convenient and complete form.

It need scarcely be said that these speeches and orations of Lincoln are full of historic interest and are also of great literary value. The noble sentiment which pervaded all Lincoln's acts and words is calculated to conserve in us the principles of patriotism and noble citizenship, and as stimulating these principles in American readers it can be seen that the plan upon which this book is based carries its own commendation. There is a portrait of Lincoln in photogravure. Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York.

Anthony Hope's new Greek novel, "Phroso," about which so much has been said, has been secured by McClure's Magazine. It is said to be the most exciting novel of adventure written for many years. The magazine will also publish Stevenson's last novel, and short stories by Rudyard Kipling, Ian Maclaren, Robert Barr and Bret Harte.

SHE IS WITH ETERNITY.

Amidst Profound Mourning Mrs. Gage Is Taken to the Grave.

Magnificent Floral Tributes From Those Who Respected and Loved Her.

The funeral of Mrs. Bessie Fletcher Gage, the wife of Stephen T. Gage, of the Southern Pacific Company, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence of the deceased, 1300 Harrison street. It gave evidence in a most tender manner of the esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew her.

At the hour mentioned the remains were moved from the home of the family to the First Unitarian church, of which society in life the deceased had been one of the most devoted members.

The cortege had been preceded by a vast array of the floral tributes which had everywhere beautified the parlors of the bereaved home and softened the blow which had fallen upon its members. The floral wealth had been artistically arranged on the platform of the church and presented a most beautiful appearance.

There was an indefinite variety of symbols, comprehending among others pillows, wreaths, broken wheels, sprays, bouquets, anchors and sheaves of wheat. One of the most noticeable pieces was an immense cross of purple immortelles, around which was a creeping vine of large yellow roses. Another was a representation of a large vase made of violets, in which stood a bunch of beautiful white chrysanthemums.

The light which streamed through the stained windows of the church fell upon this floral display with a most attractive effect.

The church was filled with people distinguished not alone in social circles but in every walk of life.

The casket containing the remains was borne into the auditorium and placed in front of the pulpit, the pallbearers being George E. De Golia, John Yule, Capt. N. T. Smith, W. W. Spaulding, J. Dunham, John P. Irish, A. J. Treat and A. D. Wilder.

The casket was of solid iron covered with drab cloth.

The services were opened by the singing by the choir, the members of which were Frank Coffin, D. P. Hughes, J. H. Horton and Walter Webb.

As the remains were tenderly brought into the church F. Katzenbach, the organist, played Beethoven's funeral march.

The first selection by the choir was "Lead Kindly Light."

Rev. Horatio Stebbins of San Francisco then read several psalms.

The choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which Rev. Mr. Stebbins paid a tender tribute to the modest worth of the deceased.

The choir now sang "It Singeth Low in Every Heart."

The remains were then borne from the church, the organ meanwhile intoning Chopin's Funeral March.

The interment was private, the remains being consigned to earth in Mount View cemetery.

Among the many at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilder, School Director Clement and wife, Warren English, John Allman and wife, George W. Baker and wife, N. W. Spaulding and wife.

NEVER SUCH TESTIMONIALS.

What the Mail Brings to the Paine's Celery Compound People.

What excuse is there for not getting strong and well? Paine's celery compound the world's greatest remedy for nervous weakness, can be obtained at any druggist's in any city or in any country town. One can get a healthier, healthier appetite, purity the blood and increase its power of feeding the nerves and diseases by taking Paine's celery compound.

It is the greatest invigorator in existence. Convince yourself of the fact. Try it.

Testimonials for publication are taken quite at random by the present proprietors of this great remedy.

The letters are never "doctored."

Titles are never placed before the names of untitled people. Honest but obscure men are never said to be "prominent." Everyday kind of men who have been made well by Paine's celery compound are never paraded before the public as "The Great Mr. Soandso," or "The Wonderfully Successful Mr. Thisandthat." Cases of ordinary sickness are never elaborated into hideous, impossible diseases.

When it happens that the mail brings a heartfelt letter from such a man as State Treasurer Colvin of New York, or Mr. Carlisle's private secretary, or Edmund Russell, or Mayor M. Shane of Montreal, or Rev. Fr. Ouellett, or Commodore Howell, or Mr. Gilman of Judge, or Mr. Lewis, or ex-Minister to Austria John M. Francis, or any other widely known man or woman who expressly wishes others to be benefited by his or her experience, the proprietors of Paine's celery compound gladly give such unsolicited testimonials to the public press.

But one person's health is as valuable as another's and in publishing the testimonials of people whom this great remedy has made well and strong, no particular emphasis is put upon such person's official standing.

The world is made up of what Abraham Lincoln called "the plain people." It is they whom Paine's celery compound has most benefited.

Here is a letter (verbatim) just received from Louisa Pfau of Melette, South Dakota:

"I used Paine's celery compound first for rheumatism and found that it helped me very much. I have since used it for nervousness and kidney trouble and have received very much benefit from its use. I consider it one of the best of remedies. Mr. A. Cash's people use it and think they can hardly get along without it in the house. I know of several others that have used it that I am not acquainted with, but one other Lady, Mrs. Ondell, used it for nervousness, and it made her well."

There is the testimony of thousands. Paine's celery compound makes people well.

The Electric Bath at Home.

In the coming home electricity will be stored in nice little jars or cells and left at the house each morning, just as the milk is nowadays. It will not be surprising if the entire retinue of servants are some day replaced by a set of lay figures, who will automatically perform every domestic duty according to Edisonian laws.

One of the latest household appliances is an electric bath. It can be fitted up by a combination in series of a hocking coil and a small transformer. The whole is placed in a little marble receptacle above the bath and at one side. The secondary of the transformer moves along sides, and a rod passing to the outside enables the current to be regulated from a maximum to a minimum strength. The primary circuit is provided with an interrupter. The wires of the secondary proceed directly to the electrodes, which are simple plates of metal that can be placed anywhere in the bath by means of suspended hooks. There may also be added an amperometer for continuous and alternating currents, by means of which the strength of the currents can be estimated with strict accuracy.

An electric candle is another novelty that is sure to be popular for the lighting and decorating of dining and other tables. An ingenious device for lighting the candle is provided by placing small pads under the tablecloth and taking the current from them by means of two pinpoints in the base of the candle-stick. The candles, of course, are extinguished on being taken from the table, and are relighted when they are placed in the proper position. They are so arranged that the bulb and glass imitation of a wax candle can be removed, when the candle-stick can be used for any ordinary candle. When used with shades of colored silk the electric candle makes one of the prettiest additions to a dinner table that it is possible to imagine.

Yet another electrical appliance for the house is a radiator for heating, which has been successfully tried in England, and which can be fixed and operated at a ridiculously low cost. A large theatre has been perfectly heated at a cost of seventy-two cents an hour, and it is calculated that an ordinary house can be perfectly warmed for ten cents a day. So you see the possibilities of electricity in the household are quite beyond all raortal imagination.—House Furnishing Review.

The Electric Bath at Home.

In the coming home electricity will be stored in nice little jars or cells and left at the house each morning, just as the milk is nowadays. It will not be surprising if the entire retinue of servants are some day replaced by a set of lay figures, who will automatically perform every domestic duty according to Edisonian laws.

One of the latest household appliances is an electric bath. It can be fitted up by a combination in series of a hocking coil and a small transformer. The whole is placed in a little marble receptacle above the bath and at one side. The secondary of the transformer moves along sides, and a rod passing to the outside enables the current to be regulated from a maximum to a minimum strength. The primary circuit is provided with an interrupter. The wires of the secondary proceed directly to the electrodes, which are simple plates of metal that can be placed anywhere in the bath by means of suspended hooks. There may also be added an amperemeter for continuous and alternating currents, by means of which the strength of the currents can be estimated with strict accuracy.

An electric candle is another novelty that is sure to be popular for the lighting and decorating of dining and other tables. An ingenious device for lighting the candle is provided by placing small pads under the tablecloth and taking the current from them by means of two pinpoints in the base of the candle-stick. The candles, of course, are extinguished on being taken from the table, and are relighted when they are placed in the proper position. They are so arranged that the bulb and glass imitation of a wax candle can be removed, when the candle-stick can be used for any ordinary candle. When used with shades of colored silk the electric candle makes one of the prettiest additions to a dinner table that it is possible to imagine.

Yet another electrical appliance for the house is a radiator for heating, which has been successfully tried in England, and which can be fixed and operated at a ridiculously low cost. A large theatre has been perfectly heated at a cost of seventy-two cents an hour, and it is calculated that an ordinary house can be perfectly warmed for ten cents a day. So you see the possibilities of electricity in the household are quite beyond all mortal imagination.—House Furnishing Review.

Now that all the ground has been cut from under the feet of the prize fighters they have no longer any standing room. These rampart braggarts have attracted a great deal of attention of late. They have loaded the telegraph wires with their windy messages until there is now a strong suspicion in the public mind that these fellows are arrant cowards of the baser sort. These are the last days of pugilism.

As much as $70,000 had been raised at the close of yesterday to bring the National Republican Convention to San Francisco next year. There is little doubt that $100,000 can be obtained and perhaps more. The financial side of the question is now made secure. But if any one man turns the scale against San Francisco, it will be Quay, who wants the convention held in Pittsburg, where this adroit politician could get in his best work.

The effect of the recent earthquake in Indiana was to raise a number of small streams so that they were bank-full. After one of the great earthquakes that occurred in California several years ago a number of small streams flowing out of the Coast Range that had gone nearly dry were raised to such a height that it was hardly safe for a horse and buggy to cross them. The sources of the springs had been well shaken up, and new crevices were made for the flow of water. This additional flow subsided in a few days.

The humorous sayings of the late President Lincoln are always read with interest. In a recent lecture by Robert J. Ingersoll on Lincoln, he brought forth from his stores these two, which have seldom, if ever, been published

"Lincoln, to satisfy a few fault-finders in the North went to Grant's headquarters and met some Confederate Commissioners. He urged that it was hardly proper for him to negotiate with the representatives who were rebels in arms—that if the South wanted peace, all they had to do was to stop fighting. (Laughter.) One of the Commissioners cited as a precedent the fact that Charles the First negotiated with rebels in arms. To which Lincoln replied that Charles the First lost his head (Laughter.) The conference came to nothing, as Mr. Lincoln expected.

"The Commissioners one of them being Alexander H. Stephens, who, when in good health, weighed about 90 pounds dined with the President and General Grant. After dinner, as they were leaving, Stephens put on an English ulster, the tails of which reached the ground, while the collar was somewhat above the wearer's head. As Stephens went out, Lincoln touched Grant and said: 'Grant, look at Stephens. Did you ever see as little a nubbin with as much shuck?'"

Six Amendments to the Constitution.

The Stockton Mail brings out the half-forgotten fact that there are no less than six constitutional amendments to be submitted to the people at the next general election in this State. One extends the right of suffrage to women; one refers to the liability of stockholders; one defines taxable property; one provides for the manner of holding elections; one relates to cities, counties and towns, and one to municipal corporations.

Only one of these proposed amendments has attracted any special attention. That is the one giving suffrage to women. They have already begun a campaign of education. Clubs and associations have been organized for the creation of public opinion favorable to female suffrage. The fact that work has begun a year in advance of the election indicates that there is to be an earnest and persistent struggle to obtain the franchise.

The prominence given to this one amendment ought not to obscure the importance of the others. Political clubs might well take them up and discuss them on their merits. These propositions go to the question of making in part a new constitution. The old one has had a number of patches, but hardly any more important that those proposed by these amendments.

Mexico for Cuba.

Some of the telegrams touching the attitude of Mexico towards Cuba are to be read with saving doubts. There is no question that the Republicans of Mexico sympathize with the Republicans of Cuba, and are disposed to render them a helping hand. But Mexico has no money to make a descent on Cuba, and no use for the island if it could be had for the asking. It is not a contiguous country. The only bond would be that of a Latin people speaking the same language.

If Mexico wanted more territory there are the five Central American republics, some of which would be far better off as an integral part of the greater republic. But Mexico has avoided war with any of them, even when there seemed to be a sufficient provocation. Moral support, as well as that of the republic on the continent, might go to these struggling Cuban revolutionists. There is not one of these states, so far as is known, that has any sympathy for the Spanish rule in Cuba. But that any great deal of material support will be rendered the Cubans by Mexico for the sake of securing that island, is a fact lacks the support of any facts.

The Cost of Ill Chosen Words.

When the late Leland Stanford was nominated by Governor Perkins as a Regent of the University of California he was heard to say that the appointment would eventually involve a gift of a quarter of a million or so to the university. When the nomination came up in the Senate a great deal of partisan feeling was enlisted against the confirmation. Much of this was seemingly an echo of a foolish and mischievous speech that was made by a graduate of the old College of California at an alumni meeting held at Berkeley. The Senate refused to confirm the nomination.

It is now pretty well known that had no opposition been made to the appointment of Governor Stanford as Regent he never would have established any university at Palo Alto, but would have given some millions of his fortune to the University of California. The cost of a few depreciating words has seldom been exceeded in modern times. Stanford said after his defeat that he would have a university of his own. That determination went a long way to increase the original loss.

Dr. Samuel Merritt was one of the early regents of the University of California. He took great pride in its success. Having more constructive skill than other Regents he was placed at the head of a committee to erect a new college building on the grounds at Berkeley. It was a matter of pride with him to erect the best building for the smallest amount of money. He planned the wooden edifice and furnished the lumber for its construction. It was not shown that he profited in any way by that transaction. But sundry local brains took the matter up in the Legislature, a committee was sent down to investigate.

The whole affair went off in smoke and Merritt never forgot the harsh things that were said of him. He declared that he had been abused for endeavoring to serve the public to the best of his ability and that he would render no further service. Just how much the ill natured attacks made on him cost cannot be estimated to a dollar. But it is known that he had contemplated giving a part of his fortune to the University of California. The fact that a part of it was finally given to another educational institution is a hint at least of what was lost to the institution at Berkeley.

Over against these untoward incidents may be one which might be placed. Some time ago Dr. D. K. Pearsons of Chicago began to distribute some part of his fortune to educational institutions. He offered to give $50,000 to Mount Holyoke college if a like amount were raised by other friends of that institution. They went to work with a will and made such progress that he offered to give $150,000 to the college towards a two hundred thousand endowment if others will add $50,000. The good words embraced in this offer will result in securing the full amount of the proposed endowment. If a few evil words had been spoken probably the whole gift would have been diverted to some other institution.

The Crime and the Verdict.

Durrant has been convicted at last of one of the greatest crimes of the century. It was not an ordinary murder, but one involving some horrible features. Two young girls were inveigled into a church and murdered by the same man. The two crimes were committed seven days apart. The last one was in the mind of the criminal a necessary screen from the guilt of the first. Minna Williams believed that Durrant knew what had become of Blanche Lamont. It might have been no more than a suspicion. But Durrant was evidently afraid it might some day culminate in an open accusation. And yet this girl suffered herself to be enticed by the same man to enter a church from which the other had never been seen to come out alive. Once within the church the fate of the second girl was sealed. The only actual witnesses of the crime were dead. But "murder will out."

Durrant had neither robbery nor malice as a motive for the crimes. Murder was a secondary result. The gratification of lust was the inspiring motive. A felony once committed there must be no witnesses. The man was sunk in the brute. There was no apparent compunction of conscience. He could go to the place where the murders had been committed, the coolest man in all the crowd. The brute who had violated innocent girls and then strangled them that no accusing voice might be lifted against him, was not to be put out of countenance by any recital of details. The stolid composure of the beast whose humanity had been sunk counted for little. The man who could commit such crimes seemed to live apart from the consciousness of his guilt, as many other great criminals have in other times.

The verdict satisfies the community by its justice. There could be no other consistent with the evidence brought out on the trial. Justice in this instance has not been hindered in overtaking the criminal. Death will be a small expiation for such revolting crimes. The sooner the drama closes the better. The public has had enough of it. The trial for the second crime will excite far less interest. But the verdict can hardly be otherwise than guilty. The same hand in both, the same verdict carrying the single penalty of death. Then the record will end, to be read with wonder and then forgotten by the world.

The Minister of Justice.

District Attorney Barnes, who conducted the prosecution of Durrant, said that he was only "a minister of justice." But it is many a day since more effective work has been done for justice than that performed by this fearless and able lawyer. The case for the prosecution was handled with consummate ability. Not a fact or a circumstance escaped his notice. A more searching examination has seldom been witnessed in any court. When the network of evidence had been woven there was not a loophole of escape. The defense could not break through it.

The final speech of Barnes was a model of clear and logical reasoning, with great felicity of expression. Such opportunities do not come very often to members of the bar. This was the opportunity of a lifetime. He had to deal with one of the most remarkable criminal cases of the century. It was a great plea for justice, followed by a verdict that must satisfy the prosecution and the community.

Jingoism and War.

Senator Chandler's prediction that at no distant day the United States will be forced into a war with Great Britain will strike many as a sort of jingo inspiration. Chandler himself gives no good reason for any such result. As a defensive war he says "it should be welcomed." While there were some grievances growing out of the raids made upon our commerce by British built cruisers during the late civil war, these have no effect at present on the public mind. Great Britain paid the bill for damages.

Since that event the two nations have been coming gradually nearer each other. They have the same language and the same spirit is invested in their laws and institutions. What under the heavens is there to fight about? The Monroe doctrine has not yet furnished any occasion for war. If one should occur the United States could reach over and take Canada by way of reprisal. But it is a question if that country, with its immense debt, is worth annexing.

This country has no entangling alliances. It has raised no questions about the fortunes of Japan and China. It simply demands fair play for all Republican States of North and South America. The Venezuela question is one of territorial boundaries and at most it is not large enough to engender a war. Senator Chandler manages to attract attention by utterances that have in them the sound of war. But there is no concurrent response worthy of any record. Flippant talk about war may to some extent inflame a war spirit. The most significant fact is that there is very little of that spirit in the country.

The Regents have decided that instead of one building to serve for the affiliated colleges in San Francisco, a group of buildings will be required of not less than three. Law, medicine, dentistry and pharmacy could not well be brought under one roof. Separate buildings may not be so imposing as a single edifice, but the facilities for good work would be far greater.

Rev. Dr. McLean, pastor of Plymouth church and president of the Theological Seminary, has returned from his eastern tour. The main object of his journey was to find a pastor for the vacant pulpit of the First Congregational church of this city. It may be assumed that he has found the man, and for the very best reasons will not give the name to the public until the preliminary business has been settled.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

Darkness prevailed in Stamford, Ct., Wednesday night, all on account of an eel that got into the water supply pipe of the electric light plant and cut off the water. It took two hours to catch the eel, and meanwhile the street cars were stalled and the play at the opera house had to be abandoned for want of light.

There is a banana plantation in Cuba, covering an area of fifty square miles, containing on an average 2,500,000 trees, and keeping in constant employment 2500 persons. A fleet of twenty-six steamers is required to transport the fruit to the United States. The banana is fast superseding the sugar cane in the West Indies. Its cultivation pays where that of the cane did not. The conquest of the banana has made over the appetites of races who a few years ago had never tasted it is quite as remarkable and far more rapid than that formerly made by the potato.

Edgar Saltus had almost dropped out of public sight until the news of his marriage was published recently. His career in literature was brilliant, but short-lived. Possessing a fine education, a brilliant mind and the advantages of travel, Mr. Saltus had the power to do American literature valuable service. He chose, however, to destroy his opportunities by indulging in offensive eroticism, and his work has proved itself ephemeral.

Although Hetty Green, with all her $60,000,000, dresses as cheaply as a shop girl with $5 a week, she impressed the Washington reporter who saw her in the national capital the other day as a woman who would shine in fine raiment. "The truth is," says the Post, "that Mrs. Green is not only attractive, but exceedingly fine looking. In manner she is as vivacious and sprightly as a young girl, and to look at her rosy cheeks and her hair, with hardly a trace of silver in it, one would not believe that she had celebrated her sixty-first birthday. Arrayed in rich garments she would attract much attention."

A small, quick-moving man, with an alert face and wearing a cap and long overcoat, got on a Pennsylvania railroad train at a suburban station recently. In his hand he carried two long square cases, which he held in front of him a little cautiously, as if not anxious to jar them. The car he had entered was well filled, almost exclusively with ladies going to the city on shopping expeditions. He evidently did not care to cross the platform to another car, but sat beside a lady who thought it rather odd that he should keep the two grimy-looking cases in his lap, instead of placing them on the floor. At Powelton avenue somebody got on who recognized in the person of the man with the cases a practical engineer in charge of some extensive excavating operations, and remarked, "What have you got there, old man?" "Oh, only twenty pounds of dynamite," was the response.—Philadelphia Times.

The full extent of the "trolly party" infatuation and the number of persons who have engaged in it is shown by the receipts of the four companies up to October 1. The amount received by the People's Traction Company is $17,000; the Philadelphia, $10,000; Electric, $20,000; and Hestonville, $3,000, or $70,000 in all. The average amount received from each participant is estimated at ten cents, and this would show 700,000 persons who indulged in this amusement.

Universities are not made. They grow. Rich endowments, fine buildings, spacious grounds, may be provided in a day. They are not a university. They alone do not and cannot make one. They may, however, be the means of promoting its growth, or they may be merely the crown of its completion. Some universities—a few have such equipments at the very beginning, and have to grow up to them; if we may properly speak of growing up to what, after all, are inferior things. Most, however, begin with meagre material equipment, and have to grow to greatness without it. Then, when their worth is seen and known of all men, the tardy benefactions come.—New York Tribune.

Lord Scully, or as he is familiarly known, "Rackrent" Scully of Ireland, has moved to New York in order to take out naturalization papers. Scully is well known out West, as he is the owner of many thousand acres of land in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. His action in moving to the United States to become a citizen is for the purpose of removing all doubts about his right to acquire more land. Scully owns in Illinois from 80,000 to 100,000 acres. Much of this land was acquired from the Government at $1.25 an acre. Large tracts were obtained at 50 cents to $1 an acre through the use of soldiers' land warrants. He bought lands in Illinois until prevented by the adoption of a new law. Several attempts have been made to compel him to pay an income tax, but without results. One case was taken to the Supreme Court before he won. He now owns more than a whole county in Nebraska, slices of Missouri counties and sections in other States.—Philadelphia Press.

A CHALLENGE

To the Contra Costa Water Company, Oakland:

Some time ago I had occasion to make a microscopical analysis of the water furnished to the city of Oakland by your company, coming from Lakes Temescal and Chabot.

At your instance I am informed this analysis has been questioned and my reputation placed in a doubtful position.

In order that I may prove to your satisfaction and to that of the general public of the city of Oakland, the absolute correctness of my conclusions that the water supplied by your company IS UNFIT FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION, I now make the following proposition:

I will meet any expert appointed by you and proceed to Lakes Temescal and Chabot, where we will procure samples of water from each lake, under the usual precautions taken relative to any analysis under dispute. Having obtained the samples, we will proceed to some proper place in the city of Oakland, fitted up as a laboratory, to be selected by your expert and myself—your expert to provide the necessary material for his investigation, and I will do likewise; both investigations to be conducted simultaneously and in the presence of each other. And daily upon leaving the operating room we will seal it up with the dual seals of the experts and place a watchman in charge, that there may be no opportunity for fraud or chicanery by anybody.

The expense of these investigations to be mutual, each side to pay their own expert and any extra expenses to be divided. I will undertake to establish without cavil the absolute correctness of my previous analysis of the waters from Lakes Temescal and Chabot, whereby it was proven without the reason of any doubt to unbiased people that said waters from Lakes Temescal and Chabot are absolutely unwholesome, unhealthy and unfit for human consumption.

In event of your refusing to accept or consider this challenge I shall make a proposition to the authorities of Oakland to name a committee, that I may establish to it the correctness of my previous conclusions regarding the unfitness for human consumption of the water which comes from either Lake Temescal or Chabot.

Respectfully,
THOMAS BOWHILL,

Now that all the ground has been cut from under the feet of the prize fight ers they have no longer any standing room. These unpaid braggarts have attracted a great deal of attention of late. They have loaded the telegraph wires with their windy messages until there is now a strong suspicion in the public mind that these fellows are the most cowards of the heart sort. This is the last days of pugilism.

As much as $70 000 had been raised at the close of yesterday to bring the National Republican Convention to San Francisco next year. There is little doubt that $100 000 can be obtained and perhaps more. The financial side of the question is now made secure. But if any one man turns the scale against San Francisco it will be Quay who wants the convention held in Pittsburg, where this adroit politician could get in his best work.

The effect of the recent earthquake in Indiana was to raise a number of small streams so that they were bank-full. After one of the great earthquakes that occurred in California several years ago a number of small streams flowing out of the Coast Range that had gone nearly dry were raised to such a height that it was hardly safe to a horse and buggy to cross them. The sources of the springs had been well shaken up and new crevices were made for the flow of water. This additional flow subsided in a few days.

The humorous sayings of the late President Lincoln are always read with interest. In a recent lecture by Robert J Ingersoll on Lincoln, he brought forth from his stores these two which have seldom if ever, been published.

Lincoln to satisfy a few fault finders in the North went to Grant's headquarters and met some Confederate Commissioners. He urged that it was hardly proper for him to negotiate with the representatives who were rebels in arms—that if the South wanted peace all they had to do was to stop fighting. (Laughter.) One of the Commissioners cited as a precedent the fact that Charles the First negotiated with rebels in arms. To which Lincoln replied that Charles the First lost his head. (Laughter.) The conference came to nothing as Mr Lincoln expected.

"The Commissioners one of them being Alexander H of Stephens who, when in good health weighed about 90 pounds dined with the President and General Grant. After dinner as they were leaving Stephens put on an Ulstah under the tails of which reached the ground while the collar was somewhat above the wearer's head. As Stephens went out, Lincoln touched Grant and said 'Grant look at Stephens. Did you ever see as little a nubbin with as much shuck?'"

Six Amendments to the Constitution.

The Stockton Mail brings out the half-forgotten fact that there are no less than six constitutional amendments to be submitted to the people at the next general election in this State. One extends the right of suffrage to women, one refers to the liability of stockholders one defines taxable property one provides for the manner of holding elections, one relates to cities counties and towns and one to municipal corporations.

Only one of these proposed amendments has attracted any special attention. That is the one giving suffrage to women. They have already begun a campaign of education. Clubs and associations have been organized for the creation of public opinion favorable to female suffrage. The fact that work has begun a year in advance of the election indicates that there is to be an earnest and persistent struggle to obtain the franchise.

The prominence given to this one amendment ought not to obscure the importance of the others. Political clubs might well take them up and discuss them on their merits. These propositions go to the question of making in part a new constitution. The old one has had a number of patches but hardly any more important than those proposed by these amendments.

Mexico for Cuba.

Some of the telegrams touching the attitude of Mexico towards Cuba are to be read with saving doubts. There is no question that the Republicans of Mexico sympathize with the Republicans of Cuba and are disposed to render them a helping hand. But Mexico has no money to make a descent on Cuba, and no use for the island if it could be had for the asking. It is not a contiguous country. The only bond would be that of a Latin people speaking the same language.

If Mexico wanted more territory there are the five Central American republics some of which would be far better off as an integral part of the greater republic. But Mexico has avoided war with any of them even when there seemed to be a sufficient provocation. Her moral support as well as that of every republic on the continent, might well go to these struggling Cuban revolutionists. There is not one of these republics, so far as is known, that has any sympathy for the Spanish rule in Cuba. But that any great amount of material support will be rendered to the Cubans by Mexico for the purpose of securing that island, is a fact that lacks the support of any known facts.

The Cost of Ill Chosen Words.

When the late Leland Stanford was nominated by Governor Perkins as a Regent of the University of California he was heard to say that the appointment would eventually involve a gift of a quarter of a million or so to the university. When the nomination came up in the Senate a great deal of partisan feeling was enlisted against the confirmation. Much of this was seemingly an echo of a foolish and mischievous speech that was made by a graduate of the old College of California at an alumni meeting held at Berkeley. The Senate refused to confirm the nomination.

It is now pretty well known that had no opposition been made to the appointment of Governor Stanford as Regent he never would have established his university at Palo Alto but would have given some millions of his fortune to the University of California. THE GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Stories and Scandals Gleaned by the Omnipresent Meddler.

I've been a diligent Meddler this week and poked my retrousse nose into a great many things that were no concern of mine, but I hope that you, at least, will forgive me and not blame me for what I do for your sake.

We have been rather dull socially. Things are not exactly booming on this side of the bay at least, though we Rhine over to the other side quite frequently, and between both places manage to keep from utter stagnation. I was at the Bentonians on the opening night this week and saw a lot of people well known to Oaklanders. The Bentonians occupied a lodge, the Hobart, the great Hobarts—dressed like ordinary folks, for all their money—were in a box, as were Mr. and Mrs Garrett Ferguson nee Sophie Upstager, who were married but a week ago, General Graham and his party, whom we dimly light to have on our calling list. I occupied two boxes, which were draped with the stars and stripes. Gorgeous Greenwood and a number of Yoomis, men were in a box, so you see we were by no means unrepresented. I predict for the troupe over here a very brilliant opening—quite as brilliant as "Trilby."

As for private entertainments, there have been quite a number. One was the luncheon given by Mrs Charles D. Pierce on Monday, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Emily Bartholomew, it being her seventy-first birthday. The dining room was artistically decorated with smilax and ferns and the table was beautified with its delicate covering of lace-edged and green, the decorations being violets and maidenhair fern. Each guest received as a souvenir a cut glass vase with a bunch of Neapolitan Violets. Covers were laid for twelve and the ladies present were Mrs. Blake-Alverson, Mrs. West, Mrs. Blue, Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Dow, Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. Purves, Mrs. Hewlett, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Meehan and Mrs. Mowbray of Placerville. Before leaving the dining room all united in singing "Auld Lang Syne," led by Mrs. Blake-Alverson. After the repast a pleasant hour was spent in reminiscences and old-time songs.

Yesterday there was a very charming luncheon in Berkeley, but it was almost too late to get full particulars, so you will have to wait a week for them. Mrs. Frank Wilson was the hostess. There were fifteen covers, and I do not have to wait to tell you how charming it all must have been. We have all been to Mrs. Wilson's. She entertains most charmingly. Do you remember that dance in the barn, and how jolly it was?

Tonight there is to be a very novel entertainment at Mrs. Hume's in Piedmont. You know Miss Hume is at Stanford University? I'll bet she wears those because the college color suits her gypsy-like complexion so much better than Berkeley's blue and gold. At any rate go south she would. She united recently with the K. A. T. girls, a female fraternity, with a branch at Berkeley, where they are called the cats. The fraternity colors are black and yellow and look like Tammany, another reason for calling them cats, and then they scratch so. Miss Hume will entertain the girls of the fraternity from Berkeley as well as Stanford. Along toward the close of the evening there is to be an initiation and then some unsuspecting girl will learn to meow like a cat. I am sure it will be an unique evening, without any more real college girls don't mind that. I think I will call up late Mrs. Hume's window and see what an initiation is like anyway. I imagine a girl's initiation is pretty thin, no danger of broken bones and distorted spines there.

Mrs. M. P. Jones of 1120 Pine street, who is Mrs. H. M. A. Miller's mother, will give a reception and tea in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Miller, on November 7th. It is to be a very elaborate affair. I believe there are about 400 cards out and the hours are from 4 to 6. The crowd is large but the Jones house is larger and quite ample to undertake all the extra strain. Twenty ladies will assist Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Miller to receive.

Several of them will be from Oakland. A great many of the cards have been received here and I am sure there will be quite a formidable demonstration.

November 19th, Miss Alexander and Mr. Webb will be married at the home of the bride. She lives on Twelfth street near Minnie Campbell's home. The wedding will be quite a brilliant affair, I have no doubt. I am told it is to be one of the biggest home weddings we have seen for a long while. It will be an event in Jewish circles. There are to be seventy-five guests.

And just here let me tell you a funny story I heard about a wedding. At the Priest-Fine wedding just after the doors had been closed, and when everybody was in the way, a rattling was heard at the closed door. One of the church officials noticed it and opened the door. There stood a couple—the girl in a long white brocaded satin gown, and the man faultlessly attired. As the lady had left her wrap in the carriage she stood there very tall and stately. The church official did not know Miss Priest, but guessing from the gown that it was her, he gave the signal for the wedding march. It began and to its notes the couple came down the aisle in about two minutes. It was dreadfully embarrassing for them of course, but they made the best of it and smiled a good deal. They have smiled more broadly about it since. The joke was that the couple have been married three years, but the wife did have on her wedding gown, which lightened the illusion very much, when the real wedding party did arrive they had a hard time getting in. The official couldn't understand why there should be two brides. And to this day he does not.

November 7th the Elks will give a dramatic entertainment, followed by a supper. It is to be ladies' night with a vengeance. We expect to have lots of fun.

Miss Agnes Porter's wedding to Mr George Holste was very pretty. The ceremony took place in East Oakland last Saturday afternoon. It was a home wedding and the decorations, pink and green, prominent in which were a wedding bell stylishly draped, a floral fence that cut off the bay window, and various other novel ideas for flowers. Miss Porter was married in a travelling gown of grey silk. Her maid of honor was Miss Mabel Gillette, and Mr. Thayer, a friend of the family, gave her away. Only recently the Porter family moved out from Philadelphia. There was a large room full of presents, many of them from the East. The wedding journey was to Santa Cruz, after they will be at home in Oakland.

The date is set for Minnie Campbell's wedding. It is to be the 4th of December. I do hope I shall be asked.

Miss Hilfern was married last week at 562 Twenty-first street. There were eighty guests, an elaborate breakfast and a nuptial mass.

Many of the French classes are organizing again this winter. I am surprised that anything which was a mere fad should live for a second winter. Mademoiselle Hitchcock has her French class in East Oakland again this year. She has the same members with a few new ones added. They give monthly French teas where nothing but French is spoken. Mrs. French is one of the new members. Being the second season they should learn something.

Professor E. S. Lamare of Berkeley is also giving lectures in French to ladies. Yesterday he gave one at the home of Mrs. David Bixler in San Francisco. His subject was "The Ideal-ism and the Picturesque in the History of France."

There have been a number of church charitable entertainments. They will trip on each others' heels until Christmas time. There will be fairs, festivals, fads and fads of all kinds. Last night the First Congregational church had what they termed a birthday party. Everyone sent a little gift, in which was a cent for each year of his or her life. Each one was accompanied by a verse, and some of the verses were very clever and very funny, and all were read. On Wednesday evening the Church of the Advent in East Oakland, presided over by the genial Percy V. Marshall Law the same sort of a party was held. The receipts were quite large and Mr Law was much pleased.

On the 8th and 9th of November there will be a Mother Goose entertainment at Washington hall, Twelfth street and Sixth avenue, East Oakland. It will be given by the children of the Pilgrim Congregational church Sunday school and numbers. It is called "Mother Goose Up to Date" and Grasshopper Cantata. Sixty children, twenty-eight grasshoppers and thirteen robins will take part. There will be fairies and brownies, and the children from all over town will come clear up to see it. There will be brownie choruses, medodies, and the song, "Who Killed Cock Robin?" as well as the feast of lanterns to be eight girls in costume, and a drill and dance by the flower girls in costume. Among the dear old characters will be Mistress Mary, Old King Cole and his fiddlers, Mother Goose herself and all the other dear people even the old folks love. They say the rehearsals here are wonderfully clever at it and carefully drilled.

Last Saturday hosts of Oakland people went over to the football—the first of the season. We all wore crimson and white chrysanthemums, or violets and yellow chrysanthemums, and were prepared to be satisfied either way, because Oakland and Berkeley are such neighbors. The Berkeley boys won and the blue and gold waved.

The Berkeley Daily suspended the editor and business manager of "Josh," that clever comic weekly of theirs, because, forsooth, they gayed the military powers. I presume the criticisms were quite just because they were so strongly objected to. Truth hurts.

I think it a shame, because to deny freedom of the press. Why shouldn't the students express themselves?

Miss Dora Crail has gone to Butte county to visit relatives. She will be absent a month.

Mrs. George Uhl and Mrs. Adolph Uhl have returned from Europe, where they passed nine months. They are at present housekeeping on Harrison street.

A great many of the old timers attended the funeral of the old artist, Ferdinand Richardt, this week. He was a dear old man, very talented, and not half appreciated. He had been painter to the court of Denmark in his youth.

That was an interesting musicale that took place yesterday at the Y. W. C. A. in this city. Miss Mary Moise sang charmingly, and at the concert for the benefit in the Fruitvale chapel Mrs. Bessie Paxton, who has an admirable voice, sang beautifully. Mrs. Edgerton recited a number of times. Miss Rush and Sam Mayer also took part.

At the charity ball Thursday evening for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange in San Francisco there was a number of Oaklanders. Mrs. Henry Wetherbee of Fruitvale was interested in the success of the undertaking.

So the name of the new paper is to be the "Oakland Saturday Night," though I suppose we will never call it anything but "Mollie Connors' paper," she is sure to put much of her own strong personality in its columns.

There are some very clever newspaper men back of her, all ready to help—she and her brother "Jack" Connor are both well known in the newspaper world, and as they are both bright and generous to a degree, they are very popular with the fraternity. It would not be a matter of surprise if the paper made a great hit in these holiday times under their management.

And we are all going of course to Grace Carroll's concert. We have listened to her beautiful contralto for others so many times that we will be glad to listen when she sings her way to our hearts herself. Alma Bergland is to sing soprano and Dr. Gilbert Graham is to be the tenor. The Bohemian Glee Club will no doubt make their usual success. I would not wonder if Hamilton hall were crowded with the music lovers, as well as with representatives from the fashionable world.

The women have not been idle. In Berkeley they have a new Citizen Suffrage Club, which fills the place of the Political Equity Club of Oakland, and is composed of much the same sort of people. They are to work for the constitutional amendment. The officers are Mrs. Judge Haight, president; Mrs. R. P. Thomas, vice-president; Mrs. William Keith, secretary; Mrs. Hanks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lee, treasurer, Mrs. Lange and Mrs. Chick, auditors. Mrs. Martin Kellogg, Mrs. Dr. Bentley, Mrs. Weed, Mrs. Spiers, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Bradley are among the members. The first meeting was at the home of Mrs. Weed. Rev. Eliza Wilkes has moved to Berkeley and will assist in the work.

A great many Oaklanders have visited Miss Helen Hyde's exhibition of paintings at Vickery's this week. The pictures are very beautiful and show soul. They are ambitious and all clever in execution. There are also some good black and whites. Miss Hyde is a niece of Mrs. David Bixler and good things are expected of her.

And now goodnight. I am dreadfully "gapish," as a dear New England friend of mine says, only she pronounces it "gaphish." Perhaps I have made you yawn, too, so a goodnight from

An entertaining feature will be "The Grasshopper Cantata," which, with "Ferris Flower Girls," "The Feast of Lanterns" and "Who Killed Cock Robin?" will make an interesting programme. Ice cream will be served at the close of the entertainment.

Also 300 guests attended the musicale given by the young lady boarders of the Y. W. C. A. Home last evening. Miss Bertie Morris has charge of the decorations, which were very pretty. She was assisted by Miss Anna Briggs, Miss Rita Mylott, Miss Alta Brewster and Miss Sadie Bakes. The programme was of a high class and each number was well rendered. The proceeds from the entertainment will go toward purchasing a piano.

HALLOWEEN WHEEL PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitehead assisted by the Misses Humbright, gave a delightful wheeling party last Monday evening. Although it preceded Hallowe-en, the event was in celebration of jolly festival which is always the occasion of so much merriment and the guests were treated to the surprises and delights common to the eve of All Saints' Day. At an early hour the party left the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead on Fourteenth street and enjoyed a run to Alameda and through several of the well paved avenues of that city, the evening being perfect for wheeling.

The return by moonlight was made without accident, and upon arriving once more at their starting point the guests were regaled with a Hallowe'en supper. The dining room when the guests entered, was dark, save for an immense squash, which having been cut to represent a face, cast a mysterious light over the table from its candle lighted features, making a very effective centre piece.

Cotton doughnuts and surprise sandwiches were only adjuncts to a delicious supper. Appropriate games brought a very pleasant evening to a close. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. O. Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitehead, Mrs. Garner, Miss H. Chamberlain, Miss Pambright, Miss Kathryn Hembright, Miss May Holton, Miss Ada Hasen, Miss Myrtle Rea, Miss Minnie Griffith, Miss Lillie Stone, Miss Clara Hoffman, A. Zimmerman, J. Applegap, W. Greer Harrison of San Francisco, the popular literateur and author, will deliver an address suitable to the occasion and the following well known artists will present to the Oakland public those grand compositions of music and song which for centuries have placed the Sons of the Emerald Isle foremost in the musical and literary world.

SUNSHINE C. E. SOCIAL.

The regular monthly business meeting and social of the Sunshine Y. P. S. C. E. was held Thursday evening, October 31st. About forty young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller on Thirty-fifth street and the business of the society was dispensed with as quickly as possible, as the members had been informed that the programme was to be something exceptional. The social committee then took charge. Dishes of walnuts which were tied together with thread were passed, and when opened were found to contain the fortunes of the holders. Apples were also served in various ways, some being hung between the partners by strings, and others were in a tub of water. Much fun was indulged in at the expense of those who "ducked" for them. Several Hallowe'en games were played, among them being several fortune telling ones. The feature of the evening was a poem written by a friend of the society, which brought in the names of all of the members, and was appreciated by all. Refreshments were served shortly after 11 o'clock, and after a "ghost procession" the young people dispersed, expressing themselves as having passed a delightful evening.

THE BROMWELL CARD PARTY.

A delightful card party was given by Miss Bromwell Friday afternoon as a farewell to her cousin, Miss Converse, who soon leaves for the East. Those present were the Misses Converse, Hewes, Harriet English, Genevieve English, Crellin, Laura Crellin, Bennett, Steel, Sinclair, Stephenson, Hush, Florence Hush, Strong, Regua, Mhoon, Florence Dunham, Harriet Selby, Palmer, Ritter, Mahoney, Jolliffe, Moffitt, Simmons, Rollings, Snell, Kent, Whitney, Moore, McElrath, Holt, Crowell, Knight, Sterrett.

The first prize was awarded Miss Ella Sterrett, Miss Margaret Knight received the second and Miss Libbie Moffitt the third. The home was prettily decorated and the young ladies looked charming in their new autumn gowns.

RELIEF CORPS MUSICALE.

Wednesday evening last the ladies of Appomattox Relief Corps No. 5, gave a pleasant musicale for the benefit of the relief fund at Syndicate Hall on Thirteenth street. Captain Thomas made some humorous remarks by way of introductor, giving a history of the organization of the corps on June 12, 1891. The programme which was well rendered was followed by remarks from Major Elkins, Major E. W. Woodward, Mrs. Eliza Sherard president of Lyon Corps No. 6, and Hugh Aldrich. The "Battle Cry of Freedom" was amusingly travestied by Captain Thomas, the audience joining in the chorus. Refreshments were served in the banquet hall upstairs and dancing followed and brought a pleasant evening to a close.

The programme consisted of the following numbers: Piano solo, Miss H. E. Borland, vocal solo, "O Promise Me," Mrs. McPhail, recitation, "The Way to Heaven," Miss Marie Jacobsen; duo, cornet and trombone, Messrs. C. W. Crabtree and C. Borella, recitation, "Molly," Miss Mabelle Fuller; flute solo, selected, Mr. J. T. Ludlow; vocal solo, "The Skipper," Mr. C. L. Trow.

CURRENT CRITICISM CLUB.

A meeting of the Current Criticism Club of Berkeley was held at the residence of Miss Rickoff on Wednesday afternoon, when "The Manxman," Hall Caine's remarkable book, was discussed. Miss Rickoff read an admirable essay upon the book, which was followed by a paper by Mrs. Kellogg, who described the artistic effect of the word pictures so vividly presented by the author. A critique by Mrs. Quiton was read and followed by discussion and opinions from different points of view by the ladies present. Tea was served and an hour of conversation and criticism on several of the famous books of the day brought a delightful afternoon to a close.

MISS FRANK'S LECTURE.

Miss Ray Frank will deliver the third lecture in her course at Beethoven Hall, corner of Post and Powell streets, San Francisco, on Tuesday, November 5th, at 8:30 P. M.

Walter, Mrs. J. H. Neustadter, Mrs. William Haas, Miss. Louis Sloss, Mrs. Leon Sloss, Mrs. Jacob Voorsanger and a number of others.

A SAPPHIRE WEDDING.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. McKissick gathered at their home in Mountain View cemetery Thursday evening to surprise them on the occasion of the thirty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. The party presented their host and hostess with a beautiful sapphire emblem. Among the guests were: Miss Nellie McKinnon, Miss Ella Newell, Miss Mary Flynn, Miss Katie Newell, W. J. Harrington, Martin McDonald, J. J. McKinnon and A. D. McKinna.

A CHARITY BALL.

The German Ladies' Relief Society have almost completed the arrangements for their annual grand charity ball which they will give at Germania Hall on November 20th. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. A. Kaiser, Mrs. J. Seuberger, Mrs. Charles Boek, Mrs. G. F. Heeseman.

AN A. P. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given by Council No. 4, A. P. A., at Military Hall last Thursday night was a grand success both financially and socially. The opening address by B. Frank Hand was patriotic and strictly to the point and held the attention of the audience until its close. The programme was: Little Miss Irma Gerdes, whistling solo; Mrs. Maud Revalk, song; Baby Mearns, song; Frank Purle, solo; Miss Olga Turner, recitation; Military Hall quartette; Harry Gelder, ornamental club swinging.

After the entertainment dancing was indulged in to a late hour. The committee of arrangements consisted of Messrs. Faulk, Buttner, Turner, Williams and Fell.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

A merry party assembled last night to surprise Messrs. Gus. Kroenke and Rudolph Dalldorf, who have just returned from an extended trip through Europe.

A serenade was the first feature of the programme and the effect was a surprise in every way. The brass band of eight pieces rendered effective music and many were the "Welcome homes" that greeted the old-time friends. After general merry-making and a sumptuous repast, the party was well night exhausted as the small hours were approaching, so all made their way homeward, expressing "many happy days" to the new arrivals.

Among those participating were the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. Kroenke, Mr. and Mrs G. Moynihan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Schlueter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Meese, Miss Anna Diersson, Miss Minnie Norman, Miss Adela Brandes, Miss Bertha Bastain, Miss Georgia Block, Miss Mota Dalldorf, Miss Martha Frey, Miss Louise Jurgens, Miss Lila Kroenke, Miss Georgia Moynihan, Messrs. In our local columns yesterday there was published an account of a Salvation divorce in Oakland. Today we print the announcement of a Salvation hallelujah wedding. Who's ahead, Booth or the devil?—Haywards Mail.

Paderewski and the Cherry.

Look in Town Talk this week for the story about the great pianist and the cherry that he did not eat—how a lady adorer had a relic set with diamonds, only to make the heartrending discovery that it wasn't a relic after all. The Jersey Lily and her soap "ad" are commented upon also. You will find reviews of this week's musical doings in today's Town Talk, also a dramatic tale of frontier life entitled "A Rough Pastelle." There is an essay on bloomers, too, a very sensible article—we refer to the essay, please, not to the bloomers. Portraits are given of beautiful Caroline Misked Hoyt, Marie Anderson in "Charley's Aunt," and the front page is embellished by a fine halftone of the late Professor J. H. Rosewald, a sketch of whose career is also given. The drama receives its customary share of attention and Portland, Alameda Oakland, Berkeley and Santa Barbara are heard from. The Sadler-Denbigh wedding in Berkeley; the Friday Night Cotillion, Merriman Literary and Westgate musical functions in Alameda are noted by our correspondents. Politics are discussed forcibly in the editorial department and the whole issue is up to date in every respect.

Mrs. Dr. Stockham's Return.

The many friends of that sterling physician, Mrs. Dr. Wilson Stockham, will be glad to know she has returned to Oakland and has resumed practice at room 1, Plater block, where she may be consulted from 8 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 4 P. M., or at her residence, 766 Nineteenth street. Many years of experience in the treatment of cancers and tumors.

New Silks for the Fall Season.

There are very few stores in San Francisco that can claim they carry as large a variety of silks at such reasonable prices as we do. This season has been very prolific in producing some very startling effects, which are considered very recherche. Plaid Silks are all the rage for Waists. New Persian Brocades and Chameleon Stripes sell well. The Dresden Pattern on all Evening Shades of Taffeta and also of Chiffon seem to be a predominating feature.

In Black we are showing some grand Damasses—immense designs—very appropriate for Skirts. Some Brocaded Satin effects on Gros Grain ground, which make elegant Walking Suits.

THE GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Stories and Scandals Gleaned by the Omnipresent Meddler.

I've been a diligent Meddler this week and poked my retrousse nose into a great many things that were no concern of mine, but I hope that you, at least, will forgive me and not blame me for what I do for your sake.

We have been rather dull socially. Things are not exactly booming on this side of the bay at least, though we skim over to the other side quite frequently, and between both places manage to keep from utter stagnation. I was at the Bostonians on the opening night this week and saw a lot of people well known to Oaklanders. The Hellmans occupied a loge, the Hobart—the great Hobart—dressed like ordinary folks, for all their money—were in a box, as were Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Ferguson nee Sophia Eppinger, who were married but a week ago. General Graham and his party, whom we delight to have on our calling list, occupied two boxes, which were draped with the stars and stripes. George Greenwood and a number of young men were in a box, so you see we were by no means unrepresented. I predict for the troupe over here a very brilliant opening—quite as brilliant as "Trilby."

* * *

As for private entertainments, there have been quite a number. One was the luncheon given by Mrs. Charles D. Pierce on Monday, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Emily Bartholomew, it being her seventy-first birthday. The dining room was artistically decorated with smilax and ferns and the table was beautiful with its delicate covering of lavender and green, the decorations being violets and maiden-hair fern. Each guest received as a souvenir a cut glass vase with a bunch of Neapolitan violets. Covers were laid for twelve and the ladies present were Mrs. Blake-Alverson, Mrs. West, Mrs. King, Mrs. Coolbaugh, Mrs. Dow, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Purves, Mrs. Hawkett, Mrs. Bills, Mrs. Meehan and Mrs. Mowrey of Placerville. Before leaving the dining room all united in singing "Auld Lang Syne," led by Mrs. Blake-Alverson. After the repast a pleasant hour was spent in reminiscences and old-time songs.

* * *

Yesterday there was a very charming luncheon in Berkeley, but it was almost too late to get full particulars, so you will have to wait a week for them. Mrs. Frank Wilson was the hostess. There were fifteen covers, and I do not have to wait to tell you how charming it all must have been. We have all been to Mrs. Wilson's. She entertains most charmingly. Do you remember that dance in the barn, and how jolly it was?

* * *

Tonight there is to be a very novel entertainment at Mrs. Hume's in Piedmont. You know Miss Hume is at Stanford University? I tell her she went there because the college color suits her gypsy-like complexion so much better than Berkeley's blue and gold. At any rate, go south she would. She united recently with the K. A. T. girls, a female fraternity, with a branch at Berkeley, where they are called the cats. The fraternity colors are black and yellow and look like Tammany, another reason for calling them cats, and then they scratch so. Miss Hume will entertain the girls of the fraternity from Berkeley as well as Stanford. Along toward the close of the evening there is to be an initiation and then some unsuspecting girl will learn to meow like a cat. I am sure it will be an unique evening, without any men. But college girls don't mind that. I think I will climb up to Mrs. Hume's window and see what an initiation is like anyway. I imagine a girl's initiation is pretty thin, no danger of broken bones and distorted spines there.

* * *

Mrs. M. P. Jones of 1120 Pine street, who is Mrs. H. M. A. Miller's mother, will give a reception and tea in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Miller, on November 7th. It is to be a very elaborate affair, I believe, there are about 400 cards out and the hours are from 4 to 6. The crowd is large but the Jones house is larger and quite ample to undertake all the extra strain. Twenty ladies will assist Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Miller to receive.

Several of them will be from Oakland. A great many of the cards have been received here and I am sure there will be quite a formidable demonstration.

* * *

November 16th, Miss Alexander and Mr. Hobb will be married at the home of the bride. She lives on Twelfth street near Minnie Campbell's home. The wedding will be quite a brilliant affair, I have no doubt. I am told it is to be one of the biggest home weddings we have seen for a long while. It will be an event in Jewish circles. There are to be seventy-five guests.

* * *

And just here let me tell you a funny story I heard about a wedding. At the Priest-Fine wedding just after the doors had been closed, and when everybody was in the way, a rattling was heard at the closed door. One of the church officials noticed it and opened the door. There stood a cabbie—the girl in a long white brocaded satin gown, and the man faultlessly attired. As the lady had left her wrap in the carriage she stood there very tall and stately. The church official did not know Miss Priest, but guessing from the gown that it was her, he gave the signal for the wedding march. It began and to its notes the couple came down the aisle in about two minutes. It was dreadfully embarrassing for them of course, but they made the best of it and smiled a good deal. They have smiled more broadly about it since. The joke was that the couple have been married three years, but the wife did have on her wedding gown, which hightened the illusion. When the real wedding party did arrive they had a hard time getting in. The official couldn't understand why there should be two brides. And to this day he does not.

* * *

November 7th the Elks will give a dramatic entertainment, followed by a supper. It is to be ladies' night with a vengeance. We expect to have lots of fun.

Miss Agnes Porter's wedding to Mr. George Hollis was very pretty. The ceremony took place in East Oakland last Saturday afternoon. It was a home wedding and the decorations, pink and green, prominent in which were a wedding bell stylishly tipped, a floral fence that cut off the bay window, and various other —el ideas for flowers. Miss Porter was married in a travelling gown of grey silk. Her maid of honor was Miss Mabel Gillette, and Mr. Thayer, a friend of the family, gave her away. Only recently the Porter family moved out from Philadelphia. There was a large room full of presents, many of them from the East. The wedding journey was to Santa Cruz. Later they will be at home in Oakland.

* * *

The date is set for Minnie Campbell's wedding. It is to be the 4th of December. I do hope I shall be asked.

* * *

Miss Hiffern was married last week at 562 Twenty-first street. There were eighty guests, an elaborate breakfast and a nuptial mass.

* * *

Many of the French classes are organizing again this winter. I am surprised that anything which was a mere fad should live for a second winter. Mademoiselle Hitchcock has her French class in East Oakland again this year. She has the same members with a few new ones added. They give monthly French teas where nothing but French is spoken. Mrs. French is one of the new members. This being the second season they should learn something.

* * *

Professor E. B. Lamare of Berkeley is also giving lectures in French to ladies. Yesterday he gave one at the home of Mrs. David Bixler in San Francisco. His subject was "The Idealism and the Picturesque in the History of France."

* * *

There have been a number of church charitable entertainments. They will "lap on each others' heels" until Christmas time. There will be fairs, festivals, sales and teas of all kinds. Last night the First Congregational church had what they termed a birthday party. Everyone sent a little silk bag, in which was a cent for each year of his or her life. Each one was accompanied by a verse, and some of the verses were very clever and very funny, and all were read. On Wednesday evening the Church of the Advent in East Oakland, presided over by the genial Rev. C. Marshall Law the same sort of a party was held. The receipts were quite large and Mr. Law was much pleased.

* * *

On the 8th and 9th of November there will be a Mother Goose entertainment at Washington hall, Twelfth street and Sixth avenue, East Oakland. It will be given by the children of the Pilgrim Congregational church Sunday school and others. It is called "Mother Goose Up to Date" and Grasshopper Cantata. Sixty children, twenty-eight grasshoppers and thirteen robins will take part. There will be ladies and brownies, and the children from all over town will come clear up to see it. There will be brownie choruses, melodies, and the song, "Who Killed Cock Robin?" as well as the feast of lanterns by eight girls in costume, and a drill and dance by the flower girls in costume. Among the dear old characters will be Mistress Mary, Old King Cole and his fiddlers, Mother Goose herself, and all the other dear people even the old folks love. They say the children are wonderfully clever at it and carefully drilled.

* * *

Last Saturday hosts of Oakland people went over to the football—the first of the season. We all were crimson and white chrysanthemums, or violets and yellow chrysanthemums, and were prepared to be satisfied either way, because Oakland and Berkeley are such neighbors. The Berkeley boys won and the blue and gold waved.

* * *

At Berkeley they suspended the editor and business manager of "Josh," that clever comic weekly of theirs, because, forsooth, they guyed the military powers. I presume the criticisms were quite just because they were so strongly objected to. Truth hurts. I think it is a shame, because I believe in freedom of the press. Why shouldn't the students express themselves?

* * *

Miss Dora Craig has gone to Butte county to visit relatives. She will be absent a month.

Mrs. George Uhl and Mrs. Adolph Uhl have returned from Europe, where they passed nine months. They are at present housekeeping on Harrison street.

* * *

A great many of the old timers attended the funeral of the old artist, Ferdinand Richardt, this week. He was a dear old man, very talented, and not half appreciated. He had been painter to the court of Denmark in his youth.

* * *

That was an interesting musicale that took place yesterday at the Y. W. C. A. in this city. Miss Mary Morse sang charmingly, and at the concert for the benefit in the Fruitvale chapel Mrs. Bessie Paxton, who has an adorable voice, sang beautifully. Mrs. Edgerton recited a number of times. Miss Hush and Sam Mayer also took part.

* * *

At the charity ball Thursday evening for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange in San Francisco there was a number of Oaklanders. Mrs. Henry Wetherbee of Fruitvale was interested in the success of the undertaking.

* * *

So the name of the new paper is to be the "Oakland Saturday Night," though I suppose we will never call it anything but "Mollie Connors' paper," she is sure to put much of her own strong personality in its columns.

* * *

There are some very clever newspaper men back of her, all ready to help—she and her brother "Jack" Connor are both well known in the newspaper world, and as they are both bright and generous to a degree, they are very popular with the fraternity; it would not be a matter of surprise if the paper made a great hit in these holiday times under their management.

* * *

And we are all going of course to Grace Carroll's concert. We have listened to her beautiful contralto for others so many times that we will be glad to listen when she sings her way to our hearts herself. Alma Berglund is to sing soprano and Dr. Gilbert Graham is to be the tenor. The Reliance Glee Club will no doubt make their usual success. I would not wonder if Hamilton hall were crowded to suffocation by music lovers, as well as with representatives from the fashionable world.

* * *

The women have not been idle. In Berkeley they have a new Citizen Suffrage Club, which fills the place of the Political Equity Club of Oakland, and is composed of much the same sort of people. They are to work for the constitutional amendment. The officers are Mrs. Judge Haight, president; Mrs. R. P. Thomas, vice-president; Mrs. William Keith, secretary; Mrs. Banks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lee, treasurer; Mrs. Lange and Mrs. Chick, auditors. Mrs. Martin Kellogg, Mrs. Dr. Bentley, Mrs. Weed, Mrs. Spiers, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Bradley are among the members. The first meeting was at the home of Mrs. Weed. Rev. Eliza Wilkes has moved to Berkeley and will assist in the work.

* * *

A great many Oaklanders have visited Miss Helen Hyde's exhibition of paintings at Vickery's this week. The pictures are very beautiful and show soul. They are ambitious and all clever in execution. There are also some good black and whites. Miss Hyde is a niece of Mrs. David Bixler and good things are expected of her.

* * *

And now goodnight. I am dreadfully "gaplish," as a dear New England friend of mine says, only she pronounces it "gahplish." Perhaps I have made you yawn, too, so a goodnight from

An entertaining feature will be "The Grasshopper Cantata," which, with "Ferris Flower Girls," "The Feast of Lanterns" and "Who Killed Cock Robin?" will make an interesting programme. Ice cream will be served at the close of the entertainment.

About 300 guests attended the musicale given by the young lady boarders of the Y. W. C. A. Home last evening. Miss Nettie Morris had charge of the decorations, which were very pretty. She was assisted by Miss Alma Briggs, Miss Rita Mylott, Miss Alta Brewster and Miss Sadie Briggs. The programme was of a high class and each number was well rendered. The proceeds from the entertainment will go toward purchasing a piano.

Miss Elizabeth Westgate gave a charming musical at her residence in Alameda this afternoon. Miss Mira Merriam, a pupil of Mrs. Frances Edgerton, delighted the company with a recitation, and the event throughout was charming.

HALLOWE'EN WHEEL PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitehead assisted by the Misses Hambright, gave a delightful wheeling party last Monday evening. Although it preceded Hallowe-en, the event was in celebration of jolly festival which is always the occasion of so much merriment, and the guests were treated to the surprises and delights common to the eve of All Saints' Day. At an early hour the party left the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead on Fourteenth street and enjoyed a run to Alameda and through several of the well paved avenues of that city, the evening being perfect for wheeling.

The return by moonlight was made without accident, and upon arriving once more at their starting point the guests were regaled with a Hallowe'en supper. The dining room when the guests entered, was dark, save for an immense squash, which having been cut to represent a face, cast a mysterious light over the table from its candle lighted features, making a very effective center piece.

Cotton doughnuts and surprise sandwiches were only adjuncts to a delicious supper. Appropriate games brought a very pleasant evening to a close. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. O. Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitehead, Mrs. Gardiner, Miss H. Chamberlain, Miss Hambright, Miss Kathryn Hambright, Miss May Holton, Miss Ada Hason, Miss Myrtle Rea, Miss Minnie Griffith, Miss Lillie Stone, Miss Clara Hoffman, A. Zimerman, J. Appleman, W. IRISH MUSIC AND SONG.

On Wednesday evening, November 13th, the members of St. Patrick's Alliance of America will treat their friends to a feast of Irish music at Hamilton Hall, Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, Oakland.

The reminiscences of their last year's concert, and the great success it attained will be alone sufficient to guarantee them a large attendance.

For weeks past they have worked unceasingly in preparation for the event, and have secured the services of the best professional artists on the coast. Mrs. Greer Harrison of San Francisco, the popular literateur and author, will deliver an address suitable to the occasion and the following well known artists will present to the Oakland public those grand compositions of music and song which for centuries have placed the Sons of the Emerald Isle foremost in the musical and literary world.

SUNSHINE C. E. SOCIAL.

The regular monthly business meeting and social of the Sunshine Y. P. S. C. E. was held Thursday evening, October 31st. About forty young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller on Thirty-fifth street and the business of the society was dispensed with as quickly as possible, as the members had been informed that the programme was to be something exceptional. The social committee then took charge. Dishes of walnuts which were tied together with thread were passed, and when opened were found to contain the fortunes of the holders. Apples were also served in various ways, some being hung between the parlors by strings, and others were in a tub of water. Much fun was indulged in at the expense of those who "ducked" for them. Several Hallowe'en games were played, among them being several fortune telling ones. The feature of the evening was a poem written by a friend of the society, which brought in the names of all of the members, and was appreciated by all. Refreshments were served shortly after 11 o'clock, and after a "ghost procession" the young people dispersed, expressing themselves as having passed a delightful evening.

CURRENT CRITICISM CLUB.

A meeting of the Current Criticism Club of Berkeley was held at the residence of Miss Rickoff on Wednesday afternoon, when "The Manxman," Hall Caine's remarkable book, was discussed. Miss Rickoff read an admirable essay upon the book, which was followed by a paper by Mr. Reiser, an artist, who described the artistic effect of the word pictures so vividly presented by the author. An article by Mrs. Oulton was read and followed by discussion and opinions from different points of view by the ladies present. Tea was served and an hour of conversation and criticism of several of the famous books of the day brought a delightful afternoon to a close.

MISS FRANK'S LECTURE.

Miss Ray Frank will deliver the third lecture in her course at Beethoven Hall, corner of Post and Powell streets, San Francisco, on Tuesday, November 5th, at 3:30 P. M.

A SAPPHIRE WEDDING.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. McKissick gathered at their home in Mountain View cemetery Thursday evening to surprise them on the occasion of the thirty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Harrington, Martin McDonald, J. J. McKinnon and A. D. McKinna.

A CHARITY BALL.

The German Ladies' Relief Society have almost completed the arrangements for their annual grand charity ball which they will give at Germania Hall on November 20th. This one promises to be as brilliant as any ever before given. The ladies will make efforts to have the supper served on this occasion an unusually elaborate one. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. A. Kaiser, Mrs. J. Soulberger, Mrs. Charles Boek, Mrs. G. F. Heeseman.

AN A. P. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given by Council No. 1, A. P. A., at Military Hall last Thursday night was a grand success both financially and socially. The opening address by B. Frank Hand was patriotic and strictly to the point and held the attention of the audience until its close. The programme was: Little Miss Ina Gerrish, whistling solo; Mrs. Maud Revalk, song; Baby Mearns, song; Frank Purle, solo; Miss Olga Turner, recitation; Military Hall quartette; Harry Gelder, ornamental club swinging.

After entertainment dancing was indulged in to a late hour. The committee of arrangements consisted of Messrs. Faulk, Buttner, Turner, Williams and Fell.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

A merry party assembled last night to surprise Messrs. Gus. Kroenke and Rudolph Dalldorf, who have just returned from an extended trip through Europe.

A serenade was the first feature of the programme and the effect was a surprise in every way. The brass band of eight pieces rendered effective music and many were the "Welcome homes" that greeted the old-time friends. After general merry-making and a sumptuous repast, the party was well night exhausted as the small hours were approaching, so all made their way homeward expressing "many happy days" to the new arrivals.

Among those participating were the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. Kroenke, Mr. and Mrs. G. Moynihan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Schlueter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Meese, Miss Anna Diersgen, Miss Minnie Nobman, Miss Adela Brunjes, Miss Bertha Spaldin, Miss Georgia Black, Miss Meta Dalldorff, Miss Bertha Frey, Miss Louise Jurgens, Miss Ella Kroenke, Miss Georgia Moynihan, Messrs. Rudolph, Dalldorf, Gus. Kroenke, Joe Bouquet, Al Brehm, Jno. Diersgen, Fred Thompson, Wm. Jurgens, George Groenwoldt, Ed Kroenke, Chas. Phillips, Louis Colton, Jack Moynihan.

DAUGHTERS OF ISRAEL.

The annual entertainment and ball of the Daughters of Israel Relief Society and Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Hebrew congregation will be given Thursday evening, November 14th, in Masonic hall. The programme of the entertainment will include a farce and a number of musical selections. A large attendance is promised. The committee of arrangements comprises Mrs. J. Greenhood, Mrs. M. Cohen, Mrs. D. S. Hirshberg, Mrs. F. Kahn, Mrs. M. H. Coffee, Mrs. E. Frank, Mrs. S. Ehrlich, Mrs. Tobriner, Mrs. D. Magnes.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Supervisor Talcott should feel the pulse of his constituency before he supports the Oakland, San Leandro and Haywards electric railway in further aggressions on the public highway. The concensus of opinion in his district is opposed to the domination of that corporation on its public thoroughfare. A Supervisor who acts against the public interests is better adapted to milking cows than for supervising public affairs.—Haywards Mail.

In our local columns yesterday there was published an account of a Salvation divorce in Oakland. Today we print the announcement of a Salvation hallelujah wedding. Who's ahead, Booth or the devil?—Haywards Mail.

Paderewski and the Cherry.

Look in Town Talk this week for the story about the great pianist and the cherry that he did not eat—how a lady adorer had a relic set with diamonds, only to make the heartrending discovery that it wasn't a relic after all. The Jersey Lily and her soap "ad" are commented upon also. You will find reviews of this week's musical doings in today's Town Talk, also a dramatic tale of frontier life entitled "A Rough Pastelle." There is an essay on bloomers, too, a very sensible article—we refer to the essay, please, not to the bloomers. Portraits are given of beautiful Caroline Miskel Hoyt, Marie Anderson in "Charley's Aunt," and the front page is embellished by a fine halftone of the late Professor J. H. Rosewald, a sketch of whose career is also given. The drama receives its customary share of attention and Portland, Alameda Oakland, Berkeley and Santa Barbara are heard from. The Sadler-Denbigh wedding in Berkeley; the Friday Night Cotillion, Merriman Literary and Westgate musical functions in Alameda are noted by our correspondents. Politics are discussed forcibly in the editorial department and the whole issue is up to date in every respect.

Mrs. Dr. Stockham's Return.

The many friends of that sterling physician, Mrs. Dr. Wilson Stockham, will be glad to know she has returned to Oakland and has resumed practice at room 4, Plater block, where she may be consulted from 8 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 4 P. M., or at her residence, 766 Nineteenth street. Many years of experience in the treatment of cancers and tumors.

New Silks for the Fall Season.

There are very few stores in San Francisco that can claim they carry as large a variety of silks at such reasonable prices as we do. This season has been very prolific in producing some very startling effects, which are considered very recherche. Plaid Silks are all the rage for Waists. New Persian Brocades and Chameleon Stripes sell well. The Dresden Pattern on all Evening Shades of Taffeta and also of Chiffon seem to be a predominating feature.

In Black we are showing some grand Damasse's—immense designs—very appropriate for Skirts. Some Brocaded Satin effects on Gros Grain ground, which make elegant Walking Suits.

SHOWS OF ALL SORTS.

Oakland Pleasure-Seekers Are Regaled With Good Attractions.

"The Coast Guard" Will Be Next Week's Bill at the Oakland.

The star entertainment course, under the direction of Bragg & Muller, will be inaugurated next Friday evening at the Macdonough Theater. Manager Cook will present as the initial production the artiste trio, which will give a delightful series of brilliant musical and literary numbers. Miss Laura McManis, whose wonderful whistling is a revelation, is in the troupe. Miss Julia Phelps, a pianist and harp soloist of marked ability, will be on the programme, while Cornelia May, a clever reader and pantomimist, will be a feature of the entertainment.

"A CONTENTED WOMAN."

Prominent among the theatrical attractions that will be seen at the Macdonough Theater soon is Hoyt's very latest and what the wise ones say very greatest comedy success "A Contented Woman," which will be here for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, November 11th and 12th. It will be produced under the personal supervision of the author, and to those who are familiar with Mr. Hoyt's remarkable gifts as a stage director the announcement will be in the nature of a guarantee that all the appointments will be perfect.

Mr. Hoyt's new play goes to show that the author looks on the question of woman's suffrage much the same as does every other man who has a proper regard for the fitness of things and the respect due the opposite sex. He has not aimed to write a play which will cause exalters of the "new woman" to bubble over with enthusiasm, but rather to perfect a stage picture which will win the support of the greater proportion of both sexes. The regular sale of seats begins next Thursday. Orders for seats now received at the box office.

"THE PASSING SHOW."

Canary & Lederer's big New York Casino production "The Passing Show," now drawing large houses at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, will be the attraction at the Macdonough Theater on Thursday and Friday, November 14th and 15th, with a matinee on Saturday, November 16th.

The piece is a combination of opera, tragedy, ballet, burlesque, vaudeville, drama and broad farce.

THE BOSTONIANS.

The Bostonians come to the Macdonough Friday and Saturday nights, November 22d and 23d, and Saturday matinee November 23d. They will only present "Robin Hood" here, as the public demand that popular opera. Already the orders for seats have run into the hundreds.

FUTURE ATTRACTIONS.

"Charley's Aunt" comes to the Macdonough this month, and will no doubt be received as it was a year ago, when the theater was crowded at every performance.

"The War of Wealth," De Wolf-Hopper Opera Company, Professor Hermann, Robert Downing and the Frawley Company come next month.

THE OAKLAND.

It has been many years since Oakland witnessed a sterling "tank" drama, and its advent on the Oakland stage next week will in a measure be a novelty. An immense tank, capable of holding many thousand gallons of water, has been constructed and placed on the stage, and next week the heavy man will throw a wretched woman into the water, from which she will be rescued by the hero. This necessitates two chilly baths for the edification of the auditors, and should be appreciated in this weather. All this and more of a sensational order occurs in the "Coast Guard." There is a revolving lighthouse in the first act, a practical river dredger in operation in the second, a sensational abduction in the third and a picturesque life saving station in the last. These, with a series of highly exciting situations as an adjunct, should satisfy the most devout admirer of mechanical melodrama. "The Coast Guard" is an American play, founded on an American story. The scenes are laid on Long Island and adjacent to New York, and the story told in four brisk acts.

There is a happy vein of laughter interwoven through the piece, and "The Coast Guard" will undoubtedly enjoy a very prosperous week.

Manager Dailey of the Oakland Theater is a very busy man just at present, as he is handling three attractions. His company, headed by May Nannary, is to alternate with a comedy organization, May Nannary opening in Stockton Thanksgiving week and the comedy company here. They change positions the following week. In addition to this he has secured a controlling interest in the company now playing at the Clunie Opera House in Sacramento, and will reorganize it during the coming week. With three companies, Dailey will have his hands full.

Mortimer Snow will return from Salt Lake and again enlist with one of Dailey's companies. He is a favorite in this city, and the Oakland patrons will be pleased to see him.

THE BALDWIN.

"The Passing Show" will be succeeded next week at the Baldwin by one of Hoyt's clever plays, "A Contented Woman." It deals with the woman suffrage question in a manner that is purely Hoytonian. The author has injected a very lively lot of bright material around his web of a plot that revolves on the rival candidacy of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Holmes to be Mayor of Denver.

THE COLUMBIA.

The farewell week of the Bostonians commences Monday night. "Robin Hood" will be given. "A War Time Wedding" will be given tonight for the last time.

THE CALIFORNIA.

Under the management of Charles Frohman the California Theater will be opened next Monday night with that cleverest of comedies "Charley's Aunt." It will be cordially welcomed again.

THE TIVOLI.

There will be a splendid bill tomorrow night, in which "Martha" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be sung. Next week the comic opera season will be opened with "Madame Favart." Fritz Hartman and Emelie Melville will reappear.

THE ORPHEUM.

The Orpheum programme is replete with bright, fresh and catchy novelties. It is on a par and excels some of the famous Eastern vaudeville attractions. The bill is constantly undergoing a change, and is highly entertaining.

MOROSCO'S.

"The Stowaway," with its realistic sea cracking scene, its full rigged yacht off Cowes, England, and many other accessories, has done a big week's business. Monday evening it will be succeeded by "The Diamond Breaker," a sensational drama involving a story of the coal regions of Pennsylvania. There is a love story and some sensational situations. The scenic effects will be all that could be desired.

THE ALCAZAR.

"The Crushed Tragedian" is the bill for next week at the Alcazar. The title indicates great possibilities of humor and comedy. It will be presented by the Grover Company at popular prices.

How They Differ.

Man is a creature of cast-iron habits; woman adapts herself to circumstances; that is the foundation of the moral difference between them.

A man considers a corkscrew absolutely necessary to open a bottle; a woman attempts to extract the cork with the scissors; if she does not succeed rectly, she pushes the cork into the bottle, since the essential thing is to get at the fluid.

When a man writes everything must be in apple-pie order; pen, paper and ink must be just so, a profound silence must reign while he accomplishes this important function. A woman gets any sheet of paper, tears it perhaps from a book or portfolio, sharpens a pencil with the scissors, puts the paper on an old atlas, crosses her feet, balances herself on her chair, and confides her thoughts to paper, changing from pencil to pen and vice versa from time to time, nor does she care if the children romp or the cook comes to speak to her.

A man storms if the blotting paper is not conveniently near; a woman dries the ink by blowing on it, waving the paper in the air, or holding it near a lamp or fire.

A man drops a letter unhesitatingly in the box; a woman re-reads the address, assures herself that the envelope is sealed, the stamp secure, and then throws it violently into the box.

A man can cut a book only with a paper-cutter; a woman deftly inserts a hairpin and the book is cut.

For a man "goodby" signifies the end of a conversation and the moment of his departure; for a woman it is the beginning of a new chapter, for it is just when they are taking leave of each other that women think of the most important topics of conversation.

A woman ransacks her brain trying to mend a broken object; a man puts it aside and forgets that for which there is no remedy. Which is the superior?—Lippincott's Magazine.

Women inventors are, according to the Patent Office reports, adhering to the lines of the old rather than the new woman. Out of 400 patents granted to women in 1894, 160 were for wearing apparel and 100 for cooking utensils.

CHAT FOR CHURCH-GOERS.

Sound Subjects Selected by the Pastors for Sunday Sermons.

A Few Changes Are Announced in Some of the Leading Missions.

Tomorrow will be an interesting event in the history of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Some two months ago the Rev. Mardon D. Wilson tendered his resignation to accept the rectorship of St. Peter's in San Francisco, since which time St. Andrew's has been without a shepherd. Good fortune has, however, been on the side of the vestry, they having been successful in securing the services of the Rev. James Hulme to become its rector. This reverend gentleman will begin his labors with the parish tomorrow. He is considered a fine speaker, preaching wholly extemporaneously—one of Mr. Hulme's specialties in parish work—and it is safe to predict that through his efforts the number of worshipers at St. Andrews will be largely increased. Additions have been made to the choir so that in the future good music is assured. The floral decorations will also be fine tomorrow, in keeping with the day.

Pilgrim Congregational church—Rev. M. Willett, pastor. Subject in the morning, "Love of Neighbor." In the evening Rev. Harold Scott will lecture upon missionary life among the cowboys and miners of Arizona, illustrated by stereopticon views taken from real life.

Pure Ice.

The individual who relishes tepid water, liquid butter and tasteless ale or beer, all of which conditions are the result of a warm temperature, has no use for ice, but the person or family who can relish those articles in the delicous and palatable manner in which they should be served at table, will never be without ice, especially when it may be procured at the Union Ice Company, 365 Tenth street, at the lowest figure.

A Popular Resort.

The Oakland Chowder House, 558 Washington street, is one of the most popular resorts in Oakland. It is thronged from early morning till late at night. A magnificent lunch is served free at all hours. The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

The Hygienic Treatment of Constipation and Ordinary Dyspepsia.

Sir John Andrews, the English professsr, believes that in the vast majority of cases constipation may be successfully overcome by taking a teaspoonful of the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt dissolved in a tumblerful of water (half a pint), cold or hot, early in the morning, and if necessary, on going to bed. Best taken when out-door exercise can be had.

AN ODD ELECTION BILL.

Sir Mark Sommerville Ran for Office in Ireland in 1786.

An Original Expense Account Sent in by a Tavern Keeper.

In 1786 the purity of election laws must have been rather slack in the County of Meath, Ireland. In that year Sir Mark Sommerville was a candidate for political preferment, and told Jemmy Cars, the proprietor of an inn in Trim, to do the elegant thing for the boys. Cars accepted the duty, and after the election sent his bill to Sir Mark, who, appreciating its oddity, had it framed and it still hangs in Sommerville House.

In 1826 an enterprising Irish printer struck off several copies of the account, had them framed, and they now adorn many an Irish home.

William Stack, an Oakland butcher, has one of the copies, which was sent him by William Lorum, a native of County Meath, and which Stack exhibits to all who visit his shop on Fifth and Harrison streets. The accounting is as follows:

MY BILL.

	£	s.	d.
To Tenting 16 Freeholders above stairs for Sir Mark at 3—3 a head is to me	2	12	0
To eating 16 more below stairs, and two priests after supper is to me	2	15	9
To 18 Horses and 5 Mules about my yard all night at 13d. every one of them, and for which a man was lost on the head of watching them all night, is to me	5	5	0
To six beds in one Room and four in another, at 2 Guineas every Bed and not more than four in any Bed, at any time, cheap enough, God knows, is to me..	22	15	0
For Breakfast on Tay in the morning for every one of them, and are many more as they brought in as near as I can guess, is to me	4	12	0
To Raw Whiskey and Punch, without talking of Pipes and Tobacco, as well as for breaking a pot above stairs, and other Chases and Debth for the first day and night, I am not very sure, but for the 3 days and a half of the Election, as little as I can call it, and to be very exact, it is in all or thereabouts as near as I can guess and not to be too particular is to me at least	70	15	0
For a Wonit and Nurse for poor Tom Kerman in the middle of the Light, when he was not expected is to me ten hogs, I don't talk of the piper for keeping him sober as was long as he was sober, is to me	2	13	1
	110	18	7

Signed in the place of Jemmy Cars wife, his Mark X.
Bryan and Geraghty's Mark X
You may say fill, so your honor Sir Mark, send me this Eleven Hundred by Bryan himself, who and I prays for your success always in Trim; so no more at present."

DURABLE ROADS.

Iron Rock Furnishes by Far the Best Material.

The people who do not have to express dissatisfaction over the bad streets or roads in their neighborhood are those who had the good sense to use Iron Rock in the making of those streets and roads. These thoroughfares are everywhere pronounced marvels of their kind. They are laid by the Oakland Rock Company. It was the excellent work done by this company and the almost everlasting durability which it has been shown Iron Rock possesses that led to the inception of the demand for good roads in all parts of the county. For this valuable suggestion the Oakland Rock Company is to be congratulated, and is being so by all citizens having the welfare of the community at heart. The office of the company is room 7, Macdonough theater building, Fourteenth and Broadway. Telephone 1062. The work of this company is visible in a hundred places, especially in the northern part of the city, and is well worthy of being examined.

THE BEST BEER

The Finest in the World Sold Here.

Herbert & Sonderleitor Have Made a Great Stroke of Enterprise.

It is generally admitted that lager beer is rapidly supplanting wine as the popular beverage of California. This is especially true in Oakland because of the enterprise of Herbert & Sonderleiter of 477 Ninth street, between Broadway and Washington street, who have introduced the Anheuser-Busch Faust beer of St. Louis, Mo., which is the finest beer in the world. It secured the first premium at the great Columbian Exposition in Chicago, where all the leading beers on earth were in competition. It is light, palatable, wholesome, invigorating, made of the finest hops, and is always served in a cool and refreshing manner. To learn what a glass of good beer is, one must try a glass of this Faust beer. Herbert & Sonderleiter have newly decorated their place, and have now, as they always had, the finest beer saloon in Oakland.

SHOWS OF ALL SORTS.

Oakland Pleasure-Seekers Are Regaled With Good Attractions.

"The Coast Guard" Will Be Next Week's Bill at the Oakland.

The star entertainment course, under the direction of Bragg & Muller, will be inaugurated next Friday evening at the Macdonough Theater. Manager Cook will present as the initial production the artiste trio, which will give a delightful series of brilliant musical and literary numbers. Miss Laura McManis whose wonderful whistling [illegible] violation, is in the troupe. Miss Julia Phelps, a pianist and harp soloist of marked ability, will be on the programme, while Cornelia May, a clever reader and pantomimist, will be a feature of the entertainment.

"A CONTENTED WOMAN."

Prominent among the theatrical attractions that will be seen at the Macdonough Theater soon is Hoyt's very latest and what the wise ones say very greatest comedy success "A Contented Woman," which will be here for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, November 11th and 12th. It will be produced under the personal supervision of the author, and to those who are familiar with Mr. Hoyt's remarkable gifts as a stage director the announcement will be in the nature of a guarantee that all the appointments will be perfect.

Mr. Hoyt's new play goes to show that the author looks on the question of woman's suffrage much the same as does every other man who has a proper regard for the fitness of things and the respect due the opposite sex. He has not aimed to write a play which will cause exalters of the "new woman" to bubble over with enthusiasm, but rather to perfect a stage picture which will win the support of the greater proportion of both sexes. The regular sale of seats begins next Thursday. Orders for seats now received at the box office.

"THE PASSING SHOW."

Canary & Lederer's big New York Casino production "The Passing Show," now drawing large houses at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, will be the attraction at the Macdonough Theater on Thursday and Friday, November 14th and 15th, with a matinee on Saturday, November 16th.

The piece is a combination of opera, tragedy, ballet, burlesque, vaudeville, drama and broad farce.

THE BOSTONIANS.

The Bostonians come to the Macdonough Friday and Saturday nights, November 22d and 23d, and Saturday matinee November 23d. They will only present "Robin Hood" here as the public demand that popular opera. Already the orders for seats have run into the hundreds.

FUTURE ATTRACTIONS

"Charley's Aunt" comes to the Macdonough this month, and will no doubt be received as it was a year ago when the theater was crowded at every performance.

"The War of Wealth," De Wolf Hopper Opera Company, Professor Herrmann, Robert Downing and the Frawley Company come next month.

THE OAKLAND.

It has been many years since Oakland witnessed a sterling "tank" drama, and its advent on the Oakland stage next week will in a measure be a novelty. An immense tank, capable of holding many thousand gallons of water, has been constructed and placed on the stage, and next week the heavy man will throw a wretched woman into the water, from which she will be rescued by the hero. This necessitates two chilly baths for the edification of the audiors, and should be appreciated in this weather. All this and more of a sensational order occurs in the "Coast Guard." There is a revolving lighthouse in the first act, a practical river dredger in operation in the second, a sensational abduction in the third and a picturesque life saving station in the last. These, with a series of highly exciting situations as an adjunct, should satisfy the most devout admirer of mechanical melodrama. "The Coast Guard" is an American play, founded on an American story. The scenes are laid on Long Island and adjacent to New York, and the story told in four brisk acts.

There is a happy vein of laughter interwoven through the piece, and "The Coast Guard" will undoubtedly enjoy a very prosperous week.

Manager Dailey of the Oakland Theater is a very busy man just at present, as he is handling three attractions. His company, headed by May Nannary, is to alternate with a comedy organization, May Nannary opening in Stockton Thanksgiving week and the comedy company here. They change positions the following week. In addition to this he has secured a controlling interest in the company now playing at the Clunie Opera House in Sacramento, and will reorganize it during the coming week. With three companies, Dailey will have his hands full.

Mortimer Snow will return from Salt Lake and again enlist with one of Dailey's companies. He is a favorite in this

THE BALDWIN

"The Passing Show" will be succeeded next week at the Baldwin by one of Hoyt's clever plays, "A Contented Woman." It deals with the woman suffrage question in a manner that is pure and elevating. The author has injected a very lively lot of bright material around his web of a plot that revolves on the local candidacy of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Holmes to be Mayor of Denver.

THE COLUMBIA

The farewell week of the Bostonians comprises Monday night. "Robin Hood" will be given. "A War Time Wedding," will be given tonight for the last time.

THE ORPHEUM

The Orpheum programme is replete with bright, fresh and catchy novelties. It forms a par and excels some of the famous "Big" vaudeville attractions. The bill is constantly undergoing a change, and is highly entertaining.

MOROSCO'S.

"The Stowaway," with its realistic sail cracking scene, its full rigged [illegible] of Cowes, England, and many other accessories, has done a big week's business. Monday evening it will be followed by "The Diamond Breaker," a nautical drama involving a story in the coal regions of Pennsylvania. There is a love story and some sensational situations. The scenic effects will be all that could be desired.

THE ALCAZAR.

"The Crowned Tragedian" is the bill for this week at the Alcazar. The title indicates great possibilities of humor and comedy. It will be presented by the Grover Company at popular prices

How They Differ

Man is a creature of cast-iron habits; woman adapts herself to circumstances, that is the foundation of the moral difference between them.

A man considers a corkscrew absolutely necessary to open a bottle, a woman attempts to extract the cork with the scissors. If she does not succeed [illegible] she pushes the cork into the bottle, since the essential thing is to get at the fluid.

When a man writes everything must be in apple-pie order, pen, paper and ink must be just so, a profound silence must reign while he accomplishes this important function. A woman gets any sheet of paper, tears it perhaps from a book or portfolio, sharpens a pencil with the scissors, puts the paper on an old atlas, crosses her feet, balances herself on her chair, and confides her thoughts to paper, changing from pencil to pen and vice versa from time to time; nor does she care if the children romp or the cook comes to speak to her.

A man storms if the blotting paper is not conveniently near; a woman dries the ink by blowing on it, waving the paper in the air, or holding it near a lamp or fire.

A man drops a letter unhesitatingly in the box; a woman re-reads the address, assures herself that the envelope is sealed, the stamp secure, and then throws it violently into the box.

A man can cut a book only with a paper-cutter; a woman deftly inserts a hairpin and the book is cut.

For a man "goodby" signifies the end of a conversation and the moment of his departure; for a woman it is the beginning of a new chapter, for it is just when they are taking leave of each other that women think of the most important topics of conversation.

A woman ransacks her brain trying to mend a broken object; a man puts it aside and forgets that for which there is no remedy. Which is the superior?—Lippincott's Magazine.

Women inventors are, according to the Patent Office reports, adhering to the lines of the old rather than the new woman. Out of 400 patents granted to women in 1894, 160 were for wearing apparel and 100 for cooking utensils.

CHAT FOR CHURCH-GOERS.

Sound Subjects Selected by the Pastors for Sunday Sermons

A Few Changes Are Announced in Some of the Leading Missions.

Tomorrow will be an interesting event in the history of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Some two months ago the Rev. Mardon D. Wilson tendered his resignation to accept the rectorship of St. Peter's in San Francisco, since which time St. Andrew's has been without a shepherd. Good fortune has, however, been on the side of the vestry, they having been successful in securing the services of the Rev. James Hulme to become its rector. This reverend gentleman will begin his labors with the parish tomorrow. He is considered a fine speaker, preaching wholly extemporaneously—one of Mr. Hulme's specialties in parish work—and it is safe to predict that through his efforts the number of worshipers at St. Andrews will be largely increased. Additions have been made to the choir so that in the future good music is assured. The floral decorations will also be fine tomorrow, in keeping with the day.

Pilgrim Congregational church—Rev. M. Willett, pastor. Subject in the morning, "Love of Neighbor." In the evening Rev. Harold Scott will lecture upon missionary life among the cowboys and miners of Arizona, illustrated by stereopticon views taken from real life.

The Rev. Harold Scott, who lectures upon the cowboys and miners of Arizona in Pilgrim Congregational church next Sabbath evening, will illustrate his discourse by stereopticon views taken from real life. The Rev. Harold Scott has been working in this missionary field for some time and gives a very interesting and witty account of the life and work.

Brooklyn Presbyterian church—S. S. Palmer pastor. Morning service 11 o'clock, anniversary sermon, "Two Years of Work." Evening, 7:30, special exercises, special music. All are welcome.

Plymouth avenue Congregational church—Dr. J. K. McLean, pastor. At the morning service the Sacrament of Lord's Supper and reception of members. Service at 11 A. M. At 7:30 P. M. the pastor will speak upon "Impressions and Suggestions From a Trip East."

Union street Presbyterian church—The pastor, Rev. H. H. Rice, will preach on Sabbath at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Communion at morning service. Evening sermon to young people. Subject, "The Covenant Pledge."

Prospect Hill Presbyterian church—Preaching by Rev. E. E. Clark. Services at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Subject of morning sermon, "The Church a Temple of God. Subject of evening sermon, "The Story of Samuel."

Thirty-fourth street Methodist church—The pastor Rev. G. H. Jones will preach both times. Morning, "The Heavenly Hosts Looking down Upon Us." Evening, "Fight the Good Fight of Faith." Epworth League at 6:45 P. M.

At the Church of the Advent (Episcopal) Rev. F. Marshall Law, rector, there will be a litany service at 11 o'clock followed by a sermon on "The Story of the Original Tables of Stone." In the evening at 7:30 there will be a festival choral service and an address by the rector on "Popular Amusement." A celebration of the Lord's Supper follows the morning service, in which the California sanitary chalice will be used. Infant baptism at 1 o'clock P. M.

First Presbyterian church—Rev. Campbell Coyle will preach at 11 A. M. on "Power: What It Is, and How to Get It," and at 7:30 P. M. on "Three One Things."

First Christian church, Thirteenth and Market street—Rev. Uriah Gregory, D. D. will fill the pulpit at 10:30 A. M. Subject, "Richness Exhausteth a Nation." Sunday school 2 P. M. Young People's meeting, 6:15 P. M. No evening service.

The Hygienic Treatment of Constipation and Ordinary Dyspepsia.

Sir John Andrews, the English professsr, believes that in the vast majority of cases constipation may be successfully overcome by taking a teaspoonful of the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt dissolved in a tumblerful of water (half a pint), cold or hot, early in the morning, and if necessary, on going to bed. Best taken when out-door exercise can be had.

AN ODD ELECTION BILL.

Sir Mark Sommerville Ran for Office in Ireland in 1786.

An Original Expense Account Sent in by a Tavern Keeper.

In 1786 the purity of election laws must have been rather slack in the County of Meath, Ireland. In that year Sir Mark Sommerville was a candidate for political preferment, and told Jemmy Carr, the proprietor of an inn in Trim, to do the elegant thing for the boys. Carr accepted the duty, and after the election sent his bill to Sir Mark, who, appreciating its oddity, had it framed and it still hangs in Somnerville House.

In 1826 an enterprising Irish printer struck off several copies of the account, had them framed, and they now adorn many an Irish home.

William Stack an Oakland butcher, has one of the copies, which was sent him by Will im Doran, a native of County Meath, and which Stack exhibits to all who visit his shop on Fifth and Harrison streets. The accounting is as follows:

MY BILL.

	£	s.	d.
To Tenting 16 Freeholders above sd this for Sir Mark at 3—3 a head is to me	2	12	0
To eating 16 more below Stairs, and two priests after supper is to me	2	15	9
To 18 Horses and 3 Mules about my van I all night at 1d. every one of them, and for which a man was lost on the Road of watching them all night, is to me	7	6	0
To six Beds in one Room and four in another at 2 Guineas every Bed and not more than two in any bed, at any time, cheap enough, God knows, is to me...	22	15	0
For Breakfast on Tay to the morning for every one of them, and as many more as the van brought in as near as I can guess, is to me	1	12	0
To Raw Whiskey and Punch, without talking of Pipes and Tobacco, as well as for hiring a hot above stairs, and other Glasses and Delph for the first day and night I am not very sure, but for the 2 days and a half of the Election, as little as I can call it, and to be very exact, it is in all or thereabouts as near as I can guess and not to be too particular is to me at least	79	15	9
For Shaving and trimming off the beards of 20 Freeholders for Sir Mark at 15d. for every head of them, by my brother I will has a vote, is to me	2	13	1
For a Watch and Nurse for poor Tom Keenan in the middle of the night, who he was Reasonably expected is to me ten hogs. I don't like of the paper for keeping him longer as he was long as he was sober, 18 to me	10	15	7

Signed in the place of Jemmy Carr's wife, his Mark X.

Bryan and Geraghty's Mark X.

"You may say all, so your honor Sir Mark, send me this Eleven Hundred by Bryan himself, who and I pray for your success always in "Print so no more at present."

DURABLE ROADS.

Iron Rock Furnishes by Far the Best Material.

The people who do not have to express dissatisfaction over the bad streets or roads in their neighborhood are those who had the good sense to use Iron Rock in the making of those streets and roads. Those thoroughfares are everywhere pronounced marvels of their kind. They are laid by the Oakland Rock Company. It was the excellent work done by this company and the almost everlasting, durability which it has been shown Iron Rock possesses that led to the inception of the demand for good roads in all parts of the county. For this valuable suggestion the Oakland Rock Company is to be congratulated, and is being so by all citizens having the welfare of the community at heart. The office of the company is room 7, Macdonough theater building, Fourteenth and Broadway. Telephone 1002. The work of this company is visible in a hundred places, especially in the northern part of the city, and is well worthy of being examined.

THE BEST BEER

The Finest in the World Sold Here.

Herbert & Sonderleiter Have Made a Great Stroke of Enterprise.

It is generally admitted that lager beer is rapidly supplanting wine as the popular beverage of California. This is especially true in Oakland because of the enterprise of Herbert & Sonderleiter of 177 Ninth street, between Broadway and Washington street who have introduced the Anheuser-Busch Export beer of St. Louis, Mo., which is the finest beer in the world. It secured the first premium at the great Columbian Exposition in Chicago, where all the leading brews on earth were in competition. It is light, palatable, wholesome, invigorating, made of the finest hops, and is always served in a cool and refreshing manner. To learn what a glass of good beer is, one must try a glass of this Faust beer. Herbert & Sonderleiter have newly decorated their place, and have now, as they always had, the finest beer saloon in Oakland.

INTRODUCTORY

The failure of some of those to whom we extended a cordial invitation to contribute to the Puzzle Box column of October 5th, and the success of others, has caused us to change our plans somewhat. We will not, as we then intended, offer a prize for the best original puzzle sent in during the month, but will, instead, offer a prize for the best list of answers to the puzzles published in the November issue. Those who have given us encouragement by their contributions will be rewarded for their efforts, and those who have failed to do so will have another opportunity to win a prize. We will be pleased to receive original puzzles at any time, and will publish as many of them as we have room for in each issue. Those not published will be returned if stamps are inclosed for that purpose. A careful examination of the answers with the puzzle will render it easy for beginners to construct similar contributions.

NOVEMBER PRIZES

BEST LIST OF ANSWERS—A 10-dollar Oakland Tribune Annual and Atlas will be sent six months subscription to the Tribune and a set of teaspoons will be sent to the writer of the best list of answers and best batch of original puzzles received during the month.

Any information which will enable us to publish names for the chess will be appreciated. Our California friend need not be backward. We will be careful to refer to the initial number of each correspondent's name and town each time. Scratch sheets will always be commended. In the next issue of answers to November puzzles a small prize will be given. Answers and subscriptions should reach us by the 15th of each month. Contributions for the Box should be written on one side of the paper only. Suggestions from readers are welcome. We reserve the right to use or not use any matter sent in. We will not refer to rejected matter, but will return it if stamps are inclosed. Words can be counted as usual, but all proper names must be spelled out. Any answer with a little foolishness of spelling will be published. Of the puzzles published in this issue the numbers 1 and 2 are by the editor, and 3 by Percy Vere. ARTHUR M'EWEN'S LETTER.

The Grand Jury Will Probably Investigate the Scandal Attached to the Durrant Defense.

DEUPREY'S PLANS WERE HURRIEDLY CHANGED.

The Agitation for the Big Republican Convention Not Very Genuine.

DAVIDSON LOSES GROUND.

Mrs. Clara Foltz Will Transfer Her Legal Business to New York

A "NEW WOMAN'S" FAILURE.

Hearst Will Not Splurge With the "Journal" Until After Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The utter breakdown of the defense in the Durrant trial, of which the apparently imbecile opening statement was the immediate precursor, has been explained—whether truthfully or not remains at this writing to be seen. It may be that the men Reynolds and Smyth who have confessed that they with others were to perjure themselves and supply Durrant with an alibi are mere liars. Still the test in my which they say was prepared for them cannot be the work of ignorant and unskilled men. It is too lawyerlike in its features for that, and is precisely the sort of testimony that the defense needed to clear the prisoner. In its light, seemingly aimless cross-examinations conducted by Deuprey and Dickinson are given a purpose. The foundation was laid for just such evidence as Smyth would have given had he gone on the stand and made oath to the statement which the Examiner got possession of more than a month ago. That the Examiner, at the request of Captain Lees, should have suppressed a piece of news of this magnitude in the interest of justice is extremely creditable to that journal, and its forbearance is bringing it compliments which are worth having. Assuming that Mr. Deuprey knew of the existence of this testimony and intended to use it, the confidence in the speedy acquittal of his client, which he everywhere expressed is perfectly comprehensible. It was rumored before the opening statement that the defense would show that Blanche Lamont was in Haywards on the night of April 3d, and some great surprise of the kind was certainly looked for. It is now plain that the rumor was based on leaks from the Examiner office or the police department.

A month ago I was told that an incident of the trial might be the arrest in the court room of the attorneys for the defense. No particulars were given me, and I was asked not to make use of what I had heard. Ever since Mr. Deuprey arose and made that feeble and fatal opening statement his friends have been saying that he was compelled to prepare it very hurriedly, and that it was wholly different from what he had expected it to be up to within a few hours of its delivery. Others now say that he learned the police were on the track of Smythe, Reynolds et al, almost at the last moment, and altered his statement and lost his confidence accordingly. This can hardly be, however, since Mr. Deuprey and General Dickinson both declare that they never heard of the men or their conspiracy until the newspapers published the story. Doubtless they will be given an opportunity by the Grand Jury to repeat that disclosure. The city has been impressed by the disclosure to a degree which is not reflected by the newspapers. The press here gives the news but it is no longer the fashion with it to furnish editorials that either guide or even mirror public opinion. Nevertheless the average man does some thinking and it is very generally felt that one of two things is true: That a monstrous lie has been invented in order to ruin two prominent attorneys or that two prominent attorneys have attempted to commit a great crime. The Bar Association will not, of course, do anything so unprofessional as to investigate the conduct of any of its members who have offended against no important property interests, but the Grand Jury, being a lay body, will have less respect for the properties. At least that is what everybody anticipates.

The District Attorney's closing address will be over, the Judge's charge delivered, and the verdict rendered, perhaps before this letter is in print. Let us see how good people are at guessing. Yesterday afternoon at the Press Club I asked half a dozen newspaper men, two actors, two musicians and one detective what they thought the outcome would be. A reporter answered: "Guilty, and the jury will stay out about an hour for decency's sake." All instantly concurred, except the detective. "There may be a crank in the jury," he said. "Or," suggested a reporter, "one of the jury may have been fixed." "No," objected the detective, "that's an honest jury, I think. Besides, it would take a mighty nervy man to stay bought in this case." At the Occidental hotel I talked with some lawyers, and merchants and men about town. The belief was invariable that the verdict would be against Durrant and rendered within an hour. I met nobody who was not of the opinion that the defense had emphasized and clinched the evidence brought out by the prosecution. If a vote were taken San Francisco, I judge, would give a large majority in favor of a public execution. The desire to see Durrant hanged is appallingly prevalent. That he will be hanged, unless he shall make away with himself, nobody that I encounter, seems to doubt.

Anyone who should rise in public just now and say he didn't want the National Republican Convention to come here would, of course, be roasted in the fire of newspaper indignation—bogus indignation. The newspapers realy don't care whether the Convention comes or not—rather it wouldn't, in fact, as it must involve for them much work and great expense—but they think the people want it, so they whoop and make contributions. And the people who don't keep hotels or barrooms or theaters or railroads are not excited about it, but as the newspapers seem to be half mad with an agony of desire, the people are good-natured enough not to dissent. Those who know what a national convention is like, and what a nuisance a great crowd is in a small city hope the movement will fail, unless they are curious to see celebrated politicians at close quarters, or perceive a chance of profit. The conclaves, encampments and other big gatherings with which San Francisco has ben invaded have done little more than to disturb her peace. And I discover that few, even among the faithful newspaper boomers, expect the convention to come. But it being the proper thing to clamor for the convention as if the city would be set up for life by obtaining it, every second man tries to show his public spirit by doing a little clamoring. As for the advertising of California that success would mean, more advertising is about the last thing of which this State stands in need. There are more people here now than can make a good living under present conditions, and there is capital enough too for current needs, if the capital could be induced to employ itself. The spirit that prompts the hubbub about the convention is the same as that which inspired the organization of the Half Million Club—a hungry and more or less vague notion that somebody on the outside may be induced to do for us what we won't do for ourselves. When California has the intelligence to appreciate her own resources and opportunities there will be no need to drum for population or pray for conventions and conclaves. Home-made prosperity is the kind that lasts—news for patriotic real estate dealers.

It will be recalled that the press of San Francisco was moved to hot wrath not very long ago by the removal of Professor Davidson from his position at the head of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The public partook of that wrath, for Professor Davidson had come to be considered the most learned scientific man of the coast. If I remember aright the faculties of Berkeley and Stanford, with other imposing bodies, protested against the removal. The authorities at Washington not only turned a deaf ear to all appeals for Professor Davidson's re-instatement, but haughtily refused to give any reason for its act other than that the professor had grown a little too old for active service. In the afterglow of all the indignation it is interesting to read that "a survey of the bay of San Francisco and its approaches is being made by the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The need for this new survey, notwithstanding Professor Davidson's labors, extending through forty years, is shown by the discovery of a pinnacle rock in the middle of Point Lobos channel—a rock that rises to within fourteen feet of the surface at low tide and is sure to wreck any vessel that may innocently try to sail over its uncharted point. "A more dangerous obstruction," the Examiner says, "it would be difficult to imagine." Two other dangerous rocks have been found by the new men who are in charge of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. Journalists and local scientists may continue to think that Professor Davidson's removal was an outrage, but mariners will hardly petition the Government to give the old gentleman his place back.

In one way and another we are losing our great people. Death does its steady work, of course, but notwithstanding Mr. William Greer Harrison's poor opinion of New York, that metropolis is making drafts upon us which ought to reduce our pride. Mr. Hearst had hardly gone there and bought the Journal, thus reducing the Examiner to the position of a side show, than we were given the shock of learning that Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz was about to abandon the San Francisco bar and go East. The lady declares that she cannot do well here at her profession, which is astonishing, for she has had more free advertising, because of her sex, than any other lawyer in the State. If Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz cannot make a success, then the New Woman may as well count the courts out as a field of possible triumph, for Mrs. Foltz is richly endowed. She possesses all that calm confidence that sunny trust in her ability, which distinguishes her celebrated brother Samuel, and she does not fall short in push, enterprise and intellectuality of her other brother, Charles, who has made the Call a wonder in journalism. Mrs. Foltz attributes her comparative failure at the bar to two causes: The indisposition of old ladies of large property to intrust their interests to a female lawyer, and to a conspiracy into which the male attorneys and judges of the city have entered for the blighting of her career. Perhaps, however, Mrs. Foltz has special reasons, not divulged, for leaving the cause of the New Woman here to its fate. She will take offices in New York not far removed from those of the Journal. Being thus on the ground and able to form a judgment of Mr. Hearst's progress that will be sounder than any arrived at from a distance, she can keep her brother Charles well informed. It is not to be supposed that if Mr. Hearst exhibits ability to make a brilliant headway Mr. Shortridge will be content to remain in this narrow sphere. Talents so unique as his have surprised San Francisco; they would astonish New York.

Mr. Hearst has done that already. It was supposed that when he entered the metropolis it would be in a band wagon, burning red fire and letting off skyrockets. On the contrary he has kept as still as if his most ardent wish were not to let his rivals know that he had come. No alterations have been made in the Journal's appearance, and even the change in ownership has not been announced. Considering the balloons and special trains and calliope advertising that marked his taking possession of the Examiner eight years back, this extreme quietude has puzzled San Francisco observers. But the explanation is simple. An exceedingly warm political campaign is in progress in New York, and there is nothing that Mr. Hearst dislikes so much as political campaigns. They make it necessary for newspapers to say things, and the saying of things is sure to offend somebody, whereas Mr. Hearst's desire in journalism is to offend nobody, please everybody and get all the subscribers and advertisers that are to be had. So the grand entry of the new Journal, I am informed, has been postponed to November 5th, when the annoying election will be over. Then the floodgates of wealth are to be opened, the genius of enterprise turned loose and the country taught what a really great newspaper is. By the time the next campaign comes the hope is that the Journal will be so popular, so well liked and understood, that nobody will expect it to have opinions. New York is not accustomed to that sort of journalism, but New York ought not to be above learning something from San Francisco. No man in the newspaper business lived and died more honored than Geo. W. Childs, who made his fortune out of the Philadelphia Ledger, a journal that never took the risk of printing an editorial worth reading when anything important in politics was going on. It is a venerable tradition that the Ledger's leading article the morning after Sumter was fired on dealt with "Printed Calicoes." With an editorial policy inspired by the Childs spirit, and a knowledge of the value of news as keen as Mr. Pulitzer's, Mr. Hearst ought to make the Journal a paying property. It may take a year or two to do it, but Hearst is a millionaire, and if expenditure can conquer the situation he will not fail. Why, being a millionaire, he should want to make more money by creating a newspaper policy strictly commercial in purpose only he can tell. Most young men with his opportunities would seek a different kind of success.

There are some signs of an intenetion on the part of Mr. Hearst's San Francisco rivals to take advantage of his absence and necessary neglect of the Examiner to make it warm for that paper. Already the Call has improved (if that, in Mr. Shortridge's opinion, is possible) and the other day Mr. De Young came out in the Chronicle as a defender of the faith by rebuking the Examiner for publishing an extended telegraphic report of Colonel Ingersoll's new lecture on the imperfections of the Deity. In consequence, the alarmed Examiner is running to the reporting of sermons, with flattering pictures of the preachers. Presently the Call and Chronicle may take it into their heads to spend some more money on their papers, which is the only thing that Mr. Hearst has seriously to fear.

An admirable young man died here this week, the Rev. Hanson Irwin, pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church. He was in his youth—only 29—and San Francisco will miss him, for he was an honor to his profession and a good citizen. Mr. Irwin had intellect and a warm heart, which carried him beyond church work, though to that he gave exceptional energy. He met men of every kind unaffectedly and with a sympathy that won their liking. His interest was engaged by the secular movements for bettering the lot of the poor, and he had no clerical prejudices that kept him apart from any man who was trying to do good in any way. Men of high purpose and nobility of spirit are so few that when one of them passes away the calamity is public. Though Mr. Irwin had been here but a short time, he had made his mark in the best way. He was capable of much, and much was expected of him. Time promised to develop him into another Starr King. There is mourning for him outside the churches as well as within them.

ARTHUR McEWEN.

THE JOHNSTOWN CAME DOWN.

(After Lord Byron with apologies.)

I.

The Johnstown came down like a wolf on the fold;
His pianos all glittering with varnish and gold;
And the shine of each box was like glints in the sea,
And pure celluloid gleamed from its "do, re and mi."

II.

"Like the leaves of the forest when summer is green,"
Said ex-Preacher Jay, "will our suckers be seen."
Like the leaves of the forest when Autumn hath blown,
His hopes on the morrow lay withered and strown.

III.

For the dealers of Oakland who do business straight,
Exposed the smooth schemes of this fakir so great;
And the Johnstown grew chill, and despaired after while;
His pianos just tuned waxed discordant and vile.

IV.

In his store his poor boxes stood dismal and drear,
And from them there came not a lyric to cheer;
But the wail from his heart was as dismal and dread
As the yelp of a circus tent lion unfed.

V.

Yea, there were his contracts unwritten—unsold
Were his Fresno pianos all rusty and old;
And his tuners and sooners all still and alone;
Their hopes dissipated, their schemes overthrown.

VI.

And the people of Oakland are loud in their laugh,
For they did not take kindly to Johnstown's fake chaff;
And the truth of the dealers, untouched by the foe,
Has melted the fakir as sun melts the snow.

VII.

All triumphant over Kymbill's unmusical box,
Unmoved by the fakir's sensational shocks,
The Steinway, the Decker, the Wheelock still play
To the people of Oakland—for truth won the day.

A month ago I was told that an incident of the trial might be the arrest in the court room of the attorneys for the defense. No particulars were given me, and I was asked not to make use of what I had heard. Ever since Mr. Deuprey arose and made that feeble and fatal opening statement his friends have been saying that he was compelled to prepare it very hurriedly, and that it was wholly different from what he had expected it to be up to within a few hours of its delivery. Others now say that he learned the police were on the track of Smythe, Reynolds et al, almost at the last moment, and altered his statement and lost his confidence accordingly. This can hardly be, however, since Mr. Deuprey and General Dickinson both declare that they never heard of the men or their conspiracy until the newspapers published the story. Doubtless they will be given an opportunity by the Grand Jury to repeat that disclosure. The city has been impressed by the disclosure to a degree which is not reflected by the newspapers. The press here gives the news but it is no longer the fashion with it to furnish editorials that either guide or even mirror public opinion. Nevertheless the average man does some thinking and it is very generally felt that one of two things is true: That a most serious fake has been entrenched in order to ruin two prominent attorneys or that two prominent attorneys have attempted to commit a great crime. The Bar Association will not, of course do anything so unprofessional as to investigate the conduct of any of its members who have offended against no important property interests, but the Grand Jury, being a lay body, will have less respect for the proprieties. At least that is what everybody anticipates.

The District Attorney's closing address will be over, the Judge's charge delivered, and the verdict rendered, perhaps before this letter is in print. Let us see how good people are at guessing. Yesterday afternoon at the Press Club I asked half a dozen newspaper men, two actors, two musicians and one detective what they thought the outcome would be. A reporter answered "Guilty, and the jury will stay out about an hour for decency's sake." All instantly concurred, except the detective. "There may be a crank in the jury," he said. "Oh," suggested a reporter, "one of the jury may have been fixed." "No," objected the detective, "that's an honest jury, I think. Besides it would take a mighty nervy man to stay bought in this case." At the Occidental hotel I talked with some lawyers and merchants and men about town. The belief was invariable that the verdict would be against Durrant and rendered within an hour. I met nobody who was not of the opinion that the defense had emphasized and clinched the evidence brought out by the prosecution. If a vote were taken San Francisco, I judge, would give a large majority in favor of a public execution. The desire to see Durrant hanged is appallingly prevalent. That he will be hanged, unless he shall make away with himself, nobody that I encounter, seems to doubt.

Anyone who should rise in public just now and say he didn't want the National Republican Convention to come here would, of course, be roasted in the fire of newspaper indignation—bogus indignation. The newspapers really don't care whether the Convention comes or not—rather it wouldn't. In fact, as it must involve for them much work and great expense—but they think the people want it so they whoop and make contributions. And the people who don't keep hotels or barrooms or theaters or railroads are not excited about it, but as the newspapers seem to be half mad with an agony of desire, the people are good-natured enough not to dissent. Those who know what a national convention is like, and what a nuisance a great crowd is in a small city hope the movement will fail, unless they are curious to see celebrated politicians at close quarters, or perceive a chance of profit. The conclaves, encampments and other big gatherings with which San Francisco has been invaded have done little more than to disturb her peace. And I discover that few, even among the faithful newspaper boomers, expect the convention to come. But it being the proper thing to clamor for the convention as if the city would be set up for life by obtaining it, every second man tries to show his public spirit by doing a little clamoring. As for the advertising of California that success would mean, more advertising is about the last thing of which this State stands in need. There are more people here now than can make a good living under present conditions, and there is capital enough too for current needs, if the capital could be induced to employ itself. The spirit that prompts the hubbub about the convention is the same as that which inspired the organization of the Half Million Club—a hungry and more or less vague notion that somebody on the outside may be induced to do for us what we won't do for ourselves. When California has the intelligence to appreciate her own resources and opportunities there will be no need to drum for population or pray for conventions and conclaves. Home-made prosperity is the kind that lasts—news for patriotic real estate dealers.

It will be recalled that the press of San Francisco was moved to hot wrath not very long ago by the removal of Professor Davidson from his position at the head of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The public partook of that wrath for Professor Davidson has come to be considered the most learned scientific man of the coast. If I remember aright the faculties of Berkeley and Stanford, with other imposing bodies, protested against the removal. The authorities at Washington not only turned a deaf ear to all appeals for Professor Davidson's reinstatement, but haughtily refused to give any reason for its act other than that the professor had grown a little too old for active service. In the afterglow of all the indignation it is interesting to read that "a survey of the bay of San Francisco and its approaches is being made by the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The need for this new survey notwithstanding Professor Davidson's labors, extending through forty years, is shown by the discovery of a pinnacle rock in the middle of Point Lobos channel—a rock that rises to within fourteen feet of the surface at low tide and is sure to wreck any vessel that may innocently try to sail over its uncharted point. "A more dangerous obstruction," the Examiner says, "it would be difficult to imagine." Two other dangerous rocks have been found by the new men who are in charge of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. Journalists and local scientists may continue to think that Professor Davidson's removal was an outrage, but mariners will hardly petition the Government to give the old gentleman his place back.

In one way and another we are losing our great people. Death does its steady work, of course but notwithstanding Mr. William Greer Harrison's poor opinion of New York, that metropolis is making drafts upon us which ought to reduce our pride. Mr. Hearst had hardly gone there and bought the Journal, thus reducing the Examiner to the position of a side show, than we were given the shock of learning that Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz was about to abandon the San Francisco bar and go East. The lady declares that she cannot do well here at her profession, which is astonishing, for she has had more free advertising, because of her sex, than any other lawyer in the State. If Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz cannot make a success, then the New Woman may as well count the courts out as a field of possible triumph, for Mrs. Foltz is richly endowed. She possesses all that calm confidence that sunny trust in her ability, which distinguishes her celebrated brother Samuel, and she does not fall short in push, enterprise and intellectuality of her other brother, Charles, who has made the Call a wonder in journalism. Mrs. Foltz attributes her comparative failure at the bar to two causes. The indisposition of old ladies of large property to intrust their interests to a female lawyer, and to a conspiracy into which the male attorneys and judges of the city have entered for the blighting of her career. Perhaps, however, Mrs Foltz has special reasons, not divulged, for leaving the cause of the New Woman here to its fate. She will take offices in New York not far removed from those of the Journal. Being thus on the ground and able to form a judgment of Mr. Hearst's progress that will be sounder than any arrived at from a distance, she can keep her brother Charles well informed. It is not to be supposed that if Mr. Hearst exhibits ability to make a brilliant headway Mr. Shortridge will be content to remain in this narrow sphere. Talents so unique as his have surprised San Francisco; they would astonish New York.

Mr. Hearst has done that already. It was supposed that when he entered the metropolis it would be in a band wagon, burning red fire and letting off skyrockets. On the contrary he has kept as still as if his most ardent wish were not to let his rivals know that he had come. No alterations have been made in the Journal's appearance, and even the change in ownership has not been announced. Considering the balloons and special trains and calliope advertising that marked his taking possession of the Examiner eight years back, this extreme quietude has puzzled San Francisco observers. But the explanation is simple. An exceedingly warm political campaign is in progress in New York, and there is nothing that Mr. Hearst dislikes so much as political campaigns. They make it necessary for newspapers to say things, and the saying of things is sure to offend somebody, whereas Mr. Hearst's desire in journalism is to offend nobody, please everybody and get all the subscribers and advertisers that are to be had. So the grand entry of the new Journal, I am informed, has been postponed to November 5th, when the annoying election will be over. Then the floodgates of wealth are to be opened, the genius of enterprise turned loose and the country taught what a really great newspaper is. By the time the next campaign comes the hope is that the Journal will be so popular, so well liked and understood, that nobody will expect it to have opinions. New York is not accustomed to that sort of journalism, but New York ought not to be above learning something from San Francisco. No man in the newspaper business lived and died more honored than Geo. W. Childs, who made his fortune out of the Philadelphia Ledger, a journal that never took the risk of printing an editorial worth reading when anything important in politics was going on. It is a venerable tradition that the Ledger's leading article the morning after Sumter was fired on dealt with "Printed Calicoes." With an editorial policy inspired by the Childs spirit, and a knowledge of the value of news as keen as Mr. Pulitzer's, Mr. Hearst ought to make the Journal a paying property. It may take a year or two to do it, but Hearst is a millionaire, and if expenditure can conquer the situation he will not fail. Why, being a millionaire, he should want to make more money by creating a newspaper policy strictly commercial in purpose only he can tell. Most young men with his opportunities would seek a different kind of success.

There are some signs of an intention on the part of Mr. Hearst's San Francisco rivals to take advantage of his absence and necessary neglect of the Examiner to make it warm for that paper. Already the Call has improved (if that, in Mr. Shortridge's opinion, is possible) and the other day Mr. De Young came out in the Chronicle as a defender of the faith by rebuking the Examiner for publishing an extended telegraphic report of Colonel Ingersoll's new lecture on the imperfections of the Deity. In consequence, the alarmed Examiner is running to the reporting of sermons, with flattering pictures of the preachers. Presently the Call and Chronicle may take it into their heads to spend some more money on their papers, which is the only thing that Mr. Hearst has seriously to fear.

An admirable young man died here this week, the Rev. Hanson Irwin, pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church. He was in his youth—only 29—and San Francisco will miss him, for he was an honor to his profession and a good citizen. Mr. Irwin had intellect and a warm heart which carried him beyond church work, though to that he gave exceptional energy. He met men of every kind unaffectedly and with a sympathy that won their liking. His interest was engaged by the secular movements for bettering the lot of the poor, and he had no clerical prejudices that kept him apart from any man who was trying to do good in any way. Men of high purpose and nobility of spirit are so few that when one of them passes away the calamity is public. Though Mr. Irwin had been here but a short time, he had made his mark in the best way. He was capable of much, and much was expected of him. Time promised to develop him into another Starr King. There is mourning for him outside the churches as well as within them.

ARTHUR McEWEN.

THE JOHNSTOWN CAME DOWN.

(After Lord Byron with apologies.)

I.

The Johnstown came down like a wolf on the fold,
His pianos all glittering with varnish and gold;
And the shine of each Lux was like glints in the sea,
And pure celluloid gleamed from its "do, re and mi."

II.

"Like the leaves of the forest when summer is green,"
Said ex-Preacher Jay, "will our suckers be seen."
Like the leaves of the forest when Autumn hath blown,
His hopes on the morrow lay withered and strown

III.

For the dealers of Oakland who do business straight,
Exposed the smooth schemes of this fakir so great;
And the Johnstown grew chill, and despaired after while;
His pianos just tuned waxed discordant and vile.

IV.

In his store his poor boxes stood dismal and drear,
And from them there came not a lyric to cheer,
But the wail from his heart was as dismal and dread
As the yelp of a circus tent lion unfed.

V.

Yea, there were his contracts unwritten—unsold
Were his Fresno pianos all rusty and old;
And his tuners and snoozers all still and alone;
Their hopes dissipated, their schemes overthrown.

VI.

And the people of Oakland are loud in their laugh,
For they did not take kindly to Johnstown's fake chaff,
And the truth of the dealers, untouched by the foe,
Has melted the fakir as sun melts the snow.

VII.

All triumphant over Kymbill's unmusical box,
Unmoved by the fakir's sensational shocks,
The Steinway, the Decker, the Wheelock still play
To the people of Oakland—for truth won the day. ADV

Theodore Roosevelt has made a collection of all the cartoons about himself that he could get hold of, and has pasted them on the walls of a room at his home. He says he gets a lot of fun out of showing his "cartoon room" to his friends.

"Like Nectar to My Lips," is the description of our soda as expressed by a lady patron. There is as much of a science in preparing a glass of soda as in compounding a delicate perfume. Only pure fruit juice and pure cream used at Lehmbardt's, 1259 Broadway.
